Daily and Weekly, No Sunday Edition. Published at Scranton, Pa., by The Tribune Publishing Company. E. P. KINGSBURY, Pres. and Gen. Mgr.

SCRANTON, OCTOBER 10, 1896.

THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

NATIONAL. President-WILLIAM McKINLEY. Vice-President-GARRET A. HOBART.

STATE. Congressmen-at-Large-GALUSHA A. GROW, SAMUEL A. DAVENPORT.

COUNTY. Congress-WILLIAM CONNELL. Commissioners-S. W. ROBERTS, GILES ROBERTS.

LEGISLATIVE. Senate, 21st District-COL. W. J. SCOTT. Representative, 1st District-JOH. R. FAIR.

Under the circumstances we think it can fairly be claimed that Scranton entertained the Christian Endeavor convention satisfactorily...

One Good Term Deserves Another.

A good policy in politics, as well as in business, when you find the man faithful in the discharge of the duties of his office...

George Du Maurier.

There is very little doubt that posterity will deny to George Du Maurier a place among the immortals...

All in All, Du Maurier was a notable man.

It was he who had the sanitation bill amended so as to include journeymen plumbers within its provisions...

The carpenters, stone masons, builders and contractors are indebted to Alex. Connell for his labors...

But the one act that specially deserves the commendation of every citizen of this community is his introduction and championing of the only successful bill providing that the state shall annually pay to poor districts...

By No Means a Walkover.

It is easy to attach too much importance to the predictions of the campaign managers at this time. The other day Chairman Jones, of the Popocratic National committee, elected Mr. Bryan by nearly 400 electoral votes...

record is one of which any man might well be proud.

Can the voters of the Second legislative district turn such a man down? We think not. We believe that the people of this district want Alex. Connell to represent them again at Harrisburg...

An Important Mass Meeting.

On Thursday evening of next week at the Frothingham theater will be heard in advocacy of Republican principles three speakers whom every voter in Lackawanna county ought to arrange to hear.

The other two gentlemen who will speak at the meeting in the Frothingham come with national reputations for effective oratory and sound common sense.

The other two gentlemen who will speak at the meeting in the Frothingham come with national reputations for effective oratory and sound common sense. Hon. D. D. Woodmansee is President of the Republican National League...

Under the circumstances we think it can fairly be claimed that Scranton entertained the Christian Endeavor convention satisfactorily and that the convention itself was on the whole a success. All concerned are therefore entitled to congratulations.

One Good Term Deserves Another.

A good policy in politics, as well as in business, when you find the man faithful in the discharge of the duties of his office, and that he acts always for the best interests of his constituents, is to retain him.

George Du Maurier.

There is very little doubt that posterity will deny to George Du Maurier a place among the immortals. His entrance into the world of fiction was rocket-like, and so timed to a season of public inertia...

All in All, Du Maurier was a notable man.

It was he who had the sanitation bill amended so as to include journeymen plumbers within its provisions, and by that placed the matter of plumbing regulations entirely in the hands of the board of health.

The carpenters, stone masons, builders and contractors are indebted to Alex. Connell for his labors...

But the one act that specially deserves the commendation of every citizen of this community is his introduction and championing of the only successful bill providing that the state shall annually pay to poor districts caring for the insane a sum equal to that advanced to the state asylums.

Locke is not a metallist, nor a believer in a so-called "double standard," as appears from his remark that "silver, and silver alone, is the measure of commerce."

Locke meets the familiar objection to this self-evident truth, that clipped coin is accepted, in many transactions, at its face value...

Locke's reasoning is sound, and his conclusions are correct. He shows that the value of money is not in the metal, but in the confidence of the people.

John Locke on National Finance

In the great treatise on the value of money by John Locke, London, 1823, vol. 3, one of the most acute and logical reasons that any nation or any group of nations in the world, he deduces money to be necessary to all sorts of men in trade...
