SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

One of the prettiest weddings of the season occurred last evening at the residence of Mrs. Alice M. Falkenbury, of 420 Adams avenue, the occasion being the marriage of her daughter. Frances, to Eugene Dales Hays, of Philadelphia. The marriage ceremony was performed at 8.30 by Rev. Rogers Israel, rector of St. Luke's church, and took place in the north parlor, which had been artistically decorated with palms, chrysanthemums and cut flowers.

The bride looked beautiful in a gown of white brocade silk with pearl and chiffon trimmings, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The maid of hon-or, Miss Bessie Frances Hays, of Philadelphia, sister of the groom, was also attractive in white and carried pink carrations. Harrison Goff Kimball, of Philadelphia, acted as best man. The bride was given away by her uncle, C.

Music was furnished during the cere-mony and evening by Mr. Dorsam, and refreshments were served by Caterer Hanley. The wedding was attended by a large number of friends of the young bride from the city as well as many bride from the city as well as many guests from out of town, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hays, Miss S. F. Dales, Miss Mary E. Wil-son, William Charles Hays and Fred-erick Ruoff, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Pride, Miss Gertle Graham d E. Pride, of Susquehanna; Mr. and Mrs. G. L. C. Franz, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Sutherland, Colonel and Mrs. James Bowman, Misses Sutherland and George Sutherland and Harry L. Suth-

George Sutherland and Harry L. Sutherland, of Wilkes-Barre.

The bride and groom left on the midnight train over the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western on an extended wedding tour and upon their return will reside in Philadelphia, where Mr. Hays is engaged in business as an electrician.

In the Green Ridge Presbyterian church at 11.45 yesterday morning Miss Margaret Newman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Newman, of 302 Webster avenue, was married to Edward Barnard, of 333 Monroe avenue, by Rev. C. E. Robinson, D. D., pastor of the Second Presbyterian church. The interior of the church had been beautified and brightened for the occasion by the artistic arrangement of potted plants and crysanthemums.

A wedding march played by Miss Becker announced the entrance of the bridal party to the church. The groom iscaker announced the entrance of the bridal party to the church. The groom and his best man, W. B. Johnson, entered through the Green Ridge street entrance and the bride and her attendants through the Wyoming avenue entrance. The ladies were met by the ushers, Walter D. Runyon, Fred W. Edwards, Charles W. Carr and Frank Fuller. The bridesmaids were Miss Rena Howe and Miss Mary Monies, and the maid of honor Miss May Keifer. the maid of honor Miss May Keifer.

The bride walked down the aisle to the pulpit leaning on the arm of her father.
She wore a tailor made traveling gown of blue and black cloth and carried white chryanthemums. The bridesmaids were tailor made gown of green and black cloth and carried yellow and white chysanthemums. Miss Kiefer's gown was of marcon and black and she gown was of maroon and black and she carried yellow chrysanthemums. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the Newman residence and during the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Barnard left for a wedding tour em-bracing New York, Washington and othe cities. Mrs. Barnard is a charming and popular young woman who has a host of friends. Mr. Barnard holds a position of trust with the Lackawanna

Iron and Steel company. Miss Kathryn Curry was married to William Greavy in St. Mary's church at Dunmore, yesterday morning by Rev. M. B. Donlan, The ceremony was performed at 8.30 and as the bridal party passed down the main alse to the sanctuary rail a wedding march was played by Professor Peter Pizer. A nuptial mass followed the marriage

The bride was attended by Miss Mary Murphy, and the groom by John Flannaghan. The bride wore a gown of silk, trimmed with lace and ribbons, and Miss Murphy was attired in a gown of dark blue, which was also trimmed with lace and ribbon. After the nuptial mass a wedding breakfast was served at the Carry residence on East Drinker street. Mr. and Mrs. Greavy are now istreet. Mr. and Mrs. Grenvy are now in New York, where they will spend their honeymoon. Upon their return they will reside on West Drinker street, Dunmore, where their furnished home is awaiting them.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Moses entertained a number of friends at their home, 536 Washington avenue, Tuesday night in honor of the debut of their daughter. Miss Bertha. The reception rooms were tastefully decorated with palms and potted plants. Mrs. E. Moses, Mrs. Corin, Miss Buckwald and Miss Moses received the guesis. At 9.30 Mr. Moses introduced Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thiele, of Scharwenke Conservatory of Music, New York, now located in this city, who with the assistance of Miss Buchwold, planist, and Master Albert Moses, rendered the following programme:

SWETLAND STREET CAVE-IN.

