BROKE NO CONTRACT WITH M'CLOSKEY

That is the Contention of the Board of Control.

MITCHELL'S ANSWER

Affidavit of Defense in the Damage Case Brought by the Deposed Professor of Mathematics, Filed Yesterday .- What the Board Proposes to Prove When Case Comes to Trial.

President George Mitchell, acting for the board of control, yesterday, through the district's solicitor, Hon. II. A. Knapp, filed with Prothonotary Pryor an answer to the declaration of Profes-sor A. L. McCloskey in the damage suit he has instituted against the which he has instituted against the school district.

When the board was relecting a faculty for the high school, Professor McCloskey applied for and was appointed to the nosition of professor of mathematics. At the succeeding meeting the board reconsidered its action and deceard Professor McCloskey was ing the board reconsidered its action and deposed Professor McClockey, appointing Professor Frank Littell in his stead Professor McClockey, disregarding the reconsideration of his appointment, notified the board that he was prepared to fulfill the position to which he had been elected, and upon being refused an assignment, he brought suft to recover one year's salary, which he said had been fixed at $1,000.

Mr. Mitchell in his affidavit of defense avers that he believes the plaintiff has not stated any facts which would entitle him to recover any sum whatever; not stated any facts which would en-title him to recover any sum whatever; that there was no contract of hire, ver-bal or otherwise, between Professor McCloskey and the board; that the board had no knowledge of the plain-tiff having made application to the sutar having made application to the su-perintendent for a position and further, even though he had, it would not be in any way binding upon the board, as the superintendent has no authority to receive or act upon applications for po-sitions or to employ persons as school teachers.

STATEMENT OF DEFENSE The defendant goes on to deny that on or about the 13th day of July, 1896, or at any other time, the board of con-trol of the Scranton School district trol of the Scranton School district elected plaintiff to a position on the faculty of the Scranton High School at a salary of one thousand dollars per school year, or at any specific rate whatever. It is, however, acknowledged that at the meeting of the board of control, held on the evening of July 13, 1896, the plaintiff was selected as one of the teachers of the said Scranton High School, but the action then taken did not go so far as to fix or determine in any way the amount of salary which should be paid, nor was any person authorized or directed to notify the plaintiff of such selection, nor as a matter of fact did any person having authter of fact did any person having auth-ority to do so notify the plaintiff of such action of the school board, and at the next meeting of the board, and at the next meeting of the board, to wit: on July 27, 1896, the action of July 13, 1896, selecting the plaintiff as one of the teachers of the high school was reconsidered and rescinded.

The plaintiff never accepted or signified his willingness to the board of control to accept the position; never enered into any contract whatever with the board of control, or anybody duly authorized to make such contract, and is not now and has never been under any contract relations with the defendant whatever. The defendant has no knowledge that Professor McCloskey was notified by the superintendent of the board's acthe superintendent of the board's ac-tion on July 13, but avers that if such notification was given it was without authority, as such authority is alone vested in the board of control.

NOT RESPONSIBLE.

The contention of the plaintiff that the board caused a report of its action of July 12 to be published in the daily of July 13 to be published in the daily press, "according to its established cus tom," was branded as erronous, the press, according to its established testion," was branded as erronous, the board being in no way responsible for the reports which the newspapers see fit to make of the controllers' actions. In this relation, the defendant called attention to the fact that the rescinding of his appointment was given as much publicity as the appointment it-self.

It is further denied that Professor It is further denied that Professor McClaskey reported for duty at the opening of the high school and was refused permission to act by Principal Phillips; and it is affirmed that the plaintiff never reported for duty nor performed any duty whatever for the district. A general denial is made of the contention that the board broke any contract for hiring with Professor McCloskey or that he has been injured in any sum in any way by the board of control.

The affidavit was sworn to by George Newhill before H. A. Knapp, notary public.

FUNERAL OF MISS HARLIN.

