The collanse of the nail combination, and probably of the beam combina-tion, and, considerable reduction in quotations for nails and beam, give reason to look for a larger demand for products of iron and steel, but at pres-ent the sales against speculative pur-chases made some time ago are de-pressing prices, and bessemer pig has sold at $12.25, and according to some reports, a little lower at Pittsburg. The demand for such products as are not controlled by the combinations is still increasing, but by no means as rapidly as expected. Telegrapher's cramp is another one of the modern complaints. It results from the manipulation of the telegraph-ic key, and affects the sufferer in the same way as writer's cramp. Bulation. His body was turned over to his friends for burial. They put it in a coffin and started with it in a wagon for the Buckana with it in a wagon for the Buchanan place, several miles distant, where they announced the bur-ial would take place. A negro named Reuben Rice made the statement that Dawson is not dead; that as soon as the wagon was outside of the town the lid of the coffin was pried off and whisky and other re-storatives were applied, with the result that the supposed corpse was resus-citated, and after an hour or two was recovered sufficiently to walk.

The evidence to the truth of the state-ment is that the negroes having the remains in charge have left the neigh-borhood, and no evidence of a new-made grave can be found about the Buchanan place.
