ommittee Decides to Let the Investigation Proceed Without Any Prescribed Limits -- What the Sunday World People Bring Forward as Substantiation of the Wholesale Allegations Against Mr. Kinsley. Another Hearing Tuesday.

The taking of testimony in the Kins-The taking of testimony in the Kins-ley investigation was begun hast night before Mayor Eailey and his advisory board consisting of Messrs, Sander-son, Chittenden, Grier and Loftus, se-iceted by him from the councils. At the opening of the session Mr. Newcombe, attorney for the manage-ment of the Sunday World, which is pressing the charges, submitted the following:

(a) That he has exacted large sums of money from persons destring license to maintain night lunch wagons, as a consideration for granting permits to occupy the city streets with such wagons. If He is further charged with having falsely certified the monthly pay rolls of his department whereby large sums of money have been drawn from the city treasury for pretended services which have never been rendered.

Sunday World Publishing Company, (Per John H. Blackwood, Managet.)

DISPUTE WAS REVIVED. This resurrected the dispute which almost precipitated a row at the last neeting, Mr. Burns objected to the formulated charges on the ground that they did not follow the allegations con-tained in the Sunday World and were therefore not a subject for inquiry by the committee, as council had clearly and specifically stated that the Sun-day World charges were to be inves-tigated. It would be unfair, he also contended, and against all rules of law to make additions or amendments to an indictment, as it would be springing charges upon a man without giving im an opportunity to prepare a de-

Mr. Newcomb quoted from the act of 1889, showing that it was the duty of the mayor to 'supervise the conduct of all city officers and to investigate all reasonable complaints against them," and then went on to argue that the mayor and committee should not endeavor to surround the present investigation with technicalities that would defeat the spirit of the law. The members of the committee, at the request of the mayor, gave their individual views regarding what the scope of the investigation should be. Colonel Sanderson contented himself with reiterating his position in the matter. Mr. Chittenden expressed the Captain J. J. Murphy, of Washington, D. C., is spending a few days in this city. Misses Kathryne and Allee Maloney, of Pittston, spent yesterday in this city. George Edgar Oliver, of Albany, a note at composer and musical director, is among the guests at Hotel Jermyn.

Daniel L. Hart was in the city lear any and all charges that might be submitted.

After a whispered consultation with the advisory board the mayor nodded to Mr. Newcomb to proceed and he opened the ball by calling as the first witness Street Commissioner Kinsley, Messrs, Burns and Watson, Mr. Kins-Messrs. Burns and Watson, Mr. Kins-ley's attorneys, promptly objected to their client going on the stand "to prove charges against himself," as they put it. The objection being sus-tained Mr. Newcomb called for the books of the street commissioner's de-partment, containing the records of the pay rolls for the time of Mr. Kins-ley's incumbency, Mr. Kinsley readily produced them. While he was upstairs getting the books the mayor expressed a desire to have a private consultation a desire to have a private consultation with his colleagues and they retired to the inner office. When they came out they were agreed upon hearing whatever charges might be presented. PAY ROLLS IN EVIDENCE. Mr. Newcomb offered in evidence the pay rolls during Kinsley's term calling attention particularly to the accounts of Caward Ramsey, Harry R. Kinsley and Emmet Peet. He started out to check off the Items on which the allegations were based, but as this promised to be a lengthy and tedious job, it was agreed to accept the type-writen transcript, previously prepared.

The accounts showed that E. M.
Ramsey or Edward Ramsey, who were admitted by Mr. Kinsley to be one and the same person, worked as many as 75 days in certain months, somet mas being credited as a foreman land at others as a teamster. Harry it Kins-ley was shown to have drawn pay for teams and carts, being credited with 74 days in the month of October, 1855. Emmet Peet was also credited with working an extraordinary number of days in the month with his to am and

Witness was inot aware that both LaBar and Belcher are on

PEET ON THE STAND. Emmet Peet was next called. He is thirty years of age, unmarried, and boards with his brother-in-law, E. M. Ramsey, at No. 7 New York street. Witness formerly cared for C. R. Kinsley's horses. There were fourteen or fifteen head of them. At present, as far as witness knew, Mr. Kinsley has but one horse and two colts. There are thirteen horses in Kinsley's barn in Green Ridge but witness did not in Green Ridge but witness did not know who owned them all. Does not at present take care of all the horses in the barn. Pays Mr. Kinsley $32 a month for the keeping of his team.

Witness admitted that he had a bank account but said "none of your business" to Mr. Newcomb's question as to where he kept it. Mr. Watson ob-jected to prying into a witness' private against C. R. Kinsley, street commissioner.

The investigating committee having inclicated a desire to have formal character make in this case, the Sunday World Publishing company, by its manager, John H. Blackwood, herewith submits formal complaint as follows:

1. The accused, C.R. Kinsley, is charged with having used the office of street commissioner for his personal profit in this:

Witness could not remember that he worked as indicated but said he also had a cart which he used in the city had a cart which he used in the city work. He bought the cart also from Mr. Kinsley. Accounted for being credited with 39 days in July, 1896, by having received back pay or possibly having worked his cart with his team and wagon.
