TROUBLES OF LOVING COUPLES.

They Experience Some Difficulty in Getting the Knot Tied.

Fate, or what is quite as inexorable stringent marriage laws, seem determined to prevent or at least delay the marriage of a loving young Binghamton couple. The man is Delbert A. Wakefield and the woman, Emily B. Davis, They tried to get married in Binghamton but the fact that on Oct. 2, 1894, he was divorced in Towanda, this state, and that Pennsylvania divorces are not recognized in York state made their effort futile.

Upon encountering this impediment, they were not at all discouraged, but jumping aboard a train came to this city, expecting to have casy sailing. But they had not studied the Pennsyl-But they had not studied the Fernsyl-vania laws either and to their great chagrin were refused a license because the girl was only 19 years of age. They didn't swear, but hustling out of the office headed towards the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western station in-tent on trying their luck in New Jersey where they were informed the only qualifications for marriage are the de-sire and the possession of the where-withal to fee the nuptial knot tler.

Another couple around whose mar-riage was just a dim halo of romance were James Curley, aged 26, of Ply-mouth and Mrs. Agnes Goarden, a wid-ow of twenty-eight summers, of Ridge-mondale, Luzerne county, They got out a license in Clerk Thomas' office and impatiently hastened down to Al-derman Millar where they were made derman Millar where they were made

Just after they had left in came William Swackhamer, aged twenty-three, of Canaan, and Hattie Weed, aged twenty-two, of Waymart, who also seemed to be in a hurry for they no scener got the license than they were off to the parsonage of Holy Trinity Lutheran church, where Rev. E. L. Miller yoked them. Mr. and Mrs. Swackhamer then returned to Waymart.

Michael Timlin and Mrs. Bridget O'Donnell, another widow, were joined in wedlock by Alderman Millar yesterday afternoon. They are both Scran-

EVIDENCE AGAINST THEM.

Four Scranton Young Men Fare Badly in the Luzerne Court.

There does not appear to be much hope for the gang of Scranton young men, Louis Brown, Frank Mangan, Michael Judge and William Miller, who have been on trial at wilkes-Barre for robbing stores in Pittston on the night of October 8. The case was finished at the close of court yesterday afternoon, and the jury given instructions to seal a verdict for presentation in court this morning. The evidence presented by the common-wealth was direct, and pointed conclus-ively to the guilt of the accused. No aluable testimony was offered in their defense. THE THIRD VICTIM.
