WEST SIDE EVENTS.

After the Corner Lonfers---Police Propose to Take Radical Step Next Sunday Night to Stop Practice.

Street crowds—loafers is a better name—are causing no end of trouble to the police every Sunday night. The favorite stamping ground is between Washburn and Jackson streets on Main avenue. Last Sunday night one young man was arrested and fined $3. But the example seemed to have no effect. Last night Patrolman Tom Jones was kept busy in moving the loiterers. The gender of the nulsance is largely fem-inine; this makes arrest the more distasteful to the police but next Sunday night radical steps will be taken.

DEATH OF MISS MATHIAS. Miss Margaret Mathias, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mathias, of 1318 Price street, died Friday in New York city where she was employed as an milliner. A telegram was re-here Saturday telling of the The deceased was 27 years of age and she was born in Danville, but has lived here with her parents since infancy. She was a young woman of many friends. The death was a great shock to both parents and friends. The remains arrived here at 6 o'clock Sat-urday evening. Undertaker Will Price met the train at the Delaware, Lacka-wanna and Western station and re-moved the body to the Mathias home. The funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. Thomas Bell, of the Plymouth Congregational church, will officiate. Interment will be made in Washburn street cometery.

CLUB ROOM SECURED. Members of Electric City command-ery, Knights of Malta, will on Nov. 1 take possession of a suite of rooms ery, Knights of Malia, Willon Nov. I take possession of a suite of rooms recently occupied by Photographer George N. Starner, at the corner of Main avenue and Jackson street. The Knights of Malia lodge has a wonderful record. They started on this side less than a year ago; now they have near-ly four hundred members. If the club success be as great as the lodge the West Side will have a rousing big social organization. And not only will pleasure be the purpose of the club, but t will also have an educational side Classes will meet nightly for instruc-tions by competent teachers. The fee for admission in the club will be about 75 cents. The name is the "American." Membership will not be confined to the Knights of Malta.

THE OXFORD AGAIN. Complaint was made last night at 10.30 o'clock that two men and a woman were acting disorderly in a house near the Oxford breaker. Officers Peters, Gurrell and T. Jones went down and arrested the trio. They will be given a hearing this morning. hearing this morning.

D. M. JONES IS DEAD.

The death of Hon. D. M. Jones is re-ported in another column. The sketch of his eventful life is a great tribute to successful man. On the West Side Mr. Jones will be missed. He was ever active and always generous to any movement for the public good.

ABRUZZI'S TOUR.

The Noted Italian Duke Visits Ningara Falls.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Oct. 25.—The special train tendered the Duke of Abruzzi, commander Bertelini and other officers of the Italian cruiser Cristofor Colombo, now at Philadelphia, by the Lehigh Valley ratiroad arrived here at 7 o'clock this evening. The train consisted of two cars, an observation car and a dining car, part of the magnificent outfit of the famous Black Discount express. Black Diamond express. Those in the party were H. R. H. the Duke of Abruzzi, Chevalier E. Frigerio, his aide de camp, Commander Bertolini of the Cristofor Colombo, Lleutemant L. Resio, Dr. L. Giura, Lleutemants Ayer-merich and Minspeare, Hollin H. Wil-bur, general superintendent; Henry H. Kingston, general traffic manager: Charles S. Lee, general passenger agent of the Lehigh Valley railroad; William C. Huston, jr., F. R. Reets, J. H. Seal and F. C. Cutler, also of the Lehigh Valley company. On the run over the mountains the suke and others of his party and others.

duke and others of his party occupied seats on the observation platform. His highness expressed great pleasure at the magnificent scenery in the Switzer-iand of America and the wonderful view of the Wyoming valley, and evinced much interest in the movements of the train and the contrinction of the road. Remarkably fast time was made both in ascending and descending the

On arriving here the party was driven to the Cataract house, where, after the Italians of the town had paid their re-spects, carriages were taken for the power house. The prince thoroughly Inspected the works, descending the shaft 185 feet to see the working of the turbing. From there there were later turbines. From there they were driven through Prespect Park, thence re-turning to the hotel. Temorrow morn-ing the party will be shown the fails from both sides of the river, and, after a ride on the gorge road, will take a special train for Philadelphia at noon.

The Duke of Abruzzi, nephew of the King of Italy and one of the most im-portant men of that country, is now touring this country. Yesterday at touring this country. Yesterday at 12.45 p. m. he passed through Wilkes-Barre over the Lehigh Valley road en route to Niagara Falls, where he pro-posed to spend a day and then return to New York.

The Italian residents of this city and county upon learning that he was to pass through this region conceived the idea of bidding him to visit the Electric City and yesterday when the train ar-rived at Wilkes-Barre he was greeted by a delegation of Lackawanna county Italians numbering 50, headed by Frank Carlucci and bearing an official invitation from Mayor Balley. The train stopped for so short a time that the duke had barely time to learn their mission. He said he would give the invitation due consideration and if it was possible would avail himself of their kindness. He however felt that it would be impossible to accept as it would very materially interfere with his set plans.

