sherman Predicts an Extra Tariff Session.

MORE REVENUE MUST BE PROVIDED

The Dingley Bill May Be Taken Up Before March--Would Add $40,-000,000 to Receipts -- Wool Schedule Among the Most Important to Be Corrected -- Financial Legislation Not Urgent.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Senator John Sherman is back in Washington and Sherman is back in Washington and, naturally, feeling in good spirits and very hopeful of the future in view of the result of the national election. That he foresees prompt results in the way of legislation from the McKinley administration is evident from the views he has expressed regarding the Ffty-fifth congress, to a correspondent of the Philadelphia Press. Senator Sherman said:

Sherman said:
"An extra session of the Fifty-fifth congress will be convened by President McKinley shortly after the 4th of next March, and the revenue question will be taken up and legislation passed that will provide ample receipts for the needs of the government, and give a reasonable protection to American industry."

industry."

"Along what lines will the proposed tariff revision be conducted?" Senator Sherman was asked.

"There will be, in my opinion, a general revision of the present tariff law," he replied. "The Wilson tariff law, as it is known, is full of incongruities, inequalities and injustices. There is scarcely a schedule in the whole law that does not need correction. This that does not need correction. This does not necessarily mean higher rates of duties, but there should be an adjustment of the rates so as to do justice to all the articles embraced "The bill was admittedly incomplete and full of blunders when it became a law. The ad valorem system of duties is repugnant to Republican principles and, of course, that feature of the pres-ent law will be corrected. The rates of duty should be so fixed as to provide all the revenue needed for the proper conduct of the Government, and also to afford a reasonable protection to those American industries that come in competition with foreign institutions," Mr. Sherman placed particular emphasis on the word "reasonable."

RECIPROCITY. "In your opinion, will the reciprocity feature of the McKinley law be re-stored in the bill to be prepared in the next congress?"

"I would not make a positive state ment with regard to that," said the senator. "It must be remembered, however, that the reciprocity clauses in the law of 1890 had a tendency to reduce the revenues of the government and to some extent brought that law into disrepute. There are certain features of the present law that demand immediate attention, and will form special features in the new law.

"One is the article of wool, now on the free list. As long as the manufacturers of woolen goods are protected by a duty on their products the wool grower in all justice should receive equal protection. There should be an adequate specific duty placed upon raw

Mr. Sherman was then asked as to the probability of revenue duties being placed upon tea and coffee and upon sugar, but he declined to express an opinion with regard to these articles, except to say that if the senate was in the same mind that it was last winter the proposition to place a tariff upon these articles would not meet with sup-

"Will congress at its extra session undertake any financial legislation?" Senator Sherman was asked. "I think financial legislation. The people of the country have just decided by a tre-mendous popular majority that a change in our financial policy is not de sired. We have that of money and plenty of gold in the treasury, and I do not think that congress is called to take up the consideration of any radical change in our present financial sys-

to pass a revenue measure?" the sena-tor was next asked.
"Yes, undoubtedly there will be," he replied. "I think that very shortly after the conceiving of congress in December we will make an effort to pass the Dingley revenue bill, which was blocked last session by the opposition of several Re-publican silver senators. The bill pro-poses only temporary relief, but is non-partisan in its propositions, and would believe, produce a sufficient revenue

I believe, produce a sufficient revenue to meet the current expenses of the government."

"Have you the assurance that the op-position of the silver senators to the Dingley bill will be removed?"

"No, we have no assurance on that point whatever," replied the senator.
"Of course, if the five silver senators who blocked the passage of the bill last session maintain their opposition there session maintain their opposition there will be no chance of getting it through, If, however, the Republicans should all support the bill, its passage is assured. Much of the opposition of these sena-tors last winter was. I think, for the purpose of forcing the free coinage of silver as an issue in the campaign. The campaign and election are now passed, and it may be that they may not be as determined in proventing the research determined in preventing the passage

DEPENDS ON SILVERITES.

DEPENDS ON SILVERITES.

The opinion of Senator Sherman that an attempt will be made at the approaching session of the present congress to pass the Dingley revenue bill is shared in by most of the Republican leaders. This bill can be called up at any time if there are votes enough to do so. And it depends entirely upon the attitude of the five Republican silver senators whose stubbornness last winter prevented the consideration of the measure.

