SUNDAY SCHOOL REUNION.

Special Services Are Held at Berean Baptist Church. The services of the Berean Baptist church on Sunday morning were of more than usual interest and were largely attended. An appropriate sermon was given. The pastor, Rev. T. E. Johnson, spoke of the importance of early religious instruction and training. At the Sunday school service, 238 were present, and enjoyed a very interesting order of exercises. At the evening service Miss Augusta Carter, principal of the girls' training school at Fraxin, N. C., gave an interesting address respecting the work carried on among the colored people. Mrs. George Benton of this city and Mrs. J. D. Anderson of Jersey, sang a duet which was very much enjoyed by the large congregation present.

COLLAPSE OF A MULE BARN.

Two-Story Structure at Powderly's Mines Gives In. A two-story frame structure at the Powderly mine, used as a barn for the mules and for the storage of hay and feed, collapsed on Saturday owing to the settling of the ground. The fall of a portion of the building came without warning but the mules were fortunately all out of the barn. Had the accident occurred at night many of them would have doubtless been killed or overwhelmed and mangled. Some of the men employed were near the building at the time but the noise of the fall brought them to the spot and Warren Tappan and his force of mine carpenters were soon at work. The building will soon be restored and made safe.

Awakened By Burglars.

The residence of E. C. Porter, of North Church street, was lately visited by thieves, who broke into a back door unfastened, entered about two o'clock in the morning. They had found their way to Dr. Thompson's office, turned over the books and papers, and then proceeded to plunder the premises when Mrs. Porter hearing them, aroused the family and the burglars made a hasty departure.
