MAJOR M'KINLEY RECEIVES MINERS

Delegations from the Wyoming and Lackawanna Valleys at Canton.

STIRRING EVENTS OF THE DAY

Enthusiastic Visitors from North and South Are All Regaled with Matchless Gems of Oratory from the Champion of Protection --- Ten States Are Represented.

Canton, Oct. 11.—One of the most noted delegations that visited Major McKinley yesterday was that which was composed of citizens from the Lackawanna and Wyoming valleys. The visitors from the anthracite coal regions were particularly enthusiastic and gave evidence that the sentiment in the coal fields is strongly in favor of the champion of protection. The Pennsylvanians from the coal regions were introduced by Professor W. P. Gray, of Carbondale, who briefly expressed the sentiments of Northeastern Pennsylvania upon the subject of sound money and protection. The Scranton members of the party were very enthusiastic and led the cheering when Major McKinley began to speak.

REMARKS TO THE MINERS.

Mr. McKinley said; "You have all discovered in your own lives that if you get anything that is valuable you have to work for it. You have discovered in your own experience that there is no way to earn a living or accumulate property except by labor and toll, energy and industry. and by frugal savings; and knowing that, all that you are interested in at this moment is how you can best use what you have—your labor, your farms, your products. In a word, all you want is an opportunity to work (applause). and when that opportunity is furnished you will faithfully perform the labor. "There are not enough mints in the United States or in the world to give employment to the miners of Pennsylvania. (Great laughter and applause.) Therefore, my fellow-citizens, you must not be looking to the mints for the money which you need. You must look to the mines, the mills and the facto the mines, the mins and the lac-tories. (Applause.) You do not mine coal unless somebody wants to use that coal, and the more users of coal the more miners there will be and the bet-ter will be their employment and the better their wages. (Great applause.) Now that is the whole philosophy of this business. (Great applause.)

Now that is the whole philosophy of this business. (Great applause.)

"When you have an opportunity to work, you want to be paid in dollars that are as good as any in the world. (Great cheering.) When you have given your good hard blows in the mines or in the factory-owner a good, honest day's work, you want to be paid in good, honest dollars that will not depreciate over night. (Trenendous cheers, and cries of "Hurrah for McKinley!") So what the country wants is work, and the continuance of the good money we have, and the prevalence of law and order. (Great applause.) We want peace and tranquility in this country. We want to preserve the honor of the government of the United States, and we will denounce repudiation in every form. (Cries of "Right you are!")

"I am glad to meet my fellow-citizens from Pennsylvania, We have in "New York 2000 and political association brought an elaborate horseshoe in roses from which depended a floral drummer's "gripsack." It was presented to Mrs. McKinley by E. S. Lewis.

"You want peace and tranquility from Pennsylvania, We have in "Collers on Tollers on Tolle

"I am glad to meet my fellow-citi-zens from Pennsylvania. We have in this country miners by the hundreds. I know something about them. I know that the only aim they have is an hon-est one—to stand by honest things— and I know how the farmers of Stark county are benefited when the mines of Stark county are running I thank you over and over again for this call." (Great applause.)

OTHER VISITORS.

In addition to the Pennsylvania visitors, Major McKinley's audiences yes terday embraced delegations from the States of New York, Maryland, Kentucky, Ohio, Illinois, Missouri, West Virginia, Indiana and Iowa. Visitors egan to arrive before sunrise and continued until evening, Major McKinley was in excellent voice and spirits, and delivered some of the most telling delivered some of the most telling speeches he has made in the present

He has grown in favor of effectiveness with every party demand upon his resources, and yesterday he reached the highest plane he has attained as a masterful and potent campaign orator. He spoke to 23,000 people and delivered twenty speeches. Thirty delegations came to greet him, and they represented nearly every form of industry and commercial activity. Major McKinley met them all, addressed them all, and sent them all away fired with enthuslasm and renewing their loyalty and devotion to the Republican party. He began speaking at 9.30 in the morning and it was 7 o'clock in the evening wher the last delegation marched away, with its torches and banners and The railroads were anable to bring to Canton today all of the people who wished to come to visit Major McKinley. In the city of Cleveland alone 5,000 were unable to get transportation to Canton. Congressman Boutelle, of Maine, who spent the day here, said: "I have never witnessed such a spec-tacle as I have seen in Canton today." The enthusiasm was intense, the crowds prodigious and McKinley was superb.

Delegations began to arrive in Canton at 4.30 o'clock in the morning. The echoing tread of the departing Confederate veterans had hardly died away before the shouts of fresh arrivals were heard. The first-comers before day-break were from Lebanon, Penn. They were followed a few hours later by large delegations from other towns in Pennsylvania, Kentucky, New York and Indiana.