AMUSEMENTS.

Tuesday evening at the Academy of Music William Gillette's most amusing stage creation "Too Much Johnson," will be produced by one of Frohman's The Junior Order of American Mechanics' band has changed its head-quarters from Boyle's hall to McAndrew's barn on Butler street. "The Private Secretary," "Mr. Wilkin-son's Widows," which have always been successful, and his present New York success, "Secret Service." "Too Much Johnson" is described as being a study in laughter, which begins with the rise of the curtain and never ceases until its final fall.

Among the 100 members of Thomas D. Van Osten's "Miss Philadelphia" company there are over fifty who are expert bicycle riders and they have or-ganized two separate clubs, each have their racing team, and several members of each club are century riders with records. It is no unusual sight, after the big company arrive in town to see them in their natty costumes start out for a spin in the country. Mr. Col-lier is an enthusiastic wheelman, as is also Miss Macusker and Louis Allen, and this trio have records for six-hour road riding which compare favorably with some of the professionals. The sale of seats for "Miss Philadelphia" will open at the Academy box office this morning.

"The Brand of Cain." the new play that will be seen at Davis' theater, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, is a well conceived and forcibly written plees of dramatic work. The play con-tains much that is original in dialogue and the development of the various scenes and situations. The story of twin brothers, while not entirely new to the stage, has been most interestingly han-dled by the author, and in a way to entitle him to credit for originality. The "Diable Chasm" in Spain is faithfully represented, also a stone quarry in Lon-don. Great care has been taken in mounting the play and the manager. Arnold Wolford, has spared neither pains or expense in doing so. Benefit to the Associated Charitles Tuesday af-

KEROSENE TRAGEDY.

Camden Woman Succeeds in Killing Herself---Narrow Escape of Husband and Children

Camden, N. J., Oct. 25 .- The hastening of a fire with kerosene brought th shocking death of a mother and im-perilled the lives of her sick husband and five little children this morning. Harris Freelander and his family occupy a little two-story dwelling been ill with typhoid fever and the family has been in sore straits. When Mrs. Freelander arose this morning she found that her kitchen fire died out during the night. She saturated som kindlings with kerosene oll, placed th can on the top of the stove and touched a match to the kindlings. Next instant there was an explosion that shook the house and mingled with agonizing screams, it startled the sick man above strains, it starties the siek man above stairs and aroused the sleeping child-rea. Freelander leaped out of bed and ran down stairs. Neighbors, who heard the explosion and the screams sent in a call for the firemen. Meanwhile the children, aroused by the confusion, attempted to get down stairs, but the oldest girl held them back when she found smoke pouring up the stairway in such volume, as to al-most sufficiate her. Led by the cliest girl the children climbed out upon a shed. The elder children had forgotten the sleeping infant in the confusion, but the little heroine of the occasion never flinching, clambered back through the window, got the baby and brought it out in triumph.

Responding to the alarm the firemen reached the house, and soon had the flames in the kitchen subdued. As the smoke cleared away the shapeless form of the unfortunate wife and mother was found on the floor. The flames had charred her body into an unrecog-nizable mass, and she was buried before dark.

THE HEALER COMES EAST.

Schrader is Effecting His Alleged Miraculous Cures in Philadelphia. Philadelphia. Oct. 25.—August Schrader, who calls himself the "divine healer," arrived in this city from the West last evening, charged with the especial mission of curing the afflicted. This is Schrader's first visit to the East, and he gives as his reason for beginning work in Philadelphia that he has been urged to do so by many residents of the city who have written to him continually on the subject. The large number of hand-kerchlefs sent to him by Philadelphians to be blessed has also had the effect, h says, of convincing him that he is want-ed here and will be cordially received. schrader has gained farme as "healer" since the advent in the West and Southwest of Schlatter. HOW DOES IT HAPPENT

Free coinage advocates, who claim that heir scheme for 50-cent dollars would senefit the whole people, should explain benefit the whole people, should explain how it happens —that the most civilized countries have gradually abandoned the silver standard;
—that the great commercial nations which do the largest portion of the world's business are all on the gold basis;
—that no important country has ever gone back to silver after once using gold as a measure of values:
—that wares are for higher in goldas a measure of values;
—that wages are far higher in goldstandard countries than in China, Mexico and all other silver countries;
—that the condition of the American farmer is so greatly superior to that of the ryots who cultivate the soil of silverstandard India;
—that if it be true that the gold standard lowers the price of goods this is not desirable for our sixty-five million consumers; destrable for our sixty-five million con-sumers;
—that wherever the experiment of cheapening the currency has been tried it has always injured most the masses whose labor produces all wealth; —and that the men most anxious to overthrow our present standard are the silver mine owners, speculators and of-nce seeking politicians.
