Susquehanna, Nov. 17 .-- Tom Rockwell, Susquehanna, county's famous hunter, has just arrived home from the Williamsport section, full of stories of his experience. He says: "One day, when on my way from town to our hunting camp, my horse was well load-ed with flour, bacon and other stuff, and I had my ritle lying across the flour sack in front of me. My horse seemed to be dreaming, as I was, when seemen to be dreaming, as I was, sate out of the brush in front of our path walked a great black bear. My horse gave a snort and wheeled like a flash throwing me into the brush as he de-parted down the gorge as if all the bears in the country were at his hecks. I had no revolver and my rifle was I had no revolver and my rifle was traveling down the mountain. My knowledge of bears is somewhat limitknowledge of bears is somewhat limit-ed, and that particular time I was not anxious for any new acquaintance in that line, but not so the bear. He seemed to regard me with a friendly eye, for he boldly advanced, while I made for a tree will all the speed that my legs were capable of. The bear wanted to keep me company, for he got to the foot of the tree that I had gained a limb about six feet from the ground. The tree was just about small enough for the fellow to climb, and he tried his claws on the bark as high as he could reach. I was in a bad fix and with no way to help myself. I had no knife, but good luck and happy thought helped me. I had a canteen of keromileage book is to come in vogue again. What the public wants is a general rate of two cents a mile, good for evmemory! knife, but good luck and happy thought helped me. I had a canteen of kero-scene oil suspended around my back, which I though would make his eyes smart and drive him away. The oil had no effect on his eyes, if it man-aged to get in them, for the miserable brute continued to look at me and seemed to grin. Then another idea oc-curred to me. I had a fresh box of matches, and if I could set fire to the oil that I noured over the hear's head not necessary for you to stand up and howl every time you see a factory start-ing up. Nobody will blame you for the the battle was won. I made several attempts to drop burning matches on the oily hair of the bear, but the luci-fers either went out or missed the mark. I had no paper, but I managed to tear a place of the liner out of my new order of things. The advance agent is now handing around passes to his prosperity show. Tom Watson desires it distinctly un-derstood that he doesn't care whether to tear a plece of the lining out of my vest, and, getting a limb almost three feet long, fastened the rag to it, set fire to the rag, and with more satisfac-Mr. Sewall gets off the ticket or not. tion than I ever did anything before, lowered the burning rag at the end of In North Jackson, a lad named Barrett, on his way home from school, killed a large snake with a club. In about one second I was enjoying all the fun to myself and the other fellow was in trouble. The oil instantly took fire, and the blaze from the burning hair was something good for one in my fire, and the blaze from the burning hair was something good for one in my place to gaze at. The animal was sur-prised beyond the limit of any bear's imagination. One howl of pain, then work. The Great Bend Plain Dealer understands that quite a success is being made in that place with a new system of tanning. This is not a graded school up went the paws to rub the burning head, to get burned for their trouble, followed by another howl; then down followed by another howl; then down went the nose into the dirt, but no re-lief, when with a terrible howl the bear made a rush through the brush and up the mountain out of sight. a Mistress. New York, Nov. 17.—Eugene Briand, aged 36 years, head cook on the French liner La Touraine; Louise Du-bois, his wife, and Peter Masso were in police court today, charged with abducting Angelica Le Saint, aged 21, of Havre, France. Briand said that Masso had nego-tlated with him to bring over a hand-some young girl with him, paying him the amount of her steerage. Briand was to pretend that he had a place as nurse girl at a large salary. The cook was to pretend that he had a place as nurse girl at a large salary. The cook knew of the Le Saint girl in Havre, and she consented to come with him. On the La Touraine's arirval Masso went to the immigration bureau and in-quired for Le Saint. The girl was turned over to Masso's care. She was not long in assorbing that she had not long in ascertaining that she had been deceived, and she availed herself of the first opportunity to escape. The magistrate referred the case to the commissioners of immigration.

HOME HAPPENINGS.

In St. John's Catholic church on Sun-Lanesboro Republicans painted the little borough a bright crimson hue on Saturday evening. The Oakland Ku Klux Klan is still day, final announcement was made of the approaching marriage of Mr. Pat-rick Griffin and Miss Sarah Hatton.

