In his petition for the rule Senator McDonald stated that when the firm of Gilmore & Duffy dissolved partner-ship the accounts were taken by Mr. Gilmore and Mr. Duffy gave him a note for $6,000 to guarantee that he would share the loss, if after the collections were made any loss should be shown. The petition goes on to say that Mr. Gilmore has executed on the note wishout showing that the firm is a loser, and further avers that Mr. Gilmore has repeatedly refused to make a statement of his collections, which the petition states will, to the best of his

CITY COAL BIDS CAUSE A SQUABBLE

Fighting Minority Couldn't Prevent the Award to James Kearney.

IT DELAYED THE COUNCIL MEETING

Both Braches in Session -- Mr. Wagner's Portico Ordinanec -- The New Abington Turupike in Sight .- Mr. Oliver Resurects His West Lackawanna Avenue Viaduet Ordinance

A common council ordinance for widening Rock street passed two readings. Improvements Considered.

Each branch of councils met last night, and in the common body the meeting developed several measures of importance and one period of liveliness. The latter was in connection with the award of contracts for furnishing coal for the fire company quarters and po-lice stations. Every commoner was in

Contrary to expectations the fire de partment committee made no report on the resolution of select council awarding the coal contract to James Kearney. His bid was $2.60 cents per ton for egg, chestnut and stove coal and $1.60 for pea coal. The bids of Devine & McGuire were $2.50 for egg, chestnut and stove coal, $1.68 for pea coal and $9 cents for buckwheat. The select council resolution was adopted last week but since then their had been considerable lobbying in the interest of Devine & McGuire.

Mr. Seamans, of the Thirteenth, urged some kind of a report from the committee and suggested that while it was being prepared, a recess be taken. Chairman Noone and Mr. Moir of the committee, pleaded time but a report was requested. The committee retired and were absent about fifteen minutes, sounds of loud argument coming in the sounds of loud argument coming in the interim from the retiring room. Mr. Zeidler, who had been requested by President Grier to occupy the chair, had his troubles in trying to keep order in the council chamber during the committees wrangle.

TWO REPORTS PRESENTED. TWO REPORTS PRESENTED.

Members Moir, Wenzel and Thomas, of the committee, finally appeared with a majority report approving select council's resolution and the Kearney bid; Chairman Noone and Mr. Gordon presented a minority report favoring the bid of Devine & Maguire.

Mr. Seamans made a motion, seconded by Mr. Keller, that the majority report be adopted and Mr. Grier a motion that the minority report be adopted.

that the minority report be adopted.
Mr. Keller and Mr. Grier each claimed the privileges of the floor. The minority motion was put and lost by the

During the progress of the parliamentary fight, Mr. Grier was most active in advocating the cause of the minorityites, but failed to convince the majority men that the Devine & McGuire bids were, in substance, as low as the one of Kearney.

Mr. Oliver revived his Lackawanna avenue viaduet ordinance which last year was presented in the select branch. It appeared in its identical form, was read and, on motion of its father, referred without debate, to the committee on streets and bridges.

INCREASE OF DERT.

INCREASE OF DEBT.

The ordinance provides for "increasing the city debt for the purpose of procuring land for, and constructing a viaduct parallel with West Lackawan-na avenue from Seventh street to Ninth street, and submitting the question of such increase to a vote of the electors thereof." The ordinance indicates that the properties contiguous to the southand that the city issue bonds to the amount of $150,000 to cover the cost. The proposition of William Streator and Norman Leech, two influential farmers, to provide for $1,500 an alternative turnpike to South Abington was thought to have disappeared in an or-dinance covering the matter and which was referred several weeks ago to committee. The ordinance was reported favorably last hight and passed two readings but with an amendment suggested by the city solicitor. The amendment stipulates that before payment of the $1,500 by the city the work shall have been passed upon by the street commissioner, and that the city solicitor shall have certified that the property has been properly dedi-cated to the city.

