PENROSE VICTORY

The Philadelphia Statesman Vindicated at the Caucus of Republicans.

WILL RECEIVE 133 BALLOTS

Wanamaker Musters Only 75 Votes at Caucus—Cameron, Robinson and Rice Each Receive One Vote. Three Senators Absent and Representative Moore, of Chester, Declines to Vote—Mackey and Farr Support the Merchant Prince.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 5.—The great fight for Senator Cameron's seat is over. Senator Holes Penrose, of Philadelphia, has won. The joint Republican caucus was held in the hall of the house of representatives and a great crowd filled the galleries and all the space in the rear of the desks. Senator Grady, chairman of the senate caucus, presided. The secretaries were Senators Moore and Vaughan and Representatives Williams and Harris. The tellers were Senators Steinman and Saylor and Representatives Shaw and Fredericks. During the roll call Representative Charles E. Voorhees, of Philadelphia, objected to the vote of Representative Penrose, of that city, with ground that he had not qualified as a member of the house. The chair refused to hear the objection.

Nominating speeches were limited to five minutes. Mr. Boyer, of Philadelphia, presenting the name of Senator Penrose in an eloquent speech. He said he was a man without fear and without reproach. He had been prepared for college by his father, had won the highest honors at Harvard, had exceeded only by his brother, who was first. He had stood in the full glare of public opinion and the first breath of suspicion is yet to blow in his face. "I believe we will be one of the foremost statesmen of this country," said the speaker in closing his tribute of personal friendship.

Senator McCarrall, of Dauphin, a presidential elector, second made nomination. He declared Senator Penrose to be the soul of honor whose word was never broken. He stands before the people of the commonwealth without a stain and without reproach. He is devoted to the principles of the party and by unbroken qualifications is splendidly equipped as a legislator.

CHAMPION OF THE PEOPLE. Mr. Herrmann, of Snyder, referred to Penrose as the champion of the people in the state senate, the hero of the young Republicans of Pennsylvania. He was fit to be the colleague of the greatest champion of them all, others who made seconding speeches were Mr. Chidsey, of Northampton, and Senator Gobin, of Lebanon.

Senator Kaufman, of Lancaster, nominating ex-Postmaster General John Wanamaker in an earnest and eloquent speech. He said no higher honor could have been paid him than when he was selected to place John Wanamaker in nomination. He was one who had risen from the humblest walks to the greatest postmaster general this country has ever seen. Business men, said Mr. Kaufman, are demanding the presence of business men in the United States senate. He called upon the Republicans to hesitate before they cast their votes against a man who is the choice of nine tenths of the people of Pennsylvania. Senator Plinn, of Pittsburg, said in behalf of the united delegation of the second city in the state he believed in the nomination of the greatest merchant and storekeeper on earth, W. F. Stewart, of Philadelphia, spoke of the great resources of Pennsylvania and of the need of a business man like Wanamaker in the United States senate to represent Pennsylvania.

Mr. Young, of Tioga, also urged his nomination. Penrose received the votes of 31 senators and 100 members of the house. Wanamaker 16 senators and 65 members of the house, total 75. Senators B. B. Mitchell, of Bradford, was absent on account of illness and Senator Penrose did not appear in the caucus. Representative Andrew J. Pitcairn, of Allegheny, was absent on account of illness and Representative Moore, of Chester, declined to vote.

THE VOTE OF THE SENATE. For Penrose—Philadelphia, First district, George A. Ware; Second district, Edward Becker; Third district, Francis A. Osborn; Fourth district, Thomas J. Moore; Fifth district, Charles L. Brown; Tenth district, Bucks, Henry G. DELAWARE ASSEMBLY.

It is Organized Without Any Exciting Features.

Dover, Del., Jan. 5.—The general assembly was organized today without any exciting scenes. Several republicans (Addleton) candidates for the house of representatives in Kent county, who were declared not elected by the board of canvass and the seven Union Republicans who were elected in Sussex county met in the state library this morning and decided to form a "rump" house and to meet at the Hotel Richardson. They then repaired to the hotel and organized with E. C. Conwell, temporary chairman. Thomas C. Moore was elected permanent speaker and the oath was administered to him by Mr. Conwell. Mr. Moore then swore in the 15 other members. Charles S. Hastings was made clerk and Thomas E. Brown, recording clerk. They with the minor assistants then took the oath of office.

The regular senate met and selected Heskell Harrington (Democrat) speaker. The Democrats captured the senate through the failure of the Republicans to stand together. Mr. Meredith (Democrat), of Kent county, was seated and Allen (Republican) was rejected. The regular house organized by making E. D. Riggan (Democrat) speaker. The house appointed a committee on the conduct of W. W. Chasica against T. J. Dickey, both Democrats from New Castle county.

A "rump" senate seems improbable and in that case the "rump" house would be defeated in its work. Neither house is expected any business of importance at this afternoon's session of the general assembly and an adjournment was taken until Monday next, when committees will be named.