AN INSPIRING DELEGATION. One of the most inspiring delegations which has visited Canton this week was that composed of the Commercial Travellers' McKinley club and the Commer-cial Travellers' Sound Money club of Louis, which arrived at the house 800 strong at 4.30 this afternoon. Congressmen Richard Bartholdt and N. Mozley, of Missouri, were with the par-Moziey, of Missouri, were with the par-ty. L. A. Phillips was spokesman for the Commercial Travellers' McKinley club, and Edgar Skinner for the Com-mercial Travellers' Sound Money club of St. Louis. Archie G. Phillips, a boy, presented a silk flag to

The Cleveland Commercial Travellers' with 1,000 men in line, came up filled the street in front of the stand. The St. Louis delegation was in

R. N. Hall spoke for the Cleveland men, and then Major McKinley mount-ed a chair and spoke to the two delegaions at once, turning his face alternately to those before and those behind him. He soon had both delegations cheering, and his speech was one of the most stir-ring he has delivered. He spoke as

"My Fellow-Citizens: It is quit appropriate, and in no sense embarras-sing to me, to speak conjointly to the people of Missouri and Ohio. (Great applause.) There is one thing glorious about our campaign this year—it is na-tional in character and represents the best hopes and aspirations of the American people everywhere. (Cheers and cries of 'That's right!') You all are commercial travellers, and whether from Missouri or from Ohio, you have had similar experiences. You leave your sample cases at home now. (Great more directly, my fellow-citizens of Ohio, to my friends from Missouri, it is ecause I more frequently have an op portunity to talk to you than I have to them. (Great cheering on the part of the Ohioans. (I love my old state (here three cheers for Ohio were given at the suggestion of one of the Missourians), the state of my birth. I love the public spirit and spiendid energy of the people of our city on the lake (great cheering on the part of the Ohloans). and I have always liked Missouri (great cheering on the part of the Missouri-ans), and nothing has occurred this summer in St. Louis to make me change my mind. (Great laughter and waving of hats).

"I welcome you all here to my home and city. I welcome the commercial travelers of St. Louis, the citizens of Missouri, and I welcome the Sound Money Club of St. Louis, which is composed of men of all political parties stand this year for the honor of the Government and the integrity of our financial system. (Great applause and cries of "That's right!") We are all citizens of a common country. This year, as in all the years of the future, I trust, we have no North, no South, no East, no West (Cries of "Good!"), but a Union, and a Union forever. (Great

THE FLAG WE LOVE.

We have but one flag, too, like the one brought to me by my young friend from Missouri. (Major McKinley exhibited a small flag, which was follow-ed by tremendous cheering.) It is the flag we all love, and which we mean to transmit to future generations unsul-ited and stainless. (Great cheering.) "I have a speech specially prepared for Missouri, but I believe I will not make it, and I take leave of print: (Great applause and cries of "Go on!") This is the lifteenth delegation that I have welcomed here today. (Applause.)
Missouri, like Ohio, needs protection, sound money and public confidence.
(Great cheering and cries of "Right!
Right!") You have 115 counties in your
State, and I understand that there is not a county that does not produce zinc, or iron, or coal, or lead, beneath its soil. (Cries of "That's right!") What you want is the touchstone of confidence, which will bring business activity and send every miner with his pick to dig out from the bowels of the pick to dig out from the bowels of the earth those treasures of wealth. (Great applause and cries of "Right you are!")
"We want in this country a tariff policy which will supply the Government with sufficient revenue and protect every workingman. (Great cheering.) Why, Missouri, away back in the days of Thomas Benton, was called the hard sound-money State. Has she deteriorated since then? (Cries of "No!" No!") Will that great commercial city "No!") Will that great commercial city of St. Louis, with its intricate and delicate threads of trade and commerce, will it vote for a policy, for a party, that will destroy confidence, un-settle values, impair the city's welfare and produce panies of unprecedented severity? (Loud cries of "No, never!") I do not believe it will. (voice, "We I do not believe it will. (voice, "We will give you 30,000 majority in St. Louis!" followed by great applause.)
"A friend from Missouri savs that Missouri will give our ticket 30,000 majority. (Cries of "No: St. Louis will!")
What answer will Ohio make to that? (Cries of "150,000!") Ohio answers 150,000. Thirty thousand in Missouri is a greater majority than 150,000 in