Mr. Nealis introduced a resolution. which was passed, reminding the clerks of councils that they should enforce the rule which provides that papers on passage shall not be taken from the committee boxes or from the posses-sion of the clerks, except for the purose of immediate examination.

Nealis explained that the measure was no criticism of the clerks but was for the purpose of abolishing a custom that had caused annoyance and trouble because of the absence of current papers when they were most wanted. Before adjournment a number of neasures of minor importance passed third and first and second readings.

IN SELECT COUNCIL.

Ordinance in Relation to the Portice Nuisance Introduced.

the absence of President Sander-M: Manley was chosen to preside over what proved to be a very brief session of select council, and one de-void of particular interest, except in relation to a portico ordinance intro-duced by Mr. Wagner.

The ordinance provides for the issu-ing of permits for portico construction under certain conditions. The words "porte cochere" signifying a covered carriage entrance also annear in the carriage entrance, also appear in the measure. According to its provisions, portices may be erected in front of the entrances of churches, theaters and hotels, provided in the latter case that the hotel shall have a street frontage of at least fifty feet, and that it shall contain not less than one hundred sleeping rooms for guests; in any case the portico shall not occupy a width of over thirty feet, and must not be higher than the window sill of the story above the street. Mulligan, at $1.54 per lineal foot.

Common Council ordinances passes third reading as follows: Providing for a culvert over Leech creek on Bloom avenue, Third ward, providing for flagstone walks and gutters on certain streets in the Sixth ward. Action had been taken on a number of minor matters before an early adjournment at 8.45 o'clock.

AMUSEMENTS.

Isham's "Octoroons," properly called "The Only One," will appear at the Academy of Music Friday and Saturday, giving a special matinee Saturday, and presenting an entertainment which will delight and astonish the most critical andience. The programme on cal audience. The programme em-braces a number of clever and original sketches, singing, tively dances and sketches, singing, lively dances and amusing novelties. Among the excel-ient artists, Madame Flower, the ac-knowledged leading singer of high-grade opera of her race, heads the list of Southern stars; Furber and May, the great merriment creators; the Mal-lory Brothers, Mattie Wilkes, the Hyer Sisters, Tom Brown, Fred J. Piper, the silver-toned baritone; Johnson and May, and others equal in merit.

To-morrow evening brings to the To-morrow evening brings to the Frothingham one of the most famous Irish comediennes, Maggie Cline, who will be seen in the latest and most important dramatic novelty of the season, "On Broadway." Familiar scenes and incidents and events of the present are perhaps as bopular with the average theater-goers as anything that the theater-goers as anything that the dramatist can put into a play. This undoubtedly has much to do with the success of "On Broadway," the new play that Clay M. Green and Ben Teal wrote and staged for Maggie Cline. The part given her was one that many brave women are acting and doing on the stage of life to-day, the over-coming difficulties brought on by the neglect—and worse—of men; and in the glect-and worse-of men; and in the role of Mary Brady, Maggie Cline carries out the work of restoring her father's credit and business in the midst of scenes that are familiar to more Americans than any other parts of the world, the places that are recognized as being typical of New York and New York life.

Very few farce comedies live to see the age which is resting upon the shoulders of "A Pair of Jacks," which comes to the Frothingham next Thurs-day evening. "A Pair of Jacks" is one of the best efforts of an exceedingly bright writer, but like all farce comedies it requires the services of bright and it requires the services of bright and clever people to make it thoroughly en-joyable. This fact Messrs. Rich and joyable. This fact Messrs. Rich and Maeder recognized in selecting this season's company, and the result is, there are but few attractions of a like nature that excel it.

At the Academy of Music next Mon-da yevening a grand scenic production of "Richard III" will be given. A special car load of new scenery from the studio of the well known artist. Thomas G. Moses, being used in the staging of the tragedy. Mr. Griffith has in a measure broken down the bar-riers of tradition, giving an original riers of tradition, giving an original conception of the character, and intro-ducing some new and startling ideas,

MORE PAVE FOR CLAY AVENUE.

