ARMAMENT ALREADY COMPLETED

Secretary Lamont Gives Some Interesting Figures Concerning the Long Range Guns That Protect Our Coasts .- Success of Tests of Breechdition of this work.

On July 1, 1893, but one modern gun had been placed in position. On July 1, 1897, we shall have completed defenses with armament as follows:

Thirteen 12-inch, thirty-seven 10-inch, eight 8-inch and four rapid fire gun and eighty 12-inch mortars.

These guns and m rtars are of ...meri-These guns and m rtars are of .-merican design and American manufacture, more powerful, caliber for caliber, than any carried on shipboard. The extreme range of an 8-inch gun is nine and one-half miles; of a 10-inch gun eleven and one-half miles, and of a 12-inch gun thirteen miles.

The 12-inch breech loading mortar shootsa projectile weighing 1,000 pounds and attains a range of five miles for the cast iron mortar and of six miles for the all steel mortar.

for the all steel mortar.

From the earliest model of the 8-inch breech loading rifle ten shots were fired at a target 3,000 yards, or nearly one and three-fourth miles distant. The centers of all the shot holes struck within a circle of six and one. struck within a circle of six and one-half feet diameter, while the energy developed by the projectile was greater developed by the projectile was greater than that ever before attained by any gun of the same caliber. Subsequently, with a gun of the same caliber manufactured at the government gun factory, four out of five shots fired at a range of one mile, struck within a rectangle of twenty inches by twenty-one inches. Of eight shots fired at a range of 3,000 yards, six struck within an area of eighteen inches by fortyin an area of eighteen inches by forty-was fired at a range of 2,464 yards at a target which represented the deck of the United States cruiser Philadelphia lying broadside on, across which at right angles, was the deck of the same ship lying bow on. Five shots were fired at this target with an eleva-tion of sixty degrees. In the broadside target there were five hits in the five shots; in the bow on target there were three hits in the five shots. All the shots struck within a rectangle of eight yards by twenty-seven yards. Seventeen out of the twenty-one 12inch emplacements, fifty out of sixty-six 10-inch emplacements; twenty out of twenty-five 8-inch emplacements; fourteen out of the sixteen rapid fire gun emplacements and ninety-two out of one hundred and fifty-six 12-inch mortar emplacements have been entirely provided for during the last four years, and that during the same time a large part of these previously pro-vided for have been prepared to receive

THE EMPLACEMENT.

An "emplacement" is not merely the masonary platform upon which a gun with its carriage is mounted, but all that part of a fortification which is necessary for the installation, protection, and service of the gun. Thus, in a work designed for four 10-lnch guns, emplacement of one of the four guns work. For this favorable showing much is due to the liberality of congress at its recent session. The number of emplacements provided by the act of June 6, 1896, is just fifty in excess of the total provided by all preceding appro-

The progress in armament has be equally satisfactory. During the calen-dar year, 1893, there had been completed at the army gun factory, the West dar year, 1933, there had been completed at the army gun factory, the West Foint (oundry, and the Bethlehem Iron works, a total of thirty-four 8-inch, twenty 10-inch and nine 12-inch guns, and forty-three 12-inch mortars. Subsequently, but prior to the fortifications act of June 6, 1895, these totals were raised to sixty-one 8-inch, fifty-six 10-inch, twenty-one 12-inch guns and eighty 12-inch mortars were completed, while there were twenty-seven 8-inch while there were twenty-seven S-inch, thirty-five 10-inch and twenty-nine 12-inch guns in process of construction.

The appropriation of June 6, 1896, while leaving the above completed totals unchanged, it has raised the totals in process of construction to twentyin process of construction to twenty-seven 8-inch, fifty-six 10-inch, fifty 12-inch, ten 6-pounder raised fire guns, and sixty-six 12-inch all-steel mortars. and sixty-six 12-inch all-steel mortars.

Prior to 1893, the all important question of modern carriages for the new guns was in a backward state of solution. The great problem of disappearing carriages, for which our new fortifications are largely designed, was only beginning to be conceived. A 12-inch carriage which should endure the tree carriage which should endure th mendous shock due to the ballistic force necessary to propel a 1990-pound projec-tile at a velocity of 2,000 feet per second, lowering its gun to a secure position for loading, and returning it to its firing position without injury, was believed by few to be within the limits of the

During the year 1894, however, progress on the type carriages was such as to permit contracts to be made to sup-ply the department with twenty-four 10-inch disappearing carriages, and the construction of ten more was undertak-en at the government carriage factory. By the time a new appropriation can become available all the details of every type carr?lage will have been fully de-termined. With sufficient money therefore, the limit to future rapidity of pro-gress in coast defense is the combined annual capacity of public and private plants to supply ordinance material.