TO TOILERS ON THE RAILROADS. Nearly 3,000 railroad workingmen marched up to Mr. McKinley's house marched up to Mr. McKiniey's house an hour after sunset. They came from Cleveland, and represented the Big Four, Lake Shore, Nickel Plate, Cleve-land, Canton and Southern; Baltimore and Ohlo and Pennsylvania roads. A. N. Watt. of the Lake Shore, presented this vast delegation to Major McKin-ley, who addressed them as follows: "It is a mighty cause that would bring together this vast assemblage of people from the states of Nev York, Pennsylvania, Ohia, Indiana, Illi-nois and Michigan, and West Virginia, representing these three great railroad lines. It is, my fellow-citizens, the deep and earnest interest you have in the rightful settlement of the pending questions in our political campaign that has brought you together here to-night. You know from experience that if you would prosper in your employ-ments there must be prosperity in ments there must be prosperity in every branch of American industry You know that when the producer suf-fers the roads that carry the produce suffer. (Applause.) You know that when the manufacturer suffers by di-minished manufactures, you suffer in your employment, and the more work and wages there are in other industries in the country the steadler is your em-ployment and the better your wages. "The best road to work for is a sound road (here again the shouts from the various roads went up, each proclaim ing that their road was the best), and the best money to be paid in, whichever road you work for, is sound money (tremendous applause), that is worth a hundred cents on the dollar in every state of the American Union and in every market place of the world. (Cheering.) This is the kind of money we have now. That's the kind of money that you are paid in—when you have employment—and this is the kind of money the Republican party means you shall have if you give them a chance. (Renewed cheers.)

"I made a visit to the State of Georgia last year. There came into my control of the control of t gla last year. There came into my car gia last year. There came into my car one of the employes of the Southern road on which I was traveiling. I in-vited him to sit down. He was a born Georgian. He told me he had always been a Democrat, but that for three years he had been going to school in that beet of all universities. that best of all universities—experience. (Laughter and applause.) H ience. (Laughter and applause.) He took off his railroad cap and said to me: "I have on this cap that which will tell you how I have been promoted backward." (Laughter.) First, he showed me on his cap the word trainman." He said: "That's what I am now." Then he lifted that and said: "That's what I was befare—brakeman."

Then he raised that up and exist. Then, he raised that up and said:
"What you see now is what I had three years ago. I was a conductor." Then, said he: "Those stages express to you what I have lost by the change of administration which I helped to make."
(Laughter.) I do not know what.

"Now the only reason, as my Georgia friend explained, for this change of po-sition to him, was because the railroads did not have the traffic they had four years ago. They did not require so many employes. He was a faithful em-ploye, and when thew said, "We don't want so many conductors, but we want you to stay," he took a grade down-ward rather than leave the service of the company. Now what we service of the company. Now, what we want is to restore prosperity to this country and give the railroads plenty to do, and when they have that then you will have your old jobs back at the old prices (great cheering), and be paid in good, sound money."

The last delegation was one of 1,500 The last delegation was one of 1,500 Polish-Americans from Cleveland. It was nearly 7 o'clock when they reached the McKinley residence. Major McKisson, of Cleveland, introduced the spokesman, W. Welfeld, to Major McKinley. After the cheering, which lasted nearly five minutes, died out, Major McKinley spoke to them.

EASTERN QUESTION

Probable Effect of an Anglo Franco-Russian Alliance.

CZAR ENHANCES HIS REPUTATION

His Speeches Indicate That the Tremendous Power of Russia Will Be Wielded for the Maintainance of Pence--Interest Manifested by the German Press.

The sale was made to establish the to a building plot, and the purchase was Countess de Brazza.

The Countess de Brazza built a house at No. 304 West End avenue, and when a survey was made it was found the building encroached on the property of Philip Schell.

There had been a blunder somewhere.

London, Oct. 11.-The week's occur-rences in Paris attendant upon the reception of the Czar have created a deep impression in England, where there is an increasing desire for an agreement with France and Russia regarding the eastern question. During his visit the Czar has personally enhanced his repu-tation. He says little, but that is very sensible. All his speeches have been delivered with a quiet confidence that betokens that he fully appreciates the tremendous power he wields, while at the same time his remarks confirm the belief that this power will be wielded for the maintenance of peace With regard to an English, French and Russian agreement, it can be said that this is now looked upon as the only practicable means for England to escape her impotence in face of the socalled concert of Europe on the eastern question. In view of this the succession of growls from Berlin upon the Egyp-tian question, generally taking the form of semi-official hints that France and Russia intend to make early trou-ble for England in regard to Egypt, and that Germany will look with a benevo lent eye upon the process, is regarded here as merely a display of spite. The belief is that France and England, with the assistance of Russia, are nearing a rapprochement respecting the Egyptian difficulty, and that while France i frankly preparing to recognize the British occupation she will obtain sub-stantial compensation elsewhere. INTEREST OF THE GERMAN PRESS. It is worth noting at present that the German press is beginning to point out in view of the importance of Germany's colonies and commercial interests, that the unconditonal neutrality of the Suez canal is to her a matter of the utmost importance, and that if the neutrality of the canal was guaranteed by the Powers, Germany might not object to the Sultan's territorial suzerainty over Egypt passing into other hands. Lord Salisbury himself proposed the conven-tion of 1887, securing the neutralization of Egypt; but the present Sultan, after much delay, refused to sign. As that arrangement would have left the su-zerainty of the Sultan, there is not the remotest chance of its being revived and ratified, in view of the state of his other dominions.

