

WHITNEY'S WEEKLY BUDGET OF NEWS

Oakland People are After the Members of the Ku Klux Klan.

BIG REWARDS FOR THEIR CAPTURE

Every Citizen a Private Detective on the Trail of the Tormentors of Rev. Cochran--Lively Times at the Railroad Shops--Other Notes of Interest Along the Line--Various Nuggets of County News.

Special Correspondence of The Tribune. Susquehanna, Nov. 10.--The good people of Oakland are thoroughly aroused over the Ku Klux notices and letters. At a meeting held in the Town Hall on Friday evening it was decided to offer a reward of $500 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the rascals, and each citizen will become a volunteer sleuth. Rev. W. R. Cochran, pastor of the Oakland Methodist church, who received a notice to remove from the parsonage forthwith will not remove one inch, but he has taken his rifle from the hook, and the first man who discovers upon the premises after dark will be filled full of lead. The reverend gentleman has adopted the watchword of the heroic Ethan Allen, "Trust in God and keep your powder dry."

RAILROAD GLEANINGS. Four different shops are at work on a contract to turn out a large number of freight locomotives for the Erie. The larger shop on the Erie system have since election been placed on increased working hours.

Among the many railroad devices recently patented is an extension step to be fastened to the car step. It is folded up when the car is in motion. A new device for use in railway stations shows the time of the next train leaves and its destination, ringing a bell as each change is made. The apparatus is operated by electricity.

Elmer W. Brown, of Hornellus, has been appointed traveling engineer of the Susquehanna division of the Erie. The Lehigh Valley management is determined to secure prompt adherence to its time schedules and has accomplished it. Every engineer and conductor for a day's pay for every minute of tardiness at a station, unless delay is due to a wreck or non-working machinery.

Jefferson Branch Conductor Polk Palmer had charge of the Republican jubilee in this place on Friday evening.

ALL SORTS. A little Susquehanna county boy formerly smoked from six to ten packages of cigarettes each day. He does not live in this county any more. The funeral was a very fine one.

In the last election all records were broken. So were nearly all the wretches.

Four hundred prohibition votes were cast in Susquehanna, in Friendsville, Oakland borough and Little Meadows none were cast.

Appeals to the patriotism of the American are never made in vain. Has Mr. Bryan been officially "notified" that he is deep in the bouillon?

At an early hour on Friday morning the saw-mill of James O. Taylor, located near the Starrucca viaduct at Lansboro, was fired by an incendiary and consumed, together with the contents, including a machine for the manufacture of "Excelsior" and a cider mill. The estimated loss is $5,000 with no insurance. The mill was built in 1818.

SUMMONED SUDDENLY. Near Lansboro, on Friday morning, Palmer's Jefferson branch "flyer," bound south, struck and instantly killed Adolphus Black, of Friendsville, and Deceased, who came to Brandt from Germany four years since, is survived by the widow and six children. The funeral occurred last evening at Brandt, the interment being made in the cemetery in Brandt.

IN OUR OWN COUNTY. Montrose Republicans will jubilate on Wednesday evening. Congressmen Gove and Coddling are expected to participate.

The great increase in the Republican majority at the late election has gained for Susquehanna county an old-time convert in the next Republican State convention.

John F. Reynolds, esq. of Carbonado, a native of Susquehanna county, was last week elected one of the representatives from Lacksawanna county. That he will be a success in Harrisburg goes without saying.

Hon. James H. Coddling, congressman from this district, received a plurality of $761. His own county of Bradford gave a plurality of 5,323. There are no microbes in the old Willmot district.

THEY ALL SHOUTED. Susquehanna Republicans had a parade and general hurrah on Friday evening. Headed by an illuminated car, suitably plastered, several hundred men marched through the streets of Susquehanna and Oakland carrying colored lanterns, colored torches, cow bells, fish horns, etc. A prominent feature was furnished by the Susquehanna band and drum corps. Dwellings and business places were brightly illuminated, and the streets were filled with people.

