WHAT BRYAN HAS COST THE PEOPLE

He Advocated the Tariff Bill That Nearly Bankrupted the Government.

HAS COST MORE THAN A GREAT WAR

The Boy Orator Never Mentions the Cause of All Our Ills, Though He Was Instrumental in Fastening Them on Us, but Has, Instead, Another Remedy Much Worse Than the First .- Figures from Official

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—The fact that while the Democratic presidential nominee, William Jennings Bryan, is perambulating the country advocating the unlimited coinage of silver as a panacea for all the ills to which the American public has fallen heir, the government of the United States—under the operations of the Democratic tariff bill, which Mr. Bryan was instrumental in formulating, and which he tariff bill, which Mr. Bryan was instrumental in formulating, and which he declared would lift from the shoulders of the farmers and laboring classes the burdens under which they were then struggling, owing to the imposition of the iniquitously high rates of customs duty imposed by the McKinley bill—is running in debt at the rate of nearly a half million dollars a day, is commented on here as a rather singular coincidence.

Day by day, since the commencement

Day by day, since the commencement of the present campaign, the Boy Ora-tor of the Platte has been endeavoring to divert public attention from the real cause of distress in the country, and at the same time asserting that the bond issues which have occurred under the present administration were made for the specific purpose of maintaining the gold standard and to keep intact the gold reserve.

The only explanation which can be offered for Mr. Bryan's present position is that he is desirous of covering up the effects of the very legislation he not only advocated, but was instrumental to the expenses of the e in passing through the house of repre-

Simultaneously with the failure of duties were to be reduced there was a perceptible decrease in the receipts of the government, caused by the hesitation on the part of the American im-porters to purchase abroad the usual quantity of goods owing to the prospective tariff changes.

The trouble began in the fiscal year 1894, when the revenues of the government fell $69.803.260.58 short of the exment fell $69.803,260,58 short of the expenditures, and the stat tent of the treasury department for that year shows that there was withdrawn from the eash in the treasury, to make up the deficit occasioned by insufficient revenues, $70,024,847.78. This shortage of receipts has continued year by year since the commencement of the fiscal year 1894, until on Saturday last it amounted to $213,975,509.

IN COLD TYPE.

Here it is in cold type, taken directly from the treasury statement, showing conclusively that almost the entire amount of money derived from the bend issues has gone to make up the deficit created by the Wilson-Gorman tariff bill, which Mr. Bryan cham-

.$160,450,682 nent bonds since Febru-293,454,286 ary, 1894

Amount paid out by government in excess of receipts since July 213,975,500

This statement does not include the amount withheld by the secretary of the treasury for the erection of public buildings throughout the country authorized by acts of congress, river and harbor improvements and the preserva-tion of the sinking fund for the reduc-tion of the national debt, which foot up a grand total of nearly $60,000,000. To further illustrate that the trouble with our financial system does not lie in the redemption of treasury notes and ks in gold, and that the of Wall street have not the power to loot the treasury whenever they see fit, the following statement learly demonstrates: On July 1, 1893, the cash in the treasury amounted to $160,450,682. Since that time there has been derived from the sale of bonds $293,454,286 in gold, making a total of $453,904,968, which would be in the treasury today if the revenues of the government had equaled the expenditures. As it is, the total amount of eash in the treasury at the present time amounts to only $239,929,453, being $213,975,509 less than it would have been had the McKinley law remained on the statute books. Assuming that the proceeds of the bond sales were applied to the redountion of treasure. were applied to the redemption of treasury notes, and assuming that the internal revenue and miscellaneous duties collected equaled the expenditures, the treasury statement would show a cash balance on hand of $453,-901,968, instead of $239,929,459.

The deficit in the revenues of the gov-ernment since July 1, 1893, amounts to nearly one-half of the total amount of United States notes, gold certificates and treasury notes outside of the treas-try, which according to the rulings of and treasury notes outside of the treas-ury, which, according to the rulings of Secretary Carlisle, are redeemable in gold. So it is perfectly clear to the unbiased observer that Mr. Bryan's as-sertion that the government has issued bonds to preserve the gold reserve and uphold the single gold standard is a

A comparison with the amounts re-ceived from the bond sales with the deficit which has occurred since July 1, 1893, will further illustrate that money borrowed by the government has gone to make up the deficit in the revenues:

Excess of bond sales over deficit enues of the government have fallen short $29,08,297.34, and should they continue at the same rate during the remainder of the fiscal year, more bond sales are inevitable, as the shortage will aggregate more than $100,000,000, and the remainder of the gold from the recent bond sales will be exhausted.