The "rump" house is to meet on Friday, but there is no prospect of a "rump" senate.

ALLISON INVITED.

It is Believed That He is a Favorit with Major McKinley for Cabinet.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 5.—Major McKinley leaves on Wednesday morning for Canton, to meet Senator W. B. Allison, of Iowa, who is expected to be in Canton on his way to Washington to see the president-elect. The interview between the senior senator from Iowa, who has twice declined to remain in the senate when a cabinet position was offered him, and the president-elect, who is actively seeking the strongest man he can find for his official family, will be the most important political event which occurred at Major McKinley's house since the election. It is understood that Major McKinley would very much like to have Senator Allison as cabinet, but it is not known that the actual tender of a portfolio has been made. Probably the meeting tomorrow will demonstrate whether such a tender is to be made at all.

Senator Thurston and General Osborne, secretary of the Republican national committee, left for Washington this afternoon. The work of cabinet making has begun in real earnest and will proceed at a pretty lively rate until about the 4th of March.

Senator F. J. Perra, a representative of the Cuban Junta in New York, called on Major McKinley and explained at some length the wishes and claims of the insurgents and their friends.

MURDERER TRAMP.

James McCue Follows His Victim Three Years Before Killing Him.

Akron, O., Jan. 5.—James McCue, an iron worker of Johnstown, Pa., gave himself up to Sheriff William Snyder as the murderer of Richard Vincent, a tramp telegraph operator, of Newark, N. J. He made a full confession. Vincent was killed here Dec. 31 in a pottery kiln while asleep. McCue declares he had searched for Vincent for three years, following him from place to place, to kill him. In 1893 Vincent assaulted him in Rochester, Pa., and he swore vengeance. Brooding over the injury doubtless caused insanity for this confession, with testimony given by Vincent's friends. McCue went with the officers and recovered the coupling pin he killed Vincent with. He is proud of the crime and says he has only killed the devil. The spirit told him to give himself up and he did so. He will plead guilty of murder if the sheriff tells him to do so.

After he killed Vincent he went to early mass at St. Vincent's church, and says he has spent his time in prayer since then. McCue's parents are dead and he has some property in Johnstown, still in his guardian's hands. Vincent was also known as Spencer and Provost. He came of a respectable family. Cornelius Carroll, a tramp, who heard McCue tell Vincent he had not long to live, is under arrest as a witness.

CASHIER COMMITS SUICIDE.

Yet Accounts of Christian Schauer, Jr. Are All Right.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 5.—Christian Schauer, Jr., cashier and treasurer of the National Bank for Savings, Allegheny, committed suicide this morning by hanging himself in a closet at the Allegheny gymnasium. His lifeless body was discovered by the janitor, who summoned physicians, who made efforts at resuscitation, but they were unavailing. It is supposed that Schauer was laboring under a fit of insanity, caused by illness. An examination of his affairs at the bank showed them to be all right. He shaved a widow. Schauer had been in the banking business for many years and was well known.

AT STATE CAPITAL

The Legislature Opened at Harrisburg Yesterday. Scenes on Floor.

MESSAGE OF THE GOVERNOR

It is Listened to with Close Attention by Both Branches—Henry K. Boyer Elected Speaker of the House—Senator Penrose Greeted with Applause and Floral Offerings. But One Senator Fails to Respond to Roll Call.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 5.—At noon today its presiding officer, Lieutenant Governor Lyon, called the senate to order. Long before the hour fixed for the opening session, visitors swarmed through the chamber greeting senators of their acquaintance or talking on the changes that have been made since the sessions of '95. The galleries were crowded and there was a lively interest taken in the proceedings. On the desks of Senators Penrose, Magee, Flynn, McCarroll and Vore, friends or admirers had placed floral decorations. The senate met at 12:30 p. m. in a club hall placed on Penrose's desk a chair bearing the word "Vindication." A large horseshoe was the gift of Magistrate Devlin, of Philadelphia. On the desk of Mr. Magee were two horseshoes, one from Alex P. Moore, of Pittsburg, and the other from A. H. Hoar, of Philadelphia. The "Hougraisse" association, of Philadelphia, presented Mr. Vore with a horseshoe, and on the desk of President Pro Tem McCarroll was a basket of flowers from a friend.

When Penrose entered the chamber, the speaker in a chair bearing the name of the Democratic caucus, Mr. Cochran, of Lycoming, who received the votes of the six Democrats. Lieutenant Governor Lyon appointed Messrs. Cochran and Walton to escort the president pro tem to the chair. On taking the chair Senator McCarroll thanked the members for the honor conferred upon him. He bestowed the co-operation of the senators in discharging his duties.

When Mr. McCarroll had concluded, Judge Simonton administered the oath of office. Chief Clerk Edward W. Smith was elected clerk by resolution. The president pro tem, was authorized to appoint all special and standing committees. Lieutenant Governor Lyon appointed Messrs. Grady, Meredith and Stiles to inform the house that the senate has convened and was ready for business. On the part of the senate, the lieutenant governor appointed Messrs. Short, Gobin and Kennedy to wait on Governor Hastings and inform him that the general assembly had organized and was ready for business.

