Edward Kenworthy's Condition. The friends of Edward Kenworthy, the Delaware and Hudson conductor who was injured some time ago on the railroad, will regret to hear that there is great danger of blood poisoning from a slight injury, as it seemed at first, upon his hand. His leg was amputated, and he appeared to be doing well, but the state of his arm at present, may require its amputation and the case seems very serious.

Lecture by Rev. Father O'Neill. Rev. Father O'Neill, of the Dominican order, delivered an address at St. Rose' church on Tuesday evening.