ANOTHER WRECKING SCHEME. It is a little strange that the very man who aided in the passage of the law which has brought the government to the verge of bandruptcy is now posing as a great financier, with another scheme, which will be far more dis-astrous, if put in operation, then his former delusion, to increase the rev-enues of the government by reducing the customs duties.

What wonder is it that hard times prevail throughout the country, when even the government is compelled to suspend work on public buildings and hold back appropriations for all internal improvements? No government, when its people are prespering, is em-barrassed for the lack of funds. The tariff law of 1894 has cost the industrial classes and manufacturers in this country $4,600,000,000-twice the amount of money in existence in the United States—by reason of enforced idleness.

to the expenses of the government.

The tariff act of 1894 is the only financial legislation which adorns our Simultaneously with the failure of our tariff laws to meet current expenses cause the trouble with the gold reserve, and a careful examination of the records of the treasury department discloses the fact that the proceeds of the bonds sold have gone to make up the deficit in the revenues of the government created by insufficient revenues. In fact, from the very moment it became apparent that the customs duties were to be reduced there was that he was largely instrumental in that he was largely instrumental in ruining one of their principal indus-tries? And the laboring masses that the same act which bankrupted the government closed the factories in which they were employed? Why does he not defend the legislation which he helped to pass, instead of trying to make it appear that his opponent was at one time a silver man? The an-swer is simple. The very men who are trying to elect him now would, at the mention of the part he took in drafting and passing of the Wilson tariff bill, shrink from him as a man un-worthy of their support. Because of this fact he failed to carry Nebraska in 1894, despite the fact that the Populists and Democrats fused, and a Republican senator. Thurston, was elected to the place he so greatly coveted.

If the people of Nebraska placed the seal of condemnation upon Mr. Byyan in 1894, why should the people of this country do otherwise? Are his sliver views preferable to his tariff ideas?

PASTOR'S KISSES UNPROVED.

Parson Bond Was Indiscreet, Though, the Council Finds.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 19.-A most sensational church trial, abounding in charges and counter charges, affecting the character and actions of Rev. Gilbert Bond, late pastor of the old Pine Creek Baptist church, of Library, Pa., and the character of the young ladies who preferred charges against him, has just ended in a compromise verdiet at the hands of the Pittsburg Baptist as-

During the trial three young women testified that Pastor Bond had kissed them and indulged in other conduct which they considered unbecoming in a clergyman. But he contradicted this testimony, and said his wife had been up such a fuss about what she supposed he had done as to cause all the trouble.

Alta Riggs, a miss of 20, testified that Bond, during a call at her father's house, kissed her twice, made remarks about her hair, and said he had been "mashed on her" ever since coming to Library. Ida B. Riggs, her sister, testi-fied that some time in June Bond called and asked for her father. He spoke of at parting, squeezed it and kissed her. Lizzie Phillips testified that Bond had several times told her that his wife was jealous of her. On one occasion he said he hoped his wife would die so that he could marry a woman who would com-fort him. He at another time met her on the road and said his wife blamed him with having one of her garters. There was other testimony to the same effect, but it practically goes for

The Baptist council yesterday, with Rev. Dr. B. F. Woodburn as moderator, found that the evidence was "not suf-ficient to prove the specific charges," but that "it was strong enough to show that Rev. Bond had acted indiscreetly with the girls." The council, therefore, recommended that Pastor Bond's resignation of his pulpit, which has been already presented, be accepted by the congregation, but that he still be per-mitted to exercise the functions of a

Wall Street Review.

New York, Oct. 19.—The stock market was anything but active today, the sales footing up only 152,474 shares, but there was a radical change in the temper of speculation and a bullish one characterized the dealings throughout. The upward movement received its first impetus from the buoyancy and excitement in the grain markets, which advanced sharply under the influence of a brisk foreign demand. In addition to this the renewed weakness of Sterling Exchange exercised a favorable influence, as the reduction of a full cent in the posted rate for long sterling and half a cent in demand rate foreshadows with gold imports to this could be reactions in the stock market during the session, but each decime brought in a number of buying orders which not only realized the list. cine brought in a number of buying orders which not only railled the list, but led to a still higher range of quotations than was current before. The rise was equal to 15624 per cent. and was due in great measure to the fact that the shorts took alarm at the continued strength and advance in the other tinued strength and advance in the other speculative markets. The market left off firm in tone. Net changes show advances of 4 to 3 per ceat. Sugar leading.
