Deaths of Several Well-Known Persons. How Thanksgiving Will Be Observed in a Religious Way.

John Davis, well known in Bellevue, died suddenly Saturday while eating breakfast at his home on Corbett avenue. On October 21, this year, he sustained injuries by an accident in the Hampton mine. He was recovering from his misfortune and last Monday left the house and visited Mr. Galloway, of Bellevue, who also was injured recently in the mines. Retiring Friday night he was in good spirits and in the morning he ate a hearty breakfast. While Mrs. Davis was working in the kitchen she heard a peculiar noise in the room where her husband was. She found him gasping for breath. Dr. J. J. Roberts was called but before he reached the suffering man the end had come. The deceased is survived by his wife and adopted daughter. The funeral will be Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in Washburn street cemetery.

Julius Knapp, aged 4 years, died Saturday at the parental home on Eynon street. The funeral will be Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Benjamin E. Evans, formerly Mrs. Meredith, died at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon at her home, 125 Jackson street. She had been ill for a long time and the death was caused by general debility. She was born in Minersville, December 10, 1844, and the family have lived here since 1859. The surviving children are: Sarah, Stella, Edgar and Arthur Meredith. The funeral will be Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Services will be held at the house, Rev. W. S. Jones officiating. Interment will be made in Washburn street cemetery.

Margaret, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Harris, died Saturday at the family residence, 660 Twelfth street. The funeral will be this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. W. S. Jones will officiate and interment will be made in Washburn street cemetery. The funeral of an infant child of Mr. and Mrs. William Watkins, of Jackson court, died Saturday morning from the residence. Interment was made in Washburn street cemetery.

The funeral of the late Thomas D. Roberts, who died last night, after a very pleasant sojourn with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jenkins, of Butler street, will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence, 1711 Price street. Interment will be made in Washburn street cemetery. The deceased was a man of strong character and he easily made friends. He was born in Wales and in 1861 he came to the West Side where he has resided since. He was 61 years of age and is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Peters and Margaret T. Lewis, both of this side.

Jones, ticket No. 1,583.

THE DAY OF THANKS.

Services will be held at 7 o'clock on Thanksgiving morning at the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church. Miss Della P. Evans will be the leader. The several young people's societies of the West Side are invited to attend the service. The main union services will be held at the Plymouth Congregational church at 10 o'clock. Rev. S. F. Matthews, pastor of the Scranton Street Baptist church, will preach the sermon.

AGAIN THE VIADUCT.

The West Side Republican league will agitate the viaduct until it is a fact. Next Friday evening the regular meeting will be held at which the viaduct will be discussed. A number of speakers will talk on the benefits of the proposed improvement.

NEWS NOTES AND PERSONALS.

SOUTH SIDE NEWS.

Funeral of Joseph Webber Attended by a Large Delegation of Firemen. Interment at Wilkes-Barre.

The funeral of the late Joseph Webber took place Saturday afternoon. The remains were escorted from his residence on Prospect avenue to the Central railroad station at 1 o'clock by a large delegation of firemen, nearly every company in the city being represented, headed by the Ringgold band, of which the deceased was an honorary member. Edwin Frable, J. P. Kramer, Louis Wetzel, Joseph Heigman, were pall-bearers. Among the many who went to Wilkes-Barre were H. J. Spruiks, Andrew Conway, Emil Bonn, Jacob Hanner, Louis Scheuer, George Hausrath, C. W. Westphal, Warren Kimble, Charles Wirth, Jr., H. K. Klumker, Louis Schwass, of the Century Hose company, and the band of the day was Kelly. He is a wonder, and what makes his playing all the more wonderful is that he is a cripple, having a club foot and a limp when walking, but his infirmity does not offset his running. He is easily in the class with Hefflinger, McClurg, Bliss, Thorne and King. Cochrane also played a great game, getting down the field in fine shape on every punt and tackling sure and low every time.