The Oakland Ku Klux Klan is still wandering over these humped and huddling hills, with no man to molest or make it afraid. After a prolonged illness, Mrs. Mich-ael Callahan, an esteemed resident, died last evening. After a prolonged illness, Mrs. Mich-ael Callahan, an esteemed resident, died last evening.

A friend in Cleveland yesterday sent Postmaster Ryan two turtles, a large and a small one. The large one was labelled "McKinley," the small one "Bryan."

The smoke of battle has hardly cleared away ere sundry self-sacrific-ing Susquehanna patriots make a mad rush to secure the postmastership, and the hunt for autographs has com-menced. Up to date, George W. Shaef, Colonel W. H. Telford and George Tis-dell are in evidence, "And there are others." The term of Postmaster Mar-tin J. Ryan will expire in about one and one-half years. The concensus of pub-lic opinion is that Mr. Ryan has been one of the very best postmasters the town ever had—and this is saying con-siderable. He is efficient, prompt and obliging, and his assistants are also descruding complex. deservedly popular.

SOME LOST WILD GEESE.

A large flock of wild geese, carrying umbrellas and lanters lettered "16 to 1," passed over the town yesterday. They were Bryan geese from Kansas, en route to Texas. They were last in the "enemy's country" and unable to tell where they were at. They finally got into a harrow shape, and disappeared south by southeast.

with PARIS! Made by William A. Eddy. Bayonne, N. J., Nov, 17.—William A. Eddy has discovered that photographs of houses and streets can be taken at night owing to the present wide preva-lence of electric light. The first out-door electric light night photograph on record was taken by him at 9.45 p. m. Nov. 8, 1896, and includes a faint view of the corner of Avenue D and Fourth the Adirondack section of New York State. At the county court last week three tramps, Peterson, Gannen and Cun-ningham, were convicted of robbing a of the corner of Avenue D and Fourth street, Bayonne, followed by a clear view at 9.50 p. m. of the corner and trees of the grounds formerly owned by Dr. David trees of the grounds formerly owned by Dr. Payne. On Nov. 13, 1896, twelve exposures were made at Bayonne between 11 p. m, and midnight, and on Nov. 15, be-tween 8 p. m. and 1 a. m. twelve ex-posures were taken in New York in-cluding Madison Square, the New York postoffice, Herald Square, Twenty-third street and Broadway and others. The photographs in New York reveal whole blocks and streets. Mr. Eddy says the discovery will be valuable to the press by making it possible to take important photographs in time for the morning editions. Some of the Bay-onne photographs are so clear that the carbon in an electric light globe is dis-cernible, and the houses are as clear as if taken by daylight. Dr. W. H. Mitchell and G. S. Bogert, of Bayonne, were present at the New York experi-ments. Mr. Eddy says he will cain nothing financially by the discovery, since it can neither be copyrighted or patented. He is preparing to take mid-air kite photographs of electric lighted cities. Dr. Payne. Judge Grosscup Refuses to Grant an Injunction Against Boycotters. Chicago, Nov. 17.—The application of Gormully and Jeffrey, bicycle manufac-turers, for an injunction against the Metal Polishers Union restraining them from conducting an alleged boy-cott against the firm, came up before Judge Grosscup, in the federal court this morning. The marshal's return showed that service had been made upon Adolph Canal, an alleged agent of the union. Counsel for the latter denied that he was an agent of the National Metal Polishers Union, which is an Ohio corporation. The jurisdle-tion of the court was questioned. Judge Grosscup denied the application on the Chicago, Nov. 17 .- The application of cities.

In our Cloak Department we shall keep nothing but

and sell no garment below cost in order to blind you thereby, in such a way obtain your confidence and then overcharge you on the garment you desire to buy.

Good Goods, Reasonable Prices, Honorable Business Dealings is our principle and thereby we expect to get your patronage and once so received, hold it, as well as the reputation of being one of the most reliable exclusive Cloak and Millinery stores in the United States.
