ARMY MATTERS.

It was announced a few days ago that the Salvationists would observe next week as a "salf-denial week." Among the army people throughout the United States great preparation for the event are being made. In a letter sent to The Tribune office the undersigned says that "they evidently intend this year's collection to far exceed last year's. The amount collected during past self-denial weeks in the United States have been continually increasing, and there are many reasons for believing that this year's effort will exceed any former one. We learn that many of the officers and soldiers have actually determined to live on bread and water in order to raise more money and reach the goal aimed at. Soldiers have "told off" to visit from house to house and solicit contributions. In other places members of the army's brass band have arranged to serenade, and by this means raise something toward the target.

PAPERS NOT YET SIGNED.

There was a meeting last night of the directors of the West Side hospital association. It was held in the directors' room of the West Side bank. All the association needs now is time. They are waiting for the owners of the Phillips property to bring forward the papers for the transfer of the building on Jackson street. This should have been done before Nov. 1, but, though the hospital people say they were ready, the papers were not presented.

SCRANTON TRIBUNE.

GREEN RIDGE.

Mrs. and Mr. Walter Larnard, of Albright avenue, are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a boy baby.

Mrs. Wint, of East Market street, has returned from New York City, where she spent several weeks visiting relatives.

Alderman Bailey, at the instance of Samuel Simpson, colored, issued an attachment for the wages of Julius Hopewell, an employe of Dunn Brothers, to recover a $20 board bill. Constable Black went to Dunn's asphalt plant, near the Dickson boiler shop and read the document to Hopewell, four other colored men looking on from the the top of a gondla. Hopewell got angry after the warrant was read, and turning to his companions on the car, he said: "Dat's wot yo get for being a good fellow." "Dat's so," murmured one of his friends, colsolingly, "and you helped dat man Simpson out of trouble, too." "Yes," replied Hopewell, "helped him out of trouble; got him de money and helped him out of de scrape, and you see wot he's gone and done." "But, whispered Hopewell, who hails from Alabama, "yo kin 'spect nothin' else from dese Pennsylvania folks." The case has been made returnable next Thursday afternoon.

WOMEN SHOULDN'T VOTE.

So Decided the Scranton Business College Lyceum Last Night.

At the regular meeting of the Scranton Business College lyceum held last night at the college hall, a debate took place on the question: "Resolved, that all women should vote." John F. McDonough and James Brogan were on the affirmative and Harry Atherton Smith and Anastasia Clifford on the negative. The debate was won by the negative side.

After the debate the following programme was rendered: Piano solo, Susie C. Tierney; reading, Mayme Ward; vocal solo, Mae Brown; comic recitation, G. Edward Mitter; piano solo, Nellie F. Lynch.

It was decided not to hold a meeting on the Friday evening, following Thanksgiving day.

NEW ENGLAND SOCIETY HAS A GOOD RECORD

Organized in 1887, Its Tenth Banquet Is Now Approaching.

ITS HISTORY FOR TEN YEARS

List of Notable Presidents Comprise W. R. Storrs, E. N. Willard, W. T. Smith, J. A. Lansing, James H. Torrey, W. W. Watson, C. H. Pond, Theodore Strong, of Pittston, and E. B. Sturges--This Year's Celebration of Forefathers' Day Will Eclipse All Former Feasts.

The approaching banquet of the New England society of Northeastern Pennsylvania brings forth agreeable anticipations of one of Scranton's most assured annual events, and one that brings together a distinguished assemblage of prominent men from this section of the State. From year to year these feasts to perpetuate the patriotic memory of Forefather's Day and the landing of the Pilgrims have become more popular. The numbers in attendance increased until last year ninety-one persons sat about the board at the Hotel Terrace. Indications point that this year's gathering will number 110 or more.

The preliminary organization of the society took place December 6, 1887, in the arbitration room of the court house. J. L. Post was chairman, and J. Alton Davis secretary. E. B. Sturges, J. H. Torrey, George Sanderson, and Arthur Scranton were appointed a committee on organization, with power to report a list of officers, and fixing the qualifications of members." Besides those mentioned there were present at the meeting: Alfred Hand, S. B. Mott, O. B. Wright, A. C. Fuller, George Sanderson, G. W. Bushnell, W. H. Freeman, A. G. Gilmore, H. E. Paine, Rev. O. P. Wright, S. D. Davis, C. L. Hawley and I. A. Finch.

PERMANENTLY ORGANIZED.

Four days later at the same place a permanent organization was effected according to the recommendations embodied in the report of the committee. W. R. Storrs was made president, E. N. Willard, vice-president; J. Alton Davis, secretary, and Arthur Scranton, treasurer. The minutes show that all who were present at the election and the meeting preceding were constituted charter members, but the minutes are faulty in not giving the names of those present at the second meeting. It is shown, however, that Colonel H. M. Boies, Major Everett Warren, and Thomas Sprague were the first to be formally elected members.

Those elected members at the next meeting, on December 19, were J. M. Chittenden, Dr. W. E. Allen, S. P. Hull, George H. Catlin, W. J. Hand, F. B. McGowan, Dr. L. M. Gates, Rev. George E. Guild, E. S. Jackson, H. E. Hand, E. J. McDonald, T. J. Torrey, J. L. Hull, C. H. Pond, Isaac Post, and F. B. Foote. From sources other than the minutes it has been ascertained that in addition to the names already mentioned, the following were members of the society at the time of the first banquet, December 22, 1887, at the Wyoming House: W. F. Smith, E. H. Ripple, Dr. B. H. Throop, J. H. Fisher, Charles H. Welles, Arthur Frothingham.