Councils Will Be Asked to Make Immediate Provision for Repairs. Accompanied by Street Commissioner Kinsley, Mayor Bailey yesterday viewed the damage caused by the settling of Swetland street, near Robinson's brewery and will tonight, it is expected, make the matter the subject of a special communication to councils.

The settling has now subsided and the street commissioner is desirous of proceeding at once with the repairs. This he is somewhat wary about doing, however, as there is little or no money in the appropriation for such work, and if the repairs exceed the available funds the street commissioner himself is liable to be mulcted for the cost. Council will, therefore, be asked to make provision for the expense so that the street can be repaired at the earli-

Burgess Beaty, of Throop, Shows What He Can Do in the Way of Fines.

RUSH JURY UNABLE TO AGREE

Judge Edwards Discharged Them Because There Are No Beds for Jurors in the Federal Building. George W. Arnold Tried for Fleecing and Old Man Out of $45 -- Costs Put Upon Officer Cassidy Dudy.

Judge Edwards expressed himself in no uncertain terms during the progress of a case in criminal court yesterday in which it was brought out in evi-dence that two persons had been fined $15 each for the simple offense of drunk-enness. The fine was levied by Burgess Charles Beaty, of Throop, according to the statement made by Mrs. Rudolph, an Hungarian woman who was a wit-

It came about in the case of the com monwealth against Joseph and Mary Lahuskey, charged with aiding a pris-oner to escape. A special officer re-joicing in the label, Cassidy Dudy, was the prosecutor. The evidence went on to show that the Mrs. Rudolph men-tioned was unfortunate enough on June 14 to overindulge in liquor. She started from the place she had been drinking for her own home about 11 o'clock at night, and her footsteps be-ing unsteady she leaned up against a fence to balance herself.

Dudy came along and felt it his duty to place her under arrest, and he was bringing her to the lockup, he claims, when Lahuskey and wife attacked him aided the woman to get away and the man thumped the officer.

What the defense offered as evidence was, that the woman and the officer had been drinking together that day had been drinking together that day, and he had volunteered to escort her home, but was taking her to the lock-up, when the Lahuskeys appeared, and that all they did was to beg and entreat Dudy to take the woman home as he had promised to do instead of bringing her to the other place,

WORK OF THE BURGESS. It was an undisputed fact in the case that Mrs. Rudolph did not go to jail that night, but whether the La-huskeys took her away from Dudy, or whether she ran away did not appear, but at all events herself and boy were arrested afterward on the charge of being drunk, and the burgess fined them $15 each. Judge Edwards called Mrs. Rudolph up before him and questioned her about the fines. The judge said it had no bearing on the case on trial, but he wanted to find out the methods that some up-the-valley con-stables and officers who deal out justice to foreigners. The case went to the jury at noon and a verdict of not guilty was returned and the costs were put on the prosecutor.

When court convened in the morning the burglary case in which Hugh J. Rush is defendant, was resumed. The line of defense was as stated yesterday. The defense was as stated yesterday. The defendant claimed to be too drunk to know what he was doing, or to have any intent of wrong doing. The commonwealth showed on rebuttal testimony that if Rush was as drunk as he said he was, he was able to walk from the West Side in less than an hour before he was discovered, and had to climb over a fence sayin feet block to climb over a fence seven feet high to get to the closet where he was found with his eyes closed.

The case was given to the jury at 10.30. When court adjourned at 4.30 in the afternoon the jury was still out, and Judge Edwards ordered them to be and Judge Edwards ordered them to as brought down. He asked if there was any point of law or evidence they de-sired information on, which would lead them to arrive at a verdict. Chauncey H. Derby, who was the foreman, said H. Derby, who was the foreman, said the jury could not agree upon whether there was collusion between Cadden

TEN WANTED TO CONVICT. Judge Edwards said that he did not want to keep the jury together over night and make them sleep on charge, as there was no accommodation in the shape of beds, therefore, he discharged them. It was learned by a Trib me reporter that ten wanted to coavict and two to acquit Bush.

porter that ten wanted to convict and two to acquit Rush.
David Johnson, of Peckville, was tried on the charge of carrying conceased weapons. The prosecutor was David Lee. Attorney John J. Murphy assisted District Attorney Jones for the commonwealth, and Attorney E. W. Thayer appeared for the defense. Mr. Johnson is an elderly man and Mr. Lee is middle aged. The evidence for the prosecution established the fact that Johnson had a revolver in his possession; and Johnson did not deny it, but held that he was not carrying it with held that he was not carrying it with malicious intent. The jury had not brought in a verdict at adjournment. George W. Arnold was put on trial in a case in which Chief of Police Robling is the prosecutor. District Attorney Jones conducted the prosecution and Attorney John J. Bonner was assigned by Judge Edwards to defend Arnoli. It appears that an old man named frederick was seen going along Penn avenue one night during the summer in company with Arnold and a man named Cobb. The two latter being young men, Lieutenant John Davis, who saw the trio felt that the old man was leight decored and be took night. the street can be repaired at the earliest opportunity.

