Work on Belmont Street.

Sunday Belmont street presented a very lively appearance. As the winter is drawing near and the days or out door work will be few, the contractors made their work on Sunday one of ne-cessity. Many persons watched the cessity. Many persons watched the work yesterday with much interest, and it is generally considered to be first-class. The new switch opposite Morrison's restaurant will be put in tomorrow, and as the traction road will be closed for a time passengers will be transferred at that point. The switch transferred at that point. The switch north of Robinson avenue will be put in Wednesday and then the old rails will be torn up.