Yale's hard and gamey up-hill struggle against the local heroics. They fought a Yale fight up to the last moment of the play.

SHORTER PARAGRAPHS.

Henry Bonn, of Cedar avenue, spent Sunday with his son, A. R. Bonn, of Wilkes-Barre.

John Clark Timothy Finnerty and James Crowley were the names given by the trio arrested for stealing Alderman Storr's coat. They were sent up to the county jail by Alderman C. C. Donovan.

Rev. E. J. Melley, pastor of St. John's church, will begin tomorrow afternoon to take a census of the parish. He will visit every Catholic household and will take an accurate account of the number of persons, young and old.

Announcement of the marriage of Martin Layelle and Miss Bridget McAlbion was made yesterday in St. John's church.

PROVIDENCE.

On Thanksgiving Day the Crescent football team, the pride of this place, will journey to Pittston, where they will take on the local team. The boys are confident that they will add another victory to their already long list. The team is made up of a number of strong muscular fellows who are determined that the honor of Providence shall not be trailed in the dust. The team will line up as follows: Center, Thomas; right guard, Davis; left guard, Twiss; right tackle, E. Evans; left tackle, Richards; right end, Connelly; left end, Bryden; quarter back, Williams; right half, Thompson; left half, T. Jones; full back, McKlusky; substitutes, J. Williams, Collins, Gabriel and Morgans.

The F. G. W. social club will meet tonight in their rooms on West Market street at 7:30 sharp. All members are requested to be present.

Mr. Bungardner, of Church avenue, is recovering from his recent illness.

There will be a game of football here tonight at Company H armory, between teams representing Mulley's and Osterhout's stores. Bitter rivalry exists between these teams, and a good game is anticipated.

Joseph Lloyd, of William street, who has been ill for the past week, is convalescent.

Evans Jones, of Golot, Susquehanna county, spent yesterday at the home of John Edwards, of Wayne avenue.

The North Scranton Basket ball team and Company H team will play Tuesday night. Members will please take notice and be on hand.

On Thanksgiving night the North Scranton and South Scranton Basket ball teams will play a league game in Company H armory.

GREEN RIDGE.

A union meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church, Thanksgiving morning at 10:30, to be conducted by Rev. John B. Worrall, D. D.

Mr. and Mrs. James Price gave a party to their daughter, Mary, Saturday afternoon, from 3 to 7, in honor of her twelfth birthday, at which a few of her young friends were present.

Miss Edith Jones, of Money avenue, is again able to be out after a severe illness.

Rev. A. F. Chaffee is spending a few days at Kingston. During his absence Sunday the Presbyterian church was occupied by Rev. Mr. Underwood, who delivered two powerful sermons.

The vacant lot at the corner of Capouse avenue and Denon street, formerly owned by Joseph Koch, has been recently purchased by Mr. Ehrhardt, of Capouse avenue. He will soon erect a dwelling house.

Miss Mary Divine, of Moscow, spent Sunday with Green Ridge friends.

Patrolman Hawks has been doing duty on the Green Ridge beat for the past week. In place of Patrolman Thomas, who has been assigned to the "Rover list."

Complaint is made concerning a number of boys that are wronging the neighbors contiguous to the Church of the Good Shepherd and Baptist church. Sunday evenings, annoying the worshippers on their way home from services with snatches of "G'long you foolin'."

"The cat came back," etc. Last evening the boys had a foot ball and were kicking it up and down the street.

THIS THIEF IS CLEVER.

Removed an Overcoat from a Fellow Prisoner in the Police Station.

"Me coat is stole! Me coat is stole!" shrieked a voice from the cell room of the police station Saturday night at 12 o'clock. Desk Sergeant Ridgeway went back to learn the cause of the outbreak, and found that someone had stolen an overcoat from one of the lodgers. Thinking that one of the other lodgers might have taken it for a pillow, the sergeant awakened them and ordered the man to look and see.