The only clauses that may be heard of again are that the Egyptian territory should be neutralized under the guarantee of the great Powers; that the guaranteeing Powers should retain the rights of transporting troops through the Khedive's territory, either by land or the Suez canal; that England should exercise the right of appointing the exercise the right of appointing the majority of officers in the Egyptian army, and should retain the right of reoccupying the country in case neces sity arose. In 1887 it was also provided that the English army snould have three years within which to withdraw from Egypt; but there is no likelihood of this being proposed by England

CAPTAIN LANE DROWNED.

He Lost His Life Off the Coast of Japan in a Hurricane.

Francisco, Oct. 11.-Captain sailors of that vessel lost their lives during the terrible storm that swept the northern provinces of Japan on Sept. 15, and caused wholesale destrucion of lives and property. Captain Lane was at one time commander of the royal yacht, and was widely known in Europe and along the United States Atlantic coast. The news of the death of Captain Lane and his fellow-seamen was received here yesterday from Nagasaki, Japan, from one of the crew of the United States gunboat Yorktown, who mentions in his communication that Captain Lane and ional's crew were driven into Fish River, Crossevich Bay, by the hurri-cane, and their boat capsized, Seamen John B. Pearce, Jesse Ousler and John

THIS MARRIAGE A FAILURE.

The Bride Left with Half a Dollar in a Strange Hotel.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 11.-Miss Grace Koch, an accomplished vocalist was married at Coblentz, Germany, last De-cember to Berthold Baer, a German nobleman, in opposition to the wishes of her wealthy uncle, L. Wurm, who immediately disinherited her. Paer's parents also opposed the match, and the couple married away from home, going to London, whence they sailed in February for New York.

Baer there expected to receive money from wealthy Philadelphia relatives but they declined to aid him unless hgave up his bride, having been cabled to that effect from Germany. The cou-ple quarreled and he left his wife with cents and she has not seen him since. She went to relatives in Philadelphia, who furnished the money necessary for her return to Seattle, She has given birth to a child.

REED IN DELAWARE.

The Speaker Addresses a Large Audience in Wilmington.

Wilmington, Oct. 11.—Thomas B. Reed addressed an audience of over 2.-000 people in the Auditorium last evening, and as many more were turned away. He was warmly received and (Laughter.) I do not know whether you have had any such experience as that or not. (Cries of "Yes, some of us have!") You evidently have.

away. He was warmly received and there was much enthusiasm. The speaker was not in good voice, and the acoustics of the hall were bad. However, he held his audience closely from beginning to end, and his keen wit and hard logic brought out much applause. In a caustic vein he classed the argument of free silver men as based solely upon "We believe," That might do, he said, for theology, where the question could only be settled in anquestion could only be settled in another world. But it would not do for this world. He wanted to know why silver men did not prove their contentions. It was not for others to disbut yet it could be and was being disproved.

GERMAN VIEWS OF OUR ELECTION.

Exporters Convinced That McKinley

Will Be Chosen President. Berlin, Oct. 11.-German exporters are generally convinced that McK'nley will be elected president of the United States, and that a high tariff in America will follow. Dr. wrth, the German economist and member of the Reichstag, who is now in the United States for the purpose of studying the presi-dential campaign on behalf of the Deutche bank, wired last week to the no doubt that McKinley would be elect-

The Berlin Tageblatt in an article in yesterday's issue en a:
"McKinley and a Republican house of representatives may be at their hottest for a high tariff, but the silver will be rejected by McKinley. There-fore, there is little danger that the American customs tariff will be al-tered for the next few years."

THREE DOLLARS AN INCHE FOR LAND. The Smallest Real Estate Sale Ever

Made in New York.

There had been a blunder somewhere, but it wasn't so important to discover how it was made as how to remedy it. The thirty-six square inches of real es-tate is back from the street. It wasn't of any particular use to Mr. Schell, but so long as he owned it there was a cloud on the title of the countess the property.