GIVES M'KINLEY 302 VOTES.

The Estimate of a Well-Posted Ohio Politician.

Canton, O., Oct. 18.—Joseph P. Smith, ex-state librarian of Ohio, a personal friend of Major McKinley and closely connected with the campaign work, this evening made a statement on the this evening made a statement on the outlook in which he claims an overwhelming victory. He says: "On Aug. 19 I gave to a representative of the press, at his earnest solicitation, a prognostication of the result of the presidential election. In this I said I believed that McKinley and Hobart would carry at least twenty-eight states and receive fully 302 electoral votes and a majority of the popular vote. This opinion I still confidently adhere to.

"In my judgment, the Republican candidates will receive the electoral vote of the three Pacific states, California, Oregon and Washington, and also Wyoming. They will carry the three Southern states of Maryland, West Virginia and Kentucky, and have more

Virginia and Kentucky, and have more than an even chance in Missouri. They will carry the six New England states and the four Middle states, New York, and the four Middle states, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Dela-ware, by overwhelming majorities. They will receive the electoral votes of North Dakota, South Dakota, Minneso-ta, Nebrascka, Kansas, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and Wisconthe most careful inquiry of the men whose sources of information and judgment are most to be relied upon in the management of the Republican campaign. I would not at all be surprised to see McKinley and Hobart receive a million plurality in the four great states of the Union—New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio."

BRYAN A DRAWING CARD

He Makes a Speech to an Audience of Thirty-five Thousand People at Detriot.

Coasts--Success of Tests of Breechloading Cannon.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Secretary Lamont will tomorrow transmit to the secretary of the treasury his estimates of appropriations required by the war department for the next fiscal year. The aggregate is $52,975.638. The estimates for fortlications and sea coast defense have been increased $15.-824,298. In connection with his estimate Secretary Lamont has made public the following statement of the condition of this work.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 18.—William J. Bryan made three speeches here last night and the aggregate of his audiences equalled if not exceeded the greatest crowds that saw and heard him in any city he has visited. He made his first address to a concourse of 35.-600 people that completely filled the spacious Washington boulevard in front of the Hotel Cadillac and reached over into the adjoining Michigan avenue. State and Grand River avenue. At osway back and forth and the excitement among those whe were buffeted without power of resistance became so of the Hotel Cadillac and reached over into the adjoining Michigan avenue. State and Grand River avenue. At one time the people to his left began to sway back and forth and the excitement among those whe were buffeted without power of resistance became so intense that a panic seemed imminent. Seven thousand people were in the auditorium when Mr. and Mrs. Bryan. Justin R. Whiting, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, and prom-date for lieutenant governor, and prom-inent Bryan supporters entered. Mr. Bryan delivered his longest and principal speech of the evening there, devoting his attention mainly to the Palmer and Buckner ticket and platform. A feature of the meeting was th presence of a large crowd of students from the University of Michigan. One man, Isaac Adams, died in the excite-

Equally as enthusiastic as the others was the third assemblage to which Mr. Bryan spoke. It was half-past 10 when he began. Like that at the Cadillac, it took place in the open air in front of the City hall.

AN ANGRY MOB OUTWITTED.

While They Were Clamoring for t Prisoner, He Quietly Slipped Away. Prisoner, He Quietly Slipped Away.

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 18.—Mrs.

Benjamin Yepson, a Danish woman, living in South street, Eagleswood, a suburb of Perth Amboy, was brutally assaulted on Thursday night by a negro named Alfred Brahm, who is now in jail in New Brunswick, held without jail in New Brunswick, held without bail to await the action of the December grand jury. Mrs. Pepson attended a prayer meeting in the evening, and had agreed to leave the meeting at 9.30 o'clock and meet her husband at the Central railroad crossing. She did not start until 10 o'clock, and her husband did not wait, concluding that she had gone home. Mrs. Yepson was passing Meyer's saloon, in Prospect street, when she noticed a negro enter the saloon Meyer's saioon, in Prospect street, when she noticed a negro enter the saloon and come out almost immediately. The negro followed her and, in a dark spot, threw her to the ground, silenced her by threatening her life and assaulted her.