High Mass of Requiem Celebrated in St. Peter's Cathedral. greater part of this time at Ft. Clark,

The funeral of Miss Lizzie Harlin ook place yesterday morning at the nome of her parents on Emmet street. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Peter's cathedral by Father Gorman, Father Carmody acting as deacon and Father Feeley sub-deacon. The Scranton business college, where Miss Harlin was a student, was closed during the marring to give the model Miss Harlin was a student, was closed during the morning to give the pupils an opportunity to attend the funeral. Father Gorman preached a funeral sermon. Among the many floral tributes was one inscribed "Schoolmate." from the pupils of the business college. The pail bearers were: Michael Collins, P. J. Langan, Charles Richards, Edward O'Malley, Thomas Coar, and Patrick Loftus. Burial was made in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.

NIGHT AND DAY SCHOOLS.

The Rolls of Each Are Larger Than Ever Before.

Public night schools, in addition to the number which opened on the first Monday in November, have been established in No. 27 and No. 29 buildings. The attendance is larger than in any previous years. There is a demand that night schools be opened before the close of the month in certain wards in which no schools were petitioned for at the time the others were established. From the attendance returns from day schools throughout the city the registration remains as great as at the registration remains as great as at the opening of the fall terms, notwith-standing the fact that in the past years the rolls have been somewhat decreased after the first month or two. An annex school to No. 14 in the Fifth ward will be opened soon, probably tomorrow morning.

BOYER'S COAL LEASE.

It Will Figure Prominently in Litigation Which Has Just Begun--- An Injunction Asked For.

The Acme Coal Company, through its attorney, S. B. Price, yesterday filed a bill in equity asking for an injunction against Jacob W. Stroud and George against Jacob W. Stroud and George F. Chamberiain. to restrain the defendants from taking possession of the land and coal in Carbondale and Fell townships sold and leased to the plaintiffs by William D. Boyer and others on August 3, 183, and that a judgment in ejectment obtained by the defendants against the plaintiffs be declared world and annulled.

ants against the plaintiffs be declared void and annulled.

In the bill of the coal company it is set forth that on July 5, 1892, Stroud and Chamberlain bought from J. J. Albright certain coal lands in Carbondale and Fell township. On August 3, 1893, they leased the coal to William D. Boyer, Frederick Fuller and Jonathan Vipond, who assigned the lease to the Boyer Coal Company. The name of the Boyer Coal Company was February 18, 1895, changed to the Acme Coal Company. By the terms of that Coal Company. By the terms of that lease the lessees were to pay 25 cents a ton for all coal above pea, 10 cents for pea and 5 cents for buckwheat, un-til all the merchantable coal shall be exhausted, and the minimum annual out hausted, and the minimum annual output was fixed at 20,000 tons. The lease further stipulated "that when, in the opinion of the prantees, all the coal in the said land shall have been paid for that can be practically mined, they shall notify the grantors, whereupon the said parties shall each select a competent mining engineer, and the two thus selected shall select a third competent mining engineer, and the two thus selected shall select a third competent mining engineer, and the said engineers, when so selected, shall constitute a board of arbitration.

The amount of coal specified in the lease has not been mined, but the plaintiff claims this was because it is so interwoven with slate and "boney" that it could not find a market for it. It is claimed however, by the plaintiff It is claimed, however, by the plaintiff that it has paid about $5,000 for coal which has not been taken out, or mined and for which it received no considera-

On February 17 last Patterson & Wilcox, attorneys for Stroud & Chamber-lain, sent notice to Boyer, Fuller & Vipond and to William Griffith, president, and A. G. Gilman, treasurer of the Acme Coal Company, they had forfeited all rights under their lease, and unless the minimum royalty was paid they would proceed to ejectment. By letter dated February 18, 1896, Mr. Price, attorney for the Acme Coal Company, notified Stroud & Chamberlain that all the merchantable Coal had been exhausted, called attention to the arbitration clause and named J. H. Rittenhouse, C. E., as their arbitrator. Stroud & Chamberlain took no notice of this, but their attorneys, Patterson & Wilcox on October 21 lest. Patterson & Wilcox, on October 24 last, entered judgment on the ejectment clause in the lease. This the plaintiff declares to be a fraud, and wishes the court to set it right by striking off the judgment of ejectment and holding the defendants from taking or giving possession of the property.
