STORY OF THE DEATH OF MACEO

The Rebel Leader Struck by Two Bullets.

CANNOT BE FOUND

Dr. Zertucha, Who Surrendered to Spaniards, Gives an Account of the Fall of the Insurgent General -- His Body Removed By the Rebels -- Cubans at Philadelphia No Longer Doubt the Story.

Havana, Dec. 11 .- Dr. Maximo Zertucha, formerly the physician of An-tonio Maceo, the second in command of the insurgent forces, who, after the death of Maceo, surrendered to General Tort at San Felipe, has been inter-viewed by a reported of La Lucha, one of the leading newspapers of this city. Dr. Zertucha says that Maceo intended Dr. Zertucha says that Maceo intended to attempt to cross the trocha on December 3, but was prevented by sickness from doing so. On the next day, however, it was announced that he would not march across the trocha with his men, but would go by water around the end of the trocha and meet an insurgent force on the Havana side of the line. Two hoats were accordingof the line. Two boats were according of the line. Two boats were accordingly prepared, they being painted black in order to prevent their being seen and the oars were muffled. They could not be heard. At night Maceo and twenty-six men embarked and passed in front of the town of Mariel at the northern extremity of the western trocha without being seen by any of the Spanish sentries thereabouts. The rebel leader Miro and several other commanders of rebel bands accompanied Maceo. The short voyage was accomplished without the slightest mishap and the party landed at the point selected without being discov-

When on December 4, the engagemen took place between the rebeis and Ma-jor Cirujedas' command. Maceo was encamped with 2,000 men. When the Spanish force appeared Macco divided his men into two wings, his intention being to surround the Spanish column. He remained alone wih his staff for a moment, watching the fighting, and moment, watching the fighting, and exclaimed: "This goes well."

HIT BY TWO BULLETS.
Shortly afterwards he was hit by two bullets as heretofore detailed in these dispatches, one striking him on the chin, breaking his jaw and passing out at the junction of the neck and shoulder, and the other striking him in the abdomen. Either wound would have caused death, and the rebel leader expired in a short time.

The rebels who were fighting desperately against the Spanish attack, were paric stricken when they heard of the death of their chief. They fied in disorder, not making any attempt then to take Maceo's body with them. The Speniards then returned to Punta Brave, with their dead and wounded. When the field was clear some of the rebels returned and carired Maceo's body off with them. Dr. Zertucha says that he does not know where the remains were buried, and thus far the search made by the Spaniards has proved fruitless. by the Spaniards has proved fruitless.

Philadelphia, Dec. 11.—Very little doubt remains in Cuba circles in this city of the death of Antonio Maceo, the Cuban leader. News came to hand today from private sources which a knowledged that no further doubt of Naceo's death on revist. This informa-Maceo's death can exist. This informa-tion comes directly from Cuban agents on the island, and is intended to finish the uncertainty in the minds of the Cuban residents here. It was characterized as being absolutely authentic and as making an end

The Possibilities of a War With Spain

Has Slightly Affected Business Interests—Wheat Market Weakens.

New York, Dec. 11.—R. G. Dun & Co. wil say tomorrow in their weekly Review of Trade:

Approach of holidays and doubt at the action of congress put off further improvement until new year. While inustries have gained in working force, they are waiting for commensurate gain in demand and meanwhile are trying to clear away embarrassments which restrict them. Speculation has been halting and timid. There is no sober minded fear of foreign difficulty but some have succeeded in imaging that congress might go so far beyond the president's prudent message regarding Cuba as to embroil this country, and this without an accident to "punch tickets" for many years to come. He is pleasantly situated with its family, consisting of his wife and six children, in a cozy home on Murray street, Binghamton, and finds in that home after his journey is ended his chilef enjoyment with those who make life a source of happiness to him. that congress might go so har beyond the president's prudent message regarding Cuba as to embroil this country with Spain. Money is in abundant supply, lending in London continues and there is nothing to cause less activity in general business except that tivity in general business except that the rush of orders deferred until after the election has not been continued. The volume of business shown by clearings has been for the week 5.2 per cent smaller than last year. Earnings on railroads in November were 10.9 per cent. less than last year and 12.2 per cent. less than in 1892.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Few of the many railroad corpora-tions can show a list of men longer in actual service than can the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company Very little change has been made up on that road in many years, either in management or its men; and veterans who have served so faithfully almost from its infancy to its present day can point with honest pride to their many years of services. years of service. In April. 1897, three conductors of this system, Edward Maghran, Chris Beavers and J. E. DeKay will have completed twenty years in continuous service as passenger conductors. There were four conductors who commenced in this line of service in the month of

New England railroad, under the su-perintendency of Joseph King, formerly a conductor on the Syracuse and Bing-hamton division of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western.

The oidest of these three conductors is Edward Maghran, who commenced railway life in 1860 on this road as brakeman on coal trains. In the fall of 1862 he was promoted to the nosition of 1862 he was promoted to the position of conductor on a train of that class. In those days (war times) men were rapidly promoted and were made conductors then in a shorter time than it takes a man today to get a first class

Missing the caboose he stopped, sent a man back, then backing up to the rest of the train coupled on and proceeded.

The next morning at Hampton Junction Maghran was asked by the agent as to the whereabouts of one of his coal cars. "You are short car so and so," said the agent, giving the number. Maghran was dumbfounded, as he knew it was in the train, for he had seen it and had checked the number upon the bill. upon the bill.

The mystery was solved the next day. The car was found where they had broke in two at Water Gap partly down the bank and nicely clearing the track. The car had evidently got tired of its company, so off the track it went and over the rail then down the bank, clearing the rest of the train. No one noticed it or detected its absence from tors of the Pennsylvania Railroad, held on Wednesday, the following appointments were approved: Almet E. Textile industries are working a larger force than in October, but there is not much evidence of larger demand and some kinds of goods are accumulating. Woolen goods are not in better demand and there is a general indisposition to make committment ahead. MARKETS AND STOCKS

Wall Street Review.

New York, Dec. 11.—The stock market was duller than ever today and even the professionalis displayed only a languid interest in speculation. The traders were much mixed in their views. Some of them bid up the prices for certain shares, while others succeeded in depressing Burlington & Quincy, St. Paul, Reading and General Electric. Manhattan and Rock Island were comparatively languid. Speculation closed about dull and about steady in tone. Net changes were slight, either way. Total sales, 94,500 shares.