One of them had it on. His name was given in police court Saturday morning as John Mullen, 30 years old, residence Pottsville. Mayor Bailey sent him up to the county jail for thirty days.

The man owning the overcoat said he had it on and tightly buttoned around himself when he laid down to sleep, and he did not feel Mullen taking it off.

CAVE-IN AT BELLEVUE.

Ground Settled and Caused the Residents to Get Frightened.

Residents on Railroad avenue between Luzerne and Fellows streets in Bellevue, became frightened Friday afternoon at the settling of the ground to the extent that large fissures ran lengthwise and crosswise around about there. The disturbance affected some of the buildings to the extent that the cracking and the doors could not be closed.

The properties of Councilman John E. Hogan, Mrs. Ellen O'Toole, and Patrick Golden were the ones affected. Trains on the Bloomsburg division of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad had to run by the place slowly. The settling was only for a few minutes. The mine under the territory affected is the Bellevue slope.

We give away dinner seats, handsomely decorated, with 35 lbs. of tea; decorated tea sets with 12 lbs. of tea; toilet sets with 12 lbs. of tea. Special attention given to club orders. Scranton Tea store, 325 Lackawanna avenue.

TIGERS AND QUAKERS WERE THE WINNERS

tactics in the second half, when through a fumble by Finch, they came into possession of the ball on Yale's 25-yard line. A short gain by Bannard and a 10-yard plunge by Kelly placed the ball on Yale's 10-yard line. The same men made five yards apiece through the line, and then Hillbrand was pushed over the few inches of intervening space for the third touch-down. Time, nine minutes. Baird failed to kick the goal and the score stood: Princeton, 16; Yale, 6.

Princeton made two more touch-downs after the same fashion as the last one. Baird, Bannard and Kelly aided by excellent team work and the interference, made a gain almost every time they tried. It was only a question of how long it would take them to reach the goal line, so sure and steady was their progress and so hopeless was Yale's chance of stopping them.

Baird failed on both the goals, although they were comparatively easy. Every man on the Princeton team played a star game, but the hero of the day was Kelly. He is a wonder, and what makes his playing all the more wonderful is that he is a cripple, having a club foot and a limp when walking, but his infirmity does not offset his running. He is easily in the class with Hefflinger, McClurg, Bliss, Thorne and King. HARVARD-T. P. GAME.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Philadelphia, Nov. 22.—Pennsylvania had confidence expected to have a victory over Harvard, and great was her surprise yesterday when she found herself bested up to within a short time of the end of the contest. It was a game of great interest and superhuman effort that Penn snatched a victory in the face of defeat.

The game was witnessed by 18,000 people, a good percentage of them being adherents of Harvard, which has a strong following in Philadelphia. The day was damp and misty, and the strong eleven of the place. The boys are confident that they will add another victory to their already long list. The team is made up of a number of strong muscular fellows who are determined that the honor of Providence shall not be trailed in the dust. The team will line up as follows: Center, Thomas; right guard, Davis; left guard, Twiss; right tackle, E. Evans; left tackle, Richards; right end, Connelly; left end, Bryden; quarter back, Williams; right half, Thompson; left half, T. Jones; full back, McKlusky; substitutes, J. Williams, Collins, Gabriel and Morgans.

On Thanksgiving night the North Scranton and South Scranton Basket ball teams will play a league game in Company H armory.

MASS PLAY SUBSTITUTED.

During the intermission between the halves, Pennsylvania's coaches determined to change style of play, and instead of the easier and more scientific game which they had been playing, to substitute the fierce and desperate mass plays, which meant that the team with the toughest men would win. The fact that Wrightington, Dunlop and others of Harvard's best men were but recently out of the hospital, was not physically in condition for such a struggle. For a while the crimson held against Pennsylvania's fierce onslaught, but one by one her men were laid out and carried from the field, until finally when Penn had a virtually defenceless, she tore holes in her at every point and won. But for hard luck and a decision against her, Penn would have doubtless piled up a big score in the second half.