The second banquet was on Friday, December 21, 1888, at the Westminster Hotel. E. N. Willard was then president; W. T. Smith, vice-president; Arthur Scranton, treasurer, and J. Alton Davis, secretary. Robert J. Burdette, "The Burlington Hawkeye Man," was to have responded to the toast, "Folks Who Ought to Have Been New Englanders," but sickness prevented his attendance. Treasurer Scranton and Secretary Davis continued in once for several years, A. C. Fuller, the present treasurer, succeeding Mr. Scranton in 1892, and J. Harry Fisher, the present secretary, being elected in 1894.

THE ARCADE BANQUET.

In 1889 the officers of the preceding year were elected and the banquet was held in the Frothingham Arcade on December 20, when it was decided to extend the privileges of membership to residents of Susquehannt, Wayne and Luzerne counties.

William T. Smith became president, and J. A. Lansing, vice-president, in 1890, when the banquet was held on Monday, December 22, at the Scranton Bicycle club house. At that banquet, for the first time, members were allowed the attendance of one guest each, and the cost of their tickets was placed at $3.50 each, irrespective of the actual cost per plate, which has always been over $4. This year guest tickets will cost $5 each, and each member will be allowed to bring as many guests as he chooses, according to a resolution adopted in 1891.

J. A. Lansing succeeded to the presidency in 1891, and James H. Torrey became vice-president. In that year the banquet was held in the Scranton Bicycle club house, and the privileges of membership were made open to residents of Lackawanna, Luzerne, Susquehanna, Monroe, Wyoming and Wayne counties.

Archbishop Ryan was present at the sixth annual spread, which took place December 22, 1892, in the Scranton Bicycle club house. In that year Mr. Torrey became president, and W. W. Watson was elected vice-president.

GEN. HASTINGS A GUEST.

General D. H. Hastings, who had not then been elected governor, and Galusha A. Grow were the society's guests at the seventh annual banquet, held in 1893, at the Westminster Hotel. In that year W. W. Watson was elected president, and C. H. Pond, vice-president.

At the Hotel Terrace on Friday evening, December, 21, 1894, the banquet was held. C. H. Pond was then president, and Theodore Strong, of Pittston, vice-president. Mr. Strong was the first from outside of Scranton to be chosen an officer.

The 1895 banquet was also held at the Hotel Terrace. Theodore Strong was then president, and E. B. Sturges vice-president.

This year the tenth banquet will take place. Mr. Sturges is now president and Major Everett Warren vice-president. While none of the details, the speakers, nor the place have been decided upon, the plans will be made by the president and an entertainment committee selected by him. The proposed arrangements will be approved by a meeting to be held subject to the president's call. There is a belief that the Hotel Jermyn will be the place selected for the annual feast on this Forefather's Day, which falls on Tuesday, December 22.

TAKING A FRESH START.

After Five Years a Couple Secure a Second Marriage License

Peter Basalyga is a storekeeper up in Jessup. Mary Waraslcka is his clerk. He is 29 and well-to-do. She is twenty-three, pretty and well educated. October 5, 1891, just five years ago, they procured a marriage license from Clerk of the Courts Thomas. It was remarked numerous times by the clerks in the office in going over the license dockets that there was no marriage return on this particular license and they were at a loss to understand it. The mystery, however, has been cleared up. There had been no return because there had been no marriage.

Basalyga yesterday came to the clerk's office and asked for a copy of the license saying that he had lost the original and was now desirous of making use of such a document.

Clerk Bonn figured out that during the interim of five years some impediment might have arisen and declined to issue a duplicate. Mr. Basalyga thereupon went back home and secured his fiancee and returning on an afternoon train took out a new license.

RECEPTION AT DUNMORE.

Tendered to the Members of the '96 Reception Committee.

A reception was tendered to the reception committee of the '96 Christian Endeavorer convention last night in the Dunmore Presbyterian church. Representatives from all the Christian Endeavor societies in Scranton were present, numbering about seventy-five. The church was profusely decorated with Christian Endeavor flags and colors.

The meeting was presided over by L. M. Smith, president of the Dunmore society. Addresses were made by Rev. W. F. Gibbons, George Mahy, and Rev. George Guild, of Providence.

Rev. Mr. Gibbons made the introductory speech. Mr. Mahy spoke of "Personal Effort," and of the duty of each Christian Endeavorer. His words were full of encouragement. Rev. Mr. Guild, in his remarks, spoke of the earnestness which every one should possess. He said they should awake to a full realization of their individual responsibility and duty, and be filled with a Christian earnestness to enable them to carry on their noble work. Spirited Christian Endeavor songs and hymns were sung, and a most enjoyable and profitable evening spent.

The refreshments were served by the social and reception committee of the Dunmore Presbyterian church.

IN POLICE COURT.

Mayor Bailey held police court yesterday morning and dealt out justice to offenders arrested during the night. William Igol, who threatened to break the head of the bartender at Rosenberg's hotel, on Penn avenue, with a brick, was fined $3, and he paid it.

William F. Morgan, of the West Side, was fined $3, and he paid it, for being drunk and insulting women on a street car. William C. Smith, a fakir, hailing from New Jersey, arrested for begging money from passers by on Lackawanna avenue, was fined $3.

John Ward and Patrick Larkin, of Dunmore, were arrested for refusing to pay for oysters they ordered in Kaufman's restaurant on Lackawanna avenue, and they promised to pay their fines next week.

Best Nourishment for Consumptives.

Consumptive persons are said to be greatly benefited by the use of Speer's Port Grape Wine, both Fermented and Unfermented. It seems to give nourishment when everything else fails. The rich properties of the wine derived from the iron in the soil on which the grapes grow makes new blood and if it does not cure, we believe it prolongs life in many cases of consumption. In fact, cases have been reported of perfect cures being affected by the use of Speer's Port Wine.