"Oh, I am that brimful of gladness that I must let out a yell. And the reason for this feeling I will now proceed to tell: Perhaps my Mike will labor now. To keep the wolf away. Instead of talking money in the corner All the day!"

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS. An effort will be made this evening to organize a Young Men's Republican convention.

CARBONADO.

association in this place. The harvest appears to be ripe. Two members of the Church of the Latter Day Saints were here on Saturday, looking over the ground preparatory to holding a series of meetings.

A Herick man made a vow in September that he would let his hair grow until Bryan was elected President. A year or two hence he will make a dandy dime museum freak.

AND HE CROWS. Great Bend has a victim of surgical science. Two years ago, while working in a sawmill, Peter Morton was hit in the upper lip with a flying knot, hurled with terrific force by a circular saw. The sharp wood just scooped out almost the entire lip, and Peter was no longer a thing of beauty. They took him to New York, and the Bellevue Hospital surgeon grafted a piece of chicken skin upon the lip, and it knitted beautifully. Six months later he was in great good luck, feathers and Peter, given by his neighbors, tossed gently to see whether he should take to the woods or go into a dime museum. He split the difference and keeps the lip closely shaven. Peter has also developed a strange trait since the operation. The neighbors say that he crows at unseasonably hours of the morning, and echoes the clarion tones of the shantileer when he hens produce an egg. It is also rumored that Peter crows and lucks his grain and is raising spurs but such reports lack official verification. The case is attracting the attention of scientific men, and is not far distant when Peter Morton will no longer be a saw miller or a professor of oxmanship.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM. For some months this sentence has appeared at irregular intervals in the editorial columns of the Montrose Democrat: "The next president will be a Democrat." Brier Cruser should pull up his suspenders another notch and re-date his prophecy. His prophecy machine jumped a cog last week.

Just over in Broome county, at least one office-holder has a new administration with delight. He is postmaster with a salary of about $50 per year. For four years he has unsuccessfully tried to unload the office and has threatened to throw the entire outfit in the creek. Nobody will take the office, and the government will not make a change. The postmaster says that the office has worth about $200 worth of money and $75 worth of responsibility. He throws the mail into a tea chest, and the people here live a delusion and a snare.

THAT IS TO SAY-- A Susquehanna railroad man, who works hard for his money, but $300 on Bryan's election. Good money gone like water.

A Windsor man drew $75 out of a Binghamton bank and placed it in a cigar box for safe keeping. On Saturday the box was found, and the man made a nest of it. He now sits up nights, endeavoring to fit the pieces together. He says it beats the common puzzles all holes.

During the Republican parade on Friday evening, an old man, full of enthusiasm and beer, fired a revolver in the air. The bullet struck a horseman on the stomach, making a long surface scratch. The frightened horseman dropped to the ground, believing that he had been fatally wounded. The old man followed a wagon track to the woods.

Manager E. D. Lathrop, of the Carbonado Lender, is prominently mentioned in connection with the postmastership in Carbonado. He is in every way well equipped for the position and who is more deserving? The man who, through success and adversity, has won for his party, at the expense of time, talent and money, deserves some recognition and return when the plums are passed around. The Republican party is a great debtor to the plums and the land. In its hour of triumph let it show practical appreciation when appointments are made.

FOREST CITY.