Pennsylvania started in with their battering-ram work at the very outset of the second half. From their ten-yard line they carried the ball a distance of 45 yards, they carried the ball without once being checked. But just as a touch-down was within their reach, a Harvard man captured the ball. Penn was, however, not to be balked. Wild with disappointment, nothing could hold them, and instead of playing on the defensive they continued to attack, though Harvard had the ball. When it was passed to Wrightington for a punt, the Penn rushers broke through on him, picked him up and hurled him back over his own goal for a safety.

Harvard kicked off and again Penn started her furious playing, carrying the ball to Harvard's forty-yard line. Here they resorted to strategy. The guards, as usual, were massed for a tandem play against Harvard's line, but instead of following the expected play, Minds dashed around Harvard's right end and placed the ball behind the line. But, to the great chagrin and indignation of Penn and her shouters, Referee Hickok ordered the ball to be brought back, alleging that Minds had run out of bounds in evading a tackle. Twenty minutes were consumed in dispute, but finally Captain Wharton gave in and ordered his men to resume. And they did resume with fury.

THEY GREW FEROCIOUS.

With defeat by an inferior team, as they judged, staring them in the face, they grew fairly ferocious. Man after man of the Harvard line was carried off the field, and occasionally a Pennsylvania man would also succumb. In vain Harvard tried to check the onslaught, but it went on until Harvard's ten-yard line. Penn foolishly tried the quarter-back kick and lost the ball, it going behind Harvard's line of battle. Harvard then kicked the ball out of danger and Pennsylvania once more commenced its terrific battering from mid-field.

This time it did not attempt any tricks, but kept driving ahead for two, three, four and five yard gains, until finally the ball was two yards from Harvard's goal. Woodruff took it and carried it over without the aid of an after the collision was such that it was not known for about a minute whether or not the touch-down had been made.

When the struggling, steaming mass of humanity was disintegrated and it was seen that the ball was over the Pennsylvania rooters went into a mad. Woodruff kicked the goal line and scored 8 to 6. There were only a few minutes of play left, and during this time Penn struggled hard to make another touch-down. When the whistle blew they had the ball within twenty yards of Harvard's goal.

For Pennsylvania the best playing was done by Wharton, Belmont, Boyle and Minds, and for Harvard, Cabot, Moulton, Wrightington, Dunlop and Brown did the best work. T. E. C.

Hillman's Close Shave.

The School of the Lackawanna team gave the Hillman Academy team, of Wilkes-Barre, a hard struggle at Athletic Park Saturday. The teams were evenly matched and both played good ball.

Lackawanna forced the ball to mid-field at the outset of the game, but lost it on downs, and Hillman, by a series of short rushes carved it back and over the goal for a touch-down, despite a grand resistance at the five-yard line by the Lackawanna's. On the second kick-off Lackawanna got the ball on downs on Hillman's 40-yard line, and held it within a few yards of Hillman's goal when time was called. A few more minutes' play would undoubtedly have netted a touch-down for Lackawanna.

When the second half opened up Lackawanna went at the Hillman line again, and this time succeeded in carrying the ball over. Clearly making the final dive, Hillman took a brace after this, and worked the ball steadily down the field just as Lackawanna had done, and without losing the ball made a touch-down, but failed in the goal. The game ended with the score 10 to 6.

South Siders Won.

The South Side team defeated St. Thomas' college by a score of 4 to 0. Although the South Siders outwheeled the collegians nearly twenty pounds to a man, they had to work hard for the single touch-down they made.

High School Losses.

Keystone Academy defeated a scrub team from the Scranton High school at Factoryville, Saturday by a score of 35 to 0. The tackling of Bliss, the running of Paatz and the line kicking of Schimpf, Greeley and Davis, of Scranton, and the accurate line playing of Tripp, Tiffany and Dershlimer, of Factoryville, were the features of the game.