He then ran away, and Mrs. Yepson, in an hysterical condition, ran to her home and informed her husband. The police were told of the affair. The identity of the negro was soon ascertained, and he was located at No. 115 Front street. He was identified by Mrs. Yepson as her assailant. On Friday a crowd of angry residents surrounded the lockup and angrily demanded the release of the negro amid cries of "Lynch the brute!" A coach was meanwhile secured, and Brahm, in the custody of Constable Walters, was taken out by a rear door, and was well on his way to New Brunswick before the crowd was aware of his escape.

WORK OF THE SYNOD.

The Business of the Sessions Will be Completed Tuesday. being the gun. Thus, in Bellefonte, Pa., Oct. 13.—The members of the Presbyterian synod filled all the pulpits in the six churches in emplacement of one of the four guns Bellefonte, the two in Milesburg and epresents one-fourth the cost of all the one at State College at both mornthe parapets, platforms, traverses, ing and evening services today. In magazines, bomb rooms, shot and powder rooms, etc., necessary for the quick Moderator L. Y. Graham preached the synodical sermon. This afternoon a grand temperance rally was held in the court house under the auspices of the Bellefonte Women's Christian Union, at which addresses were made by Moderator Graham and Drs. McClean, Martin and Beacon.

A three o'clock the holy sacrament was administered to the synod, the ministers officiating being Drs. Henry E. Niles, of York and William A. Patton, of Wayne. They were assisted by twelve elders. As it now looks it will take all tomorrow to complete the work to be done and perhaps the synod will hold over until Tuesday.

BLACKBURN'S STATEMENT.

He Has No Desire to Fight Members of the Carlisle Family.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 18.—Senator Blackburn has recovered from his re-cent illness and came up to Lexington yesterday. When asked concerning the prospects of a duel between him and Logan Carlisle he said: "I never heard of that duel until after I got sick the other day. I saw it in a newspaper while in bed. As I am not in very good fighting trim, I honestly believe that duel story is a newspaper canard. If I have been considering entering into a duel, or have ever said anything about fighting young Carlisle, I must have done it in my sleep. You may rest assured that if I wanted a fight out of the Carlisle family, I never would have sought to have it with one of the kids."

CALAMAN KILLED A TOUGH.

Griefat Chambersburg. Chambersburg, Pa., Oct. 18.—A fight occurred last night at Pondtown, a small mining village near here, in which David Pearl was shot and killed by Harman Calaman, and Jack Beidelman seriously wounded by the same person. Calaman is in jail and Beidelman was brought here for treatment. The two men had been fighting with Otho Calaman because he refused to grant them man because he refused to grant them admission to his house.

They then proceeded to Harman's house, and the latter fearing that they would attack him, opened fire on them with an old musket. The men are all desperate characters. desperate characters.

GIVEN'S GOOD ADVICE.

He Counsels Gold Democrats of Luzerne to Vote fot Williams.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Oct. 18.—Chairman Given of the state Gold Democratic committee, was here yesterday holding a conference with the leading Demo-crats of this city and county with ref-erence to the congressional fight in the Twelfth district.

As a result of the meeting Chairman Given sent a letter to the Record here advising the Democrats to vote for the Republican candidate for congress,

KILLED BY A BURGLAR.

Howard Seal's Head Smashed to Jelly by a Negro.

West Chester, Pa., Oct. 18.—A. Howard Seal. a young farmer living near here, is dying from injuries inflicted by an unknown negro last night. Seal discovered the negro burglarizing his house and chased him across the country and caught up with him.

The negro turned and beat Seals' head to a jelly with a big stone. A posse of citizens is scouring the country for the negro.

Wail Street Review.

New York, Oct, 17.—American Tobacco made a sensational break of 7½ per cent. to 6½ and this was the only feature of the trading at the Stock Exchange today. The transactions outside of Tobacco aggregated only 61,36 shares. The slump in the specialty named was attributed to liquidations by a pool which ad acquired a line of the stock on the belief that a deal with the company's principal competitors in the west could be brought to a successful conclusion. Today it was given out that the negotiators were unable to agree and a rush to sell immediately followed. The other leading issues were not influenced by the remarkable drop in the stock named and the poor showing made by the St. Paul for the second week of October was also ignored. In fact the railway list held tolerably firm and in some cases advances were made during the first hour of business. The bank statement, however, chilled the buillish feeling and near the close the entire list was weak and lower. The exhibit was unfavorable to a degree. It showed a contraction in loans, a heavy loss in legal tenders and deposits and a moderate gain in specie. The statement reflects the hoarding of money and the shipment of currency to interrior points. In the late reaction Sugar, Manhattan, the Grangers, Louisville and Nashville, Leather Preferred and Reading led. The decline was equal to ½a1½ per cent. Speculation closed weak and net changes show losses of ½ per cent.
