The Sad and Sudden Death of Sarah Ulrich Kelly.

A SCHOOL TEACHER IS HELD TO BAIL

Irving Tewkesbury Arrested for Illegal Assault and Battery on Joseph Dugan, a Sixteen Year Old Boy Who Wanted to Thrash the Pedagogue --- Elk Mountain Railroad Racket .- Court News.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Susquehanna, December 9.—The sad and sudden death of Sarah Ulrich Kelley, "the Bard of Shanty Hill," was Relley, 'the Bard of Shanty Hill, was received with genuine sorrow in Susquehanna, where she resided several years ago. She was not then a candidate for National Poet Laurate. Her inspiration came later on—after she removed to Honesdale. From time to time she wrote unique verses, had them printed upon slips, and sold them over country. Before the war she married Horace Kelley, who was later a soldier. At one time she taught school in Susquehanna county. In one of her

"I am thinking, I am thinking Of the days when I was young, I was the very best of teachers, At least my praises so were sung. By A. N. Bullard, superintendent of Susquehanna county at that I was educated most resplendent." Another one of her efforts is called Another one of her enorts is called "Aspirations of the Bard, and the mot-to thereof is Queen Carolines remark, "Let others seek for fame; give me innocence." Mrs. Kelley had, how-ever, no deep-seated prejudice against fame. The "Aspirations" consist of five stanzas of six lines each, the object apparently being to put at least one very long and one very short line in each verse, the others varying in length. By some oversight four lines of nearly equal length got into one of the stanzas, as follows: "I'll clothe myself with Aspiration

For my wardrob is mostly rags "Shreds and Patches" are my station Of No Bard this Nation brags," These lines present Mrs. Kelley as a social reformer. It is evident from the closing stanza of her poem, "Bury me Beside My Husband," that while Mrs. Kelley did not expect to be immortal

In one sense, she was quite confident of it in another.

"Bury me in Jackson cemetery is very beautiful. Let the officiating min-ister be the Rector of Grace Catholic Protestant Episcopal church of The Bard of Shanty Hill whose fame shall never fade away."

.While Mrs. Kelly did not live to become National Poet Laurate, she realized that she wrote better verse than England's present Laurate. After life's fitful ferver she sleeps well. Peace to

TEACHER HELD TO BAIL.

Irving Tewksbury, a school teacher of Brandt, was on Thursday arrested and brought before Justice Williams. in this borough, charged with assault and battery upon Joseph Dugan, a six-teen-year-old pupil. The teacher, in defense, claimed that Dugan was generally unruly, with an inclination to thrash the pedagogue. The teacher was held to bail in the sum of $200 for appearance before the grand jury. The affair created much excitement in the little village of Brandt. THOSE DRILLERS.

* AND HE DREAMED. The editor of the Nicholson Examiner, after eating heartily of liver, onions and raw turnips, retired to his hammock and dreamed a dream. Hear him:

"I had a dream the other night, and "I had a dream the other night, and in my dream I saw the gate of Heaven open. Its streets were not paved with, nor its walls studded with precious gems and lined with silver. Seeing St. Peter standing by the gate, I went to him and said: 'St. Peter, I have always been told that the streets of this city were of gold. I see they are not.' city were of gold; I see they are not." Good St. Peter smiled and said: "What funny ideas you people on the earth have of Heaven. When the Morman missionaries come to Susquehanna, they can try their hand at converting the Delsarte ar-tists in the Borough woodyard. Those unwashed rovers would not refuse a parlor car trip to Utah, if the conversion had a bread and beer attachment, with no sordid work to draw their minds from the true, the good and the beautiful.

The borough election cometh apace, but, up to date, no candidate for mayor has materialized. The honors connected with the office are somewhat larger than the salary; nevertheless, several patriots will rise up and offer to accept of the ancient and honorable to accept of the ancient and nonorable office, with neatness and dispatch. The air is frigid when even salaryless offices go begging for somebody to fill them. The average man has an office bee buzzing under his hat.

CROWDS AT CHIPPEWA FALLS.

Great Ice Gorge Draws Throngs of

Sightseers from the State. Chippewa Falls, Wis., Dec. 8.—Sight-seers to the number of 2,000 visited Chippewa Falls today for the purpose of viewing the immense gorge of ice that has choked the river and given this town such prominence during the last four days. The visitors came from all the towns on the Central road be-tween this city and Medford, and from Minneapolis and St. Paul two train loads of excursionists arrived at 10 o'clock, and the city was thronged with o clock, and the city was thronged with a crowd of strangers. Only streaks of jammed ice clinging to the fronts and sides of buildings mark the height to which the water of the river rose, for during the night the flood receded rapidly, and a fall of four feet is recorded on the gauge. Near the C. L. and B. company's mill the town is comparatively dry within ten feet of the river banks, although three feet of snow and ice cover that portion of he flooded district which the street laborers have not yet reached. Score of laborers were put to work early this morning, and by night most of the streets were in shape for travel and a greater portion of the store buildings were again ready for occupancy. It is confidently believed by close ob-will cause no further apprehension this winter, and the more hopeful predict that the ice will go out gradually, giving the stream a clear course by spring. The supply of anchor ice from above the city seems inexhaustible. Tons of the slushy stuff is still pouring over the dam. Major Jones of the United States army left Chippewa Falls today after stating as his opinion that the danger of the flood is at an end. It is impossible to get an estimate of the cost of the flood, for business men generally refuse to give out any estimate of their

BOYS MAKE A DASH FOR LIBERTY.

