Banks which withdrew their funds from Pittsburg, Nov. 8.—Greater activity is apparent in the industrial institutions since Wednesday than at any time dur-ing the year. Every mill and workshop in Pittsburg is operating more actively or is preparing to start on Monday. A number of departments which have been entirely idle or operated spasmodically since the summer shutdown will be in operation next week. The only indus-try which has not yet felt the thrill of reviving confidence is window-glass. Activity in this line is delayed because of the inability of the workers and manufacturers to agree on the wage scale. It is thought that a conference will be called soon and an agreement reached. Canton, O., Nov. 8.-Major McKinley is rapidly recovering from the effects of the mental strain and arduous labors of the campaign and this evening ex-pressed himself as being fully rested. He is in excellent health and spirits.

The president-elect spent a very quiet day. He took a short walk early in the morning, attended church as usual, and morning, attended church as usual, and in the afternoon went for a drive. The balance of the day Major McKinley passed in his library. Among those who called were Charles G. Dawes, member of the executive committee of the na-tional Republican committee; Ferdi-nand W. Peck and Alexander Revell, of Chicago; Captain A. T. Willberly, of New Orleans, and Congressman Francis H. Wilson, of Brooklyn, N. Y. The determination of Major McKinley to remain in Canton until the middle of this week on account of the feeble contressing to him and is desirous of hav-ing a quiet official life, has suggested that both the emperor and Prince Bismarck take some means to bring about an immediate cessation of their pole-mics, which are endangering the peace of Europe. Among the staunch adher-ents of Prince Bismarck the opinion prevails that things have already gone too far, and they are agreed that the controversy must cease, but none of them venture to suggest any plan whereby this adheet may be accomplishto remain in Canton until the middle of this week on account of the feeble con-dition of his wife, may keep the storm-cloud of political interest central over Canton for some days longer. The character of the visitors to Major Mc-Kinley has changed a good deal since his election. During the campaign, when the railways made low rates, hun-dreds and thousands of people from the lowly walks of life came to Canton. Now the visitors are largely of the political, office-holding, or office-seek-ing classes. Some of the callers at the McKinley residence are old friends and others are persons who have been ask-ed to come. Every good citizen is corwhereby this object may be accomplish-ed. From Munich, Carlisle and other places where Prince Bismarck is strong in the possession of friends or influence and high station it is known positively that supplications have been addressed to him to discontinue the course he is pursuing as the only means of averting serious trouble. Apart from the responsibility of the ex-chancellor for the revelations of the Russo-German neutrality treaty and the other disclosures which have ed to come. Every good citizen is cor-dially received if Major McKinley has the time to see him at all. Applications for official places are beginning to come heen made, the question has been dis-cussed in Berlin whether Dr. Hoffman, the editor of the Hamburger Nachrich-ten, ought not to be indicted, but as a result of the discussion it was decided that the indictment of Dr. Hoffman in by mail in large numbers and they include requests for all sorts of appoint-ments from day laborers to chiefs of ments from day laborers to chiefs of bureaus. Mrs. McKinley is deluged with begging let-ters. One woman who wrote recently wanted money to educate her children, and a girl asked for enough to ouy a bridal robe. A score of churches and religious societies have sent plaintive appeals. Some letters requesting man-cial aid by persons in distress are ac-companied by such cheerful observa-tions as this: "If you don't respond within twenty-four hours you will prob-ably hear of my death." under no circumstances would the em-peror permit such a proceeding as this. The controversy has now reached an acute stage and is seriously affecting the health of Prince Hehenlohe who is essentially of a pacific temperament and accustomed to quit diplomatic combats. The feverish and implacable fight which is being waged by Prince Bismarck is causing the chancellor to pass many sleepless nights and for this reason the emperor is desirate of

EFFECT OF THE CONTROVERSY. Meanwhile it is understood that the effect of the controversy, coupled with the articles thereon published in the official press has been to weaken the ties of the Dreibund. Apropos of the Russo-German neutrality treaty the Cologne Gazette in its comments, asks: "In the event of war between Russia and Austria would Germany side with Austria in view of the fact that France would then attack Germany?" In ans wer to its own question the Gazette wer to its own question the Gazette argues that Austria must face Russia alone, as Italy would not intervene. Naturally the Austrian and Italian newspapers are asking of what value is the Dreibund if it can be thus repudiated when the occasion suits. diated when the occasion suits. The policy which Mr. McKinley is expected to pursue after his inaugura-tion president of the United States in regard to bimetallism and the tariff continues to be discussed in the col-umns of the leading newspapers. The Kreuz Zeitung maintains that there is reason for a feeling of satisfaction among the bimetallists of Europe as there are grounds for their feeling hopeful that the first aim of Mr. Mc-Kinley will be to obtain a settlement of the monetary question upon an inter-national basis. In regard to the tariff, the Zeitung proceeds first to advocate the cooperation of the European powfor a concerted interpretation of Monroe doctrine as international law and then goes on to argue in favor of an international agreement for com-mon duties upon the leading American imports. "This movement for a common European tariff war in respons to the election of Mr. McKinley," the Zeltung says, "Is not a new suggestion as the same cry was heard during the first outburst against McKinley taria when the law Int into operation in the United States, but the movement was een to be impracticable." Pursuing the subject, the paper says: "If it is impossible to achieve joint European action Germany must pro-ceed upon independent lines, first creating a high maximum tariff and then give notice of a cessation of the most favored nation system as soon as the United States government realizes its tariff.

The Zeitung reasons that this would have the effect to secure the success of negotiations for a treaty based upon the new German maximum tariff.

The Hamburger Nachrichten relies upon Mr. Kinley favoring bimetallism in principle and believes that he will do his utmost to obtain an internation-

The Hamburg Correspondenz, a semi-official journal, says that al-though it is not in expectation that there will be any ultimate benefit to the commercial relations between Eur-ope and the United States as a result of the presidential election, it is con-vinced that the bimetallic movement will rather revive than subside under an administration of President Mc-Kinley.