Joseph Frankitz, of Park Place, was put on trial, charged with beating Mrs. Antonette Simon. Attorney George S. Horn is defending him and District Attorney Jones is assisted by Attorney A. J. Colborn, jr. The case was not called until nearly adjournment, and the evidence so far in goes to show that there was a jolification at Mrs. Simon's house. One keg of beer was finished and the defendant among oth-ers got restless and impatient while the second one was being tapped. She interposed to restore order and she claims that Frankitz struck her several times.
Thomas Jordan was returned not guilty of assault and battery upon

AMUSEMENTS.

The coming of Ada Rehan to the Frothingham tomorrow night accomp-anied by Mr. Daly's company will be one of the most important dramatic one of the most important dramatic events of the present season, and the sale of seats indicates that our amusement loving public are in perfect sympathy with the occasion. We are to be treated to Shakespeare's "Taming the Shrew," with Miss Rehan in her character of Katherine. There is no room for argument, when we say that Miss Rehan stands alone today, first as an exponent of Shakespeare's heroines—then again—in her portrayal of the then again—in her portrayal of the many parts alloted to her. We have all heard of her remarkable success in this country and abroad. Miss Rehan has made a life study of her art and even today, continues the work as dilligently as when she first began her careeer. She has always been a deep student of Shakespeare and is thoroughtly versed in all his works.

Friday and Saturday nights James Young, the tragedian, will be at the Academy of Music in "Hamlet," and "David Garrick." The attractiveness of the productions of Young is largely in the completeness of detail. Every scene, look, action, pronunciation, inflection, has been carefully thought out and rehearsed. The plays are preand rehearsed. The plays are pre-sented with magnificent scenery—in fact all the scenic embellishments are fact all the scenic embellishments are furnished by the company. Mr. Young is struggling to be American's rep-resentative actor in Shakespearean and romantic plays, and fully realzes that hard untiring study and application are demanded. Wherever he has been seen in Hamlet the universal verdict has been that it was an ideal perform-ance—that his Hamlet was not played but lived. but lived.

This afternoon at Davis' theater "The Gilded World" Burlesque com-pany will open for three days headed by the queen of burlesque, Miss Grace Milburn, ably supported by Messrs. Grimes and Jess. The above company is one of the largest attractions on the road this season. The odio consists some of the highest salaried specialty stars in the Vaudeville profession, among whom are Miss Grace Milburn Jess and Evans, Frank Emerson, Ed wards and Conly, Fields and Salvine and the Glockers, who make their first appearance in America.

SEHMO INQUEST ADJOURNED.

Prisoners Could Not Be Brought from the Jail in Time for the Henring. Just as the jurors had arrived at he arbitration room of the court house last night at 8 o'clock, the time fixed for the hearing in the Schmo case, a message came from the county jail that Andrew Pallyo and John Bonta, the two prisoners charged with the crime, could not be brought down to the hearing until it would be late. Night Warden T. J. Price had not been notified until 8 o'clock that the prisoners were wanted, and it would take until nearly 9 o'clock to change their prison garb and get them down. The inquest was thereupon adjourned un-til next Monday night at 8 o'clock.

County Detective Leyshone was present, and he had four or five witnesses.
Coroner Longstreet was called to Mill City' in the latter part of the afternoon and Deputy Coroner Pennypacker was going to conduct the inquest Judge Stanton and Attorney C. C. Balientine were present in the interest of the defendants. Judge Stanton said he was willing on the part of the defendants to waive the inquest, but Dr. Pennypacker reminded him that it is only an act of grace for the coroner to permit attorneys to cross-examine the witnesses sworn before him. Judge Stanton did not take kindly to legal right. Despite the judge's inter-pretation of the law, Dr. Pennypacker refused to accept the waiver on the part of the defendants, and the inquest will be held Monday night.