Wanted for Its North Extension b New Property Owners.

A continuous asphalt pavement or Clay avenue to the Dunmore line is wanted by many of the property own-ers on that thoroughfare. Asphalt is now laid as far as Pine street and if the street was paved on the four blocks between Pine and Poplar streets, there would be from that point a continuous stretch of artificial roadbed into the stretch of artificial roadbed into the heart of the city.

Up to a year ago only a few residences were on Clay avenue north of Pine street. Beyond that point there was no regularity of street intersections, the avenue itself was not graded and very little of the hordering lead nance is from $50 to $100. It was re-ferred for printing.

A resolution was introduced by Mr. Iron and Coal company to desirable purchasers. These people are, many purchasers. These beopte are, many of them, anxious for a pavement and it is not improbable that a petition for one will be presented to councils during the winter and an ordinance passed before spring.

Clay avenue, as it skirts the hill back of and beyond the Moses Taylor hospital is one of the most sightly, healthful and breezy residence streets imaginable. Cityward, it is already lined with the homes of web-to-do families, but these will not as a whole equal some that are seen to be completed on the newly opened part of the avenue. If the present paving plan matures, Clay avenue will have been paved its entire length.

THE JURY BELIEVED THERE WAS FRAUD

Davidson & Cohen's Methods Do Not Stand the Test of Law.

Judge Edwards Makes a Very Pointed Chargess Directed the Jury to Find for the Plaintiff if They Believed Fraud Had Been Perpetrated; and They Found for the Plaintiff -- Echo of the Polish Church Troubles. Other Court Matters.

After only half an hour's deliberation the jury in the case of the Logan Mauufacturing company against B. Josephand others judgment creditors of defunct furniture firm of Davidson & Cohen, brought in a verdict for the plaintiff. This gives to the Logan company possession of $1,600 worth of furniture seized by the execution creditors and incidentally affirms the con-tention of the plaintiff that Davidson & Cohen made fraudulent representations is order to secure credit.

The case was on trial all day Wednesday and was not given to the Wednesday and was not given to the jury until nearly 4 o'clock yesterday. D. Mendelssohn and B. Josephson were the principal witnesses heard during the morning. Their testimony was to establish that they had actually advanced mone; to Daydson & Cohen and refute the contention of the plaintiff that they were not bona fide creditors.

A mild sensation was created dur-ing the morning when one of the wit-nesses, B. Josephson, refused to answer the question of Mr. O'Malley, one of the attorners for the plaintiff, al-leging that the attorney had assaulted him at his store, shortly after the sheriff's sale, because he refused to allow Mr. O'Malley to see the goods. He had a grudge against Mr. O'Mal-ley, and he would prefer not to speak to him. Court declined to consult the witness' preferences and directed that he answer counsel's questions. Josephson sullenly complied.

JUDGE EDWARDS CHARGE. Judge Edwards made an exhaustive and painstaking review of the case in his charge to the jury, and told them that the principal thing for them to determine was whether or not the defendants had been guilty of making false representations in order to secure credit. If, in their opinions, fraud has been prepetrated, they should, he said, find for the plaintiff. They found for the plaintiff.

By agreement of the attorneys a ver-dict for the defendant was taken in the case of Frank Bonin and others against D. A. Boone & Co. The plain-tiffs are trustees of the Polish Catholie church, over which Rev. Richard Aust recently held pastoral sway. The defendant is a Baltimore firm to which the ex-pastor was indebted for certain supplies. When Father Aust was de-posed from the pastorate of the church the Baltimore people seized upon his houses, household goods and the like, and proceeded to sell them. The trus-tees of the church laid claim to the goods, alleging that they belonged to the congregation, and not the pastor. and brought proceedings to prove this. The amicable adjustment of the case was effected by the congregation settling with the Baltimore firm for the

The defendant was a possible of the principles of fense puts in the plea that Mrs. Pritch-ard signed her name to the note in ignorance of its real character and further avers that at all events a wife can not give a note on her property in payment of her husband's debts.