Twenty-eight Lads in a Reform School Escape From Prison.

Kearney, Neb. Dec. 8 .- For some time the boys at the reformatory school have plotted to escape. Last night twenty-eight of them broke for liberty. When all were at the supper table a signal was given and the stampede was started. Many of them took knives along and flourished them as they rushed out.

It was the signal for fully 100 to participate in the dash. The only reason about fifty or sixty did not make the attempt was because Mr. Snyder, one of the instructors, pulled a revolver and told them he would shoot the first boy that started.

As soon as possible the officers in town were telephoned to, and telegrams were sent to neighboring towns, and up to the present time all but fifteen have been captured and five or six

"Kid" Thrasher, a boy sent up from Plattsmouth, was the leader of the break and was caught about midnight, but his assistant, Yates, of Omaha, is still at large. Some of the boys are armed with butcher knives and sugar beet knives, and will resist arrest if the opportunity offers.

MACHINE MAKERS FORM A POOLE.

Woodworking Machinery Manufacturers Meet at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, Dec. 8.—At a secret meeting last night all the woodworking machinery manufacturers of the United States were consolidated, but no terms can be learned. About $20,000,-000 is involved.

The five gentlemen who conducted the negotiations are Nelson J. Wattenbury and Henry Nelson, of New York, Thomas P. Egan, of the Fay & Egan company, of this city, and George P. Altenberg and Henry B. Morehead, representing a large number of other woodworking machinery concerns in the country. It is understood that all of the leading manufacturers in this line have consented to go into the consolidation and that the deal, while many details are yet to be arranged, is a go.

It gave immediate relief and she was able to walk about in three days. I am sure it saved her life." Sold by Carl Lorens, druggist, Scranton, 418 Lackawanna avenue.

THE HOUSE GETS DOWN TO BUSINESS

Montrose is in the throes of a Young Three Bills Passed at the Sessions of Yesterday.

MR. GROW SPEAKS ON THE TARIFF

He Makes a Brief Speech Favoring a Protective Tariff Based Upon the President's Commendation in His Message -- The Pension Bill Was Passed Without Amendment -- First Contest Received.

Washington, Dec. 8.—The senate spent less than half an hour in session today, and then adjourned until tomorrow, as a mark of respect to the memory of the late Speaker Crisp, whose death during the recess was officially communicated in a message from the house. The only business transacthe house. The only business transac ed in the half hour was the presenta-

An effort was made by Mr. Call, Florida, to get in a resolution on the sub-ject of Cuba, but as that stage of the morning business had not been reached. he was forced to wait for another day. Notice was given by Mr. Cullom, Illi-nois, that he would next Thursday sub-mit remarks on that subject.

IN THE HOUSE. The house promptly got down to business today, resuming the call of committees where it left off at the close of last session. Under the call the committee on postoffices and post roads ocmittee on postomees and post roads oc-cupied nearly three hours of the ses-sion, in that period securing the pas-sage of three bills. These were: Au-thorizing the use of private postal cards; authorizing the postmaster general to allow an indemnity not to ex-ceed $10 in any one case for the loss of registered packages or letters; au-thorizing the appointment of letter car-riers at offices where the free delivery system is not established, the cost thereof to be borne by the patrons The general pension appropriation bill was then taken up and Mr. Grow, Penn-sylvania, made a brief speech in favor of a protective tariff based upon the president's commendation in his mea-president's commendation in his mes-sage of the present tariff law. The pension bill was passed without amendment. The documents in the contest of Thomas E. Watson vs. J. C. C. Black for a seat in the Fifty-fourth congress from the Tenth Georgia district were received from the clerk of the house and by the speaker referred to committee on elections No. 1.

At 4.20 the house adjourned until to-GHOSTS HAUNT A PACKING-HOUSE.

Sioux City Musicians Granted Permision to Investigate.

Sioux City, Iowa, Dec. 8.-The Silberhorn packing house ghost is still a thorn in the flesh of the manager of the plant. For months he has been unable to keep a night watchman more than a week before the spook would show up, throw the guardian of the place into spasms of terror and force him to hand in his resignation the following

The building has been unoccupied for a long time, and is a dismal place at best. Once the manager found a man who said the sighs and groans of which his predecessors spoke were caused by the wind whistling through the broken window panes, and the shadowy form so many of them had seen only the moonlight flittering through cracks in the iron shutters. This man got a job at a good salary. He held it several nights. Then the ghost put in an ap-pearance. It looked real enough to startle the watchman and he took a shot at it with his revolver. Then he

"'Twas big as a giant, an' 'is shoulders was tremenjis. I wouldn't stay another night in th' house if you was to gim me it," he explained as he drew his pay and threw up the job the next forenoon.

Now a number of the young musi-cians of the Fourth Regiment band have resolved to investigate the matter. The manager gladly gave his permis-sion when they asked to be allowed to spend a right in the building and the coperiment will be made next Tuesday. The ex-watchmen are exchanging and hoping the gentlemen will enjoy their experience.