The Hillside Coal and Iron company will pay their employees on Thursday. The program to be rendered at the Mendelssohn's concert on Saturday evening is as follows: Part I--Song, "Annie's Lullaby," by G. Mendelssohn; solo, "Arm, Arm, We Brave," Handel; Professor George Marks Evans; recitation, Miss Hughes; "Preludes," quartette, "Come Fairly Moonbeam," Thompson; Miss Hines and friends. Part 2--Part song, "Sons of the Sea," G. Marks Evans; Mendelssohn's song, "O! That Summer Smiles for Aye," Mr. Williams; recitation, Miss Lottie Reynolds; "Tell Me, My Heart," Bishop; Mrs. Ames; song, "Henry's Farewell," A. B. C. Hours' Car and party; "Because I Love You, Dear," Hawley; Mr. Williams; song, "The Brandt's Bride," Henry; Professor Evans; song, "Miss May Watkins," Mrs. Fraise; Mendelssohn's trio; song and chorus, "Columbia," D. D. Jenkins; Mr. Williams and Mendelssohn's. The price of admission to the concert will be 10, 20 and 50 cents.

The Enterprise House company will hold a fair at an early date. Invitations have been sent the ladies of the town soliciting their aid.

TAILORED. The election of McKinley has brought out many candidates for the post. There are already nine applicants for it, who are busy securing signatures to petitions for that place. One is Joseph Davis, the well-known Main street druggist. Another is H. J. Daniels, a prominent merchant of this place; another is David A. Williams, of Main street, and still another is H. J. Cooper, also of Main street. There are nine altogether. The office merely went begging for it meant a good deal of work and little pay, but the rapid growth of Taylor has increased the salary to a neat little sum, with office rent and clerk hire paid by the government.

Rev. and Mrs. A. F. Eastman, a family of Great Bend, are visiting the Davils family on Main street. Joseph Davis was in Forest City Monday on business.

Rev. Mr. Cockran, of Oakland, Pa., was a caller in town on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ganswiler, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Ganswiler, of Main street, have returned to their home in Weatherly.

To-morrow evening a social will be held at the M. E. church. Supper will be served for 10 cents.

Miss Mame Quinn, of Carbonado, visited friends in this place yesterday.

DEATH OF MRS. T. D. BRADLEY.

A Well-known and Respected Resident Dies in New York.

The mournful tidings of Mrs. T. D. Bradley's death was received yesterday. The funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Bradley was residing in the hospital at New York for a cancer, and for a short time she suffered a relapse and lingered until Sunday night.

Mrs. Bradley was born in Carbonado in 1824. Her husband, T. D. Bradley, well known as a jeweler in this city for many years.

For some ten years they had resided in Deland, Florida, but Mrs. Bradley was a frequent visitor at the home of her mother, on River street. She was held in high estimation for her beautiful character and winning manners. Her loss will be deeply felt by the many friends who have known her from childhood.

Besides her husband and mother, two sisters mourn her loss. Mrs. J. R. Lacy, of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Mrs. N. P. Gales, of New York.

Her only brother, James J. Davis, died just two years ago, his death having occurred on the same date as her's. His remains will be interred in Mt. Wood cemetery.

Meeting of the School Board.

All the directors of the school board were present at the regular meeting on Monday evening. Miss Lydia Morrison was unanimously elected as an assistant teacher for the primary room of School No. 7, and the salary fixed at $20. The salary of Miss Anna G. Gorton, principal of No. 4, was fixed at $30; that of Miss Amelia Penkert, principal of No. 1, $45; Miss Janet Bryden, principal of No. 2, $25; and Miss Annie Gerrity, $25. The report of the revision of studies committee was made by Mr. Colville. An extension of time was asked for the report on the investigation of the different systems of photography and to learn of a suitable instructor.

Maggie Clue at the Opera House.

Maggie Clue and her new play, "On Broadway," will be seen at the Grand Opera house on Friday evening, November 13. The drama will open this morning at 9 o'clock, and the prospect is that there will be a big house, as the manager of the opera house has received letters from the Lamplite mine and Archbold and Forest City to reserve seats for them. The story of the play deals with life in New York City, and the title, "On Broadway," is very apt. The fact that most of the scenes are laid in and about that great thoroughfare. Miss Clue is said to have a part exactly suited to her abilities. The play will have the honor of one of the largest and most expensive companies traveling.

The Helping Hand Guild.