MEETING OF ENGINEERS' CLUB.

Number of Interesting Matters Considered Last Night. An interesting monthly meeting of the Scranton Engineers' club was held last night. Captain W. A. May presided. The club is about to move into its new quarters in the board of trade building, and A. H. Storrs was authorized to carry out the plans for furnishing as proposed by his committee.

A. D. Blackington brought up the matter of establishing a bench mark in Scranton. A bench mark is a stone or a post or any object located at a given point, say on the court house square or some central point, from which to measure altitudes, A committee consisting of James Archbald. Mr. Blackington and Montrose Barnard, was appointed to take the matter

The question of establishing a true meridian for Scranton was discussed, and a committee consisting of A. B. Dunning, Jr., A. H. Storrs and C. C. Rose was appointed to confer with the county commissioners with regard to the matter.

The business session was followed by a paper on "India and Her Rallways." by James Churchward, C. E., of New by James Churchward, C. E., of New York. He had many years' experience in Southern Asia and was competent to treat the subject. He did not draw any comparisons between the railways of this country and India, except what was contained in the statement that they are built very cheap. The labor there is very cheap and the government soldiers are put to work building the railroads instead of loading around the barracks. All the great railway lines of India converge at the narrow pass in the Himalaya mountains; so that in case of wor the armies can be massed at that point, and can control the movements of invading forces. Mr. Church-ward spoke of the effect that the free coinage of silver has on the life of trade in India, and from his description of it the American people can congratulate themselves on escaping woes that follow in its trail.

NEW FIRE COMPANY QUARTERS.

The Nay Aug's New Building Was Inspected Yesterday.

Tho new building on Franklin avenue that is to be the home of Nay Aug Engine company was inspected yesterday afternoon by city officials others who indirectly and directly had to do with its erection. In the party were: Mayor Bailey, Architects Brown & Morris, Builder E. S. Thomas, of common council's fire department committee The building, without furnishings or equipment (excepting automatic fastenings, stalls, sliding poles, lavatory, lockers, etc.) cost $19,260, which in-cludes the $19,000 paid for the lot. It is in every particular a modern fire company quarters and was planned from observations made by Architect Brown and Mr. Durr in New York city, and other places visited for that purpose. The structure is 30x60 feet in

In the basement of the building is a In the basement of the large drying rack of approved pattern. The street floor is an open space roomy enough for an engine, hose cart and enough for an engine, hose cart and enough for an engine, hose cart and chief's buggy. In the rear are four stalls, hay and grain chutes and toilet. The bunk room and reading and meet-ing room are on the second floor, which contains two bath rooms, a shower bath, marble wash-basins, lockers and a hay, straw and grain loft. In the third and upper story is a high and roomy space that will be utilized for a gymnasium. The building is equipped with four sliding poles. Councils have not consented to furnish the building, though the city will, course, equip it with everything in e line of apparatus and fixings. The VERDICT REACHED IN HALF AN HOUR the line of apparatus and fixings. The Nay Aug company will signalize the opening of the building by a large

Case of William Warner.

Editor of The Tribune.

Str:-1 am informed that William Warner, the poor fellow who went violently crazy at Mount Pocono and was brought to the Scranton station house, was left in the cell into which he was thrust on arrival in this city, from Saturday morning till Tuesday without medical attendance, or, in fact, without any help.

If this is 20, I don't wonder that the poor fellow tore out the water pipes, etc. Who is resumsible for such neglect of a sufferer? It seems to me the first thing to be done in such a case would be to call in a physician. This evidently is a case for official inquiry. I hope whoever is responsible for the neglect will have the matter brought home to them.
