WEST SIDE EVENTS.

Consolidation of Hartranit and Keystone Lodge, Loyal Knights of America. Way the Event Was Celebrated.

Hartranft lodge, No. 42, Loyal Knights of America, has become amal-gamated with the Keystone lodge of the same order and in honor of the union the same order and in honor of the union the last named lodge gave a reception last evening to the members of the disbanded lodge. The meeting was held in the hall over Warnke's hotel on North Main avenue and there was a room full of people present. Singing, speeches, recitations and general jollification with eigars and lunch thrown in for spice, made up the evening. The history of Hartranft lodge was told in last night's Times in the following language:

language:
"The lodge was instituted under most
"The lodge was instituted under most "The lodge was instituted under most favorable circumstances and had on its membership rolls some of our most prominent men, among them being E. E. Robathan, who had the distinction of being its first pastmaster. All went well and the prospects were favorable for a strong lodge, but after a short time the members lost interest in the work and at times it was impossible to get officers enough to open the meetget officers enough to open the meet-ings. The fact that two lodges of the order already existed on this side with good membership rolls and first-class good membership rolls and first-class financial funds was a great draw back to them as the other societies offered bigger inducements for members than the infant organization. They sought to combine with Keystone lodge and at the last session of the grand lodge they were granted that privilege. The property of the lodge was turned over about a month ago and the members of Hartranft lodge enrolled on the books of Keystone lodge."

ACCIDENTS OF THE DAY. George Morgan, aged 18 years, was George Morgan, aged 18 years, was injured Wednesday morning in the Ox-ford mine. He was thrown under a moving car, but fortunately no serious injuries resulted. The young man's home is on Fifteenth street.

John Evans, a little fellow, was run over last evening by one of Jameson's wagons in Washburn street. The wagon was pasisng and Evans was stooping over on the road. He saw the front wheels go by, and he thought they were the last wheels and the lad tacked up with his eyes on the ground. The rear wheels passed over his body. The injuries are not thought to be of live on Washburn street.

POLICE NOTES OF INTEREST. That insane man who was arrested Wednesday morning by Patrolman Evans was fined $3 by Alderman John at police court yesterday. His name is Shearwood and his home is in Jefferson township. At periods he gets on a drunk, then comes a time of in-sanity. Religion is his harping sting. Constable Burchell arrested a drunken man yesterday and locked him up in the constable house barn on South Main

SOUTH SIDE NEWS.

MISSES PHILADELPHIA VISITING.

In the makeup of "Miss Philadelphia," which was seen at the Academy of Music the past two nights there are two young ladies, Regina and Lillie Collins, who will wait a good while yet before they grow out of their teens, but but whose talents in the way of music and dancing have placed them in the front rank of juvenile characters on the stage today. The fact that they are with "Miss Philadelphia" is in itself sufficient commendation of their worth. Their appearance in the street scene was very much complimented. Yesterday afternoon they were the guests of Miss Lucy Coyne, daughter of Councilman and Mrs. T. J. Coyne, of Breck street. Miss Coyne met them in Philadelphia when she was there recently as the guest of Misses Leila and Gertrude Brown, whose friends they are. MISSES PHILADELPHIA VISITING.