The young people belonging to this new association met last evening at the home of Miss Olive Tracy, and their reports were read. During the week ten sick persons had been visited by the members. The guild has also been active in Sunday school efforts of various kinds. The members are active and earnest in their efforts.

Death of Louise Garney.

Louise, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Garney, died Monday evening at 10 o'clock, of pneumonia. She was not considered seriously ill until Sunday, and her sudden demise was a surprise to all her friends. She was a bright, affectionate child, and a favorite with all who knew her. Her funeral will take place to-day at 3 p. m., and the interment will be in St. Rose cemetery.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL NOTES.

Miss Olivia Hening and Mrs. Walter Seury will conduct an entertainment in the lecture room of the Methodist church on Monday evening. It is for the benefit of the young lady workers. George L. Darte, of Wilkes-Barre, will assist.

The Avoca Hose company will tender their friends a social at Herbert's hall on Tuesday evening, Nov. 17.

On Saturday afternoon, while Mary, the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McFarlane, was playing about a fire, which the children had kindled in a stove, the children's hair became ignited, and before her companions realized the danger, the child was enveloped in a mass of flames and would undoubtedly have perished had it not been for Mr. Major, who happened along. Instantly tearing the clothes from her back and arms were literally roasted and other parts of her body badly blistered. Dr. J. J. Doherty attended to her injuries, and succeeded in alleviating her sufferings.

Monday morning, while Peter Hooton, engineer of a small locomotive plying the line between Avoca and Stone, was overcome with the fumes of sulphur emitted from the engine, which is almost entirely enclosed, having little ventilation. He was removed to his home and restoratives applied, which, after a time, restored him to consciousness. His injuries are not serious.

The Ladies' auxiliary of the St. Aloysius society will effect a permanent organization this evening. There will be about thirty-five members.

Rev. A. J. Wesley preached an eloquent farwell sermon to the members of his congregation on Sunday morning at the Avoca church. He was requested to assume charge of the Presbyterian at Tyrone. His many friends in this town wish him success.

The Ladies' auxiliary will take charge of the booths at the Starfield fair, to be held during the Christmas holidays; American booth--Mrs. F. A. Beaman, Mrs. P. J. Boyle and Mrs. Jackson; M. F. McDonald and Misses Louisa Shannon and Margaret McCormack; Cuban booth, Misses Jennie Wilson, Mrs. D. C. Moore and Mrs. J. Moore; Mexican booth, Mrs. J. Moore and Misses Kate Demsey; candy booth, Mary Brethony, B. Reap and Kate Davidson; and bicycle contest, Mrs. M. E. Dixon and Nellie Moore.

William Watson, a former well-known resident of the North End, and at present engaged in mission work in New York city, under the Hadley mission, will address the members of the Methodist church at 4 o'clock at the Avoca church on next Sunday.

The Daughters of St. George will meet in regular session this evening.

offices, or factories, are peculiarly liable to female diseases, especially those who are constantly on their feet. Often they are unable to perform their duties, their suffering is so intense.

When the first symptoms present themselves, such as backache, pains in groins, headache, dizziness, faintness, swollen feet, blues, etc., they should at once write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., stating symptoms; she will tell them exactly what to do, and in the meantime they will find prompt relief in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which can be obtained from any druggist.

"MY DEAR MRS. PINKHAM--I am so grateful to you for what your Compound has done for me. For four years I suffered such pains from ovarian trouble, which caused dreadful weakness of the limbs, tenderness and burning pain in the groins, pain when standing or walking, and increased pain during menstruation, headache and leucorrhoea. I weighed only 92 pounds, and was advised to use your Vegetable Compound, which I did. I felt the benefit before I had taken all of one bottle. I continued using it, and it has entirely cured me. I have not been troubled with leucorrhoea for months, and now I weigh 115 pounds."--LILLIE HARTSON, Flushing, Genesee Co., Michigan, Box 69.