The Dingley bill was prepared as a measure of immediate relief for the treasury department. Its necessity at the time of its passage in the house, December 26 of last year, was emphasized by the fact that up to that time from the first day of July, 1893, there had been a dealer in the present of the

from the first day of July, 1893, there had been a deficit in the receipts of the treasury of $182,000,000.

What is known as the Dingley revenue bill passed the house on the 26th of last December by a vote of 227 to 81. It provides form duty of 6 6-10 cents per pound up have wool, 32 per cent. upon carpet wools or about 3 cents per pound; 60 per cent. of the McKinley rates upon the manufacturers of wool, 69 per cent. of the McKinley rates upon certain classes of lumber and a horizontal increase of 15 per cent. upon all the other schedules in the present tariff law except the sugar schedule, which iff law except the sugar schedule, which explained by Mr. Dingley at the time of the passage of the bill, its pro-visions if made into law would increase visions if made into law would increase the revenues of the government some $40,000,000 annually, or enough to meet the needs of the government. In the senate the finance committee added to the bill a provision for the free coinage of silver which effectually stopped its

STUCK HIS PICK IN GOLD.

Rich Accidental Discovery of Gold

Butte, Mont., Nov. 9.—A discovery of gold has been made within the limits of the King Solomon Ground near Clancey, by E. Redding, who accidentally found some rich float while walking toward his home from the present workings of the King Solomon. He dug for half an hour among the rocks, and struck the vein, disclosing is inches of between 300 and 400-ounce ore. The vein is distinct from the King Solomon proper, and is about 40 feet south of the Solomon shaft. Several sacks of the ore have been taken out at a depth of less than two feet. The vein as exposed is chloride and black sulphuret in character. Most of the locations show no ore, though the rock cations show no ore, though the rock resembles the Mayflower, recently dis-covered near Whitehall.

Thus far the Mayflower lead has sur-prised everyone who has seen it. Noth-ing in the State has ever shown up such rich, ters and such predits for the work rich ore and such profits for the work done. The mine has produced up to date $300,000, and all from a very small hole on the ground. Ore has been taken out only to a depth of 65 feet and less than 50 feet in length.

It appears from this that usual precautions prescribed from regulations were observed from those in charge of the work in "blanking off" the connections and as the workmen had left the valve all right Saturday. The accident early this morning, before work was resumed, indicates that the yoke gave way to the one-ton pressure that had been upon it for about thirty-six hours. The reference to the naval tugs Nar-keeta and Nina is taken as explaining why outside tugs were called upon in

KNIGHTS AT ROCHESTER.

Convention of the Lodges of the United States and Canada Will Be in Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 9.—The regular onvention of the Knights of Labor of the United States and Canada, which opens tomorrow morning, will be addressed by Mayor Warner. General Master Workman James R. Sovereign. of Iowa, will respond to the mayors ad-dress. Mr. Sovereign said today; "The Knights of Labor have had a wonderful growth during the past year. In France we have a membership of over 100,000. It is against the rules of over 100,000. It is against the rules of the order to tell the exact number of Knights either in this country or the state, because the men might be black-listed by their employers. Only a short time ago in Philadelphia papers stated that we had no members in that city to speak of and a few days later 6,000 men went out on a strike. We believe in taking advantage of improved ma-chinery so as to gradually reduce the in taking advantage of improved machinery so as to gradually reduce the hours of labor to eight hours a day; to have laws passed forbidding the importation of convict labor, and to have government control of the railroads and telegraph. We think that men and women doing the same work should receive the same renumeration. The Rhights of Labor are not anarchists. They do not wish to overthroy the present condition of society, and we are in favor of the system of government laid down by the signers of the declaration of independence, but we do not think that the workingmen of this country have received fair treatment, or that they have received the share they deserve in the wealth of the country."

During the conversation which turned for a moment on politics, Mr. Sovereign took ocasion to eulogize Governor Alt-geld, of Illinois. He considered Altgeld as one of the finest types of American manhood in the country today, and the principles which he enunciated, and for which he stands to be the ones upon which the government is destined