At 1:45 the senate took a recess until 3 p. m.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

When the senate adjourned at 1:45 o'clock, it was to have met at 3 p. m. The committee of the senate and house which were to have waited upon the governor to inform him the general assembly had organized was not yet ready to report and it was 4 o'clock before Lieutenant Governor Lyon rapped the gavel for order. Then the committee made its report. The sergeant-at-arms announced Private Secretary Bettler, who presented the message. During the reading, which occupied considerably more than an hour, respectful attention was given. Chief Clerk Bentley and Reading Clerk Carson divided the task of delivering the message to the senate. At the conclusion of the reading the governor sent in the appointments made during the recess for confirmation. After they had been read the senate, on motion of Mr. Short, adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

IN THE HOUSE. An hour before noon the gallery of the house was filled with an interesting throng, many ladies being present. On the desks of prominent members were baskets of handsome flowers, and there was much good feeling displayed notwithstanding the fact that the only arduous struggle. Scores of ex-members of the assembly were on the floor exchanging greetings with their former associates.

The handsomely remodeled hall of the house, which admitted, the allegorical paintings on the paneled walls attracting much attention. There are group figures representing agriculture, science, literature and mechanics. The ceiling has been lowered twelve feet since the last session and the acoustic properties are much improved. It was mainly to remedy the defects of this character that the changes in the hall were made.

At 12 o'clock the retiring chief clerk, A. D. Fetterolf, rapped the house to order, and the aisles were quickly cleared. A fervent prayer was made by Rev. Ebenezer Adams, of Philadelphia, a member of the house. The ceremony of the Commonwealth Reader was here announced and presented the returns of the last election for members of the assembly. The clerk read the list of successful candidates. There were few absentees. A committee consisting of Messrs. Voorhees, of Philadelphia, and Muehlbromer, of Allegheny, was appointed to wait upon his honor, Judge Simonton, of Harrisburg, and request him to administer the oath of membership. The ceremony of administering the oath to the more than two hundred members consumed considerable time. The house next proceeded to the election of a speaker, on motion of Mr. Lytle, of Huntingdon, the honor was conferred on Henry K. Boyer, of Philadelphia. The chairman of the Democratic caucus, Mr. Long, of Philadelphia, nominated M. J. Lennan, of Lehigh, who received the votes of the Democrats. Mr. Boyer was chosen, voting 109 yeas, 109 nays, 32. On taking the chair Mr. Boyer made a short speech.

MR. BOYER'S REMARKS.

He said it was with the highest appreciation and thankfulness that he accepted this honor, for the third time conferred upon him by the house. He was impressed, he said, with the fact that this was no ordinary house, its rank of honor was higher than the average legislative body. He asked for the co-operation of the members in maintaining order in discharging the onerous and perplexing duties of the chair. He referred to the fact that before the hall of the house has been used too much as a thoroughfare for visitors, clerk and department employes, and the corridors as an assembly room for the blacks and others. He asked assistance in stopping this disorder in the future. Referring to legislation the speaker impressed upon the house the importance of care in increasing the expenditure of public funds. There must not be increased taxation; economy must be the watchword. He also referred to the necessity of wise legislation for the municipalities of the state.

REN FOR CHIEF CLERK.

The election of a chief clerk being next in order, Mr. Lytle nominated Jerry B. Rex, of Huntingdon, and Mr. Long, of York, nominated Colonel James Sweeney, of Hazleton. The ballot resulted: Rex, 167; Sweeney, 39. Mr. Rex was then sworn in by Speaker Boyer.

A. D. Fetterolf, of Montgomery, was nominated for resident clerk and elected. John P. Dohoney, of Harrisburg, received the Democratic vote.

After swearing in the resident clerk the speaker appointed Messrs. Gould, of Erie; Semmer, of Somerset, and Schofield, of Centre, a committee to notify the senate of the organization of the house.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

Valuable Suggestions Bearing Upon the Interests of Commonwealth. To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. In compliance with law, I have the honor to submit at the beginning of your session, such information as the state of the Commonwealth, and to lay before you such recommendations, as appear to be timely and proper for your consideration. It is with profound satisfaction, I have to record that the two years intervening since your last meeting have been characterized by the general depression throughout the land, but the industry of our people, our business and our industrial and commercial conditions comparatively unimpaired. Our population, our agriculture, our commerce, our manufacturing and mining interests, while suffering their full share in the general depression, have stood the strain with unabated confidence in the future. No occasion has existed for calling forth the strong arm of the law. No peace has been disturbed by the general hand of the law. No peace has been disturbed by the general hand of the law. No peace has been disturbed by the general hand of the law.

CONGRESS AGAIN OPEN FOR BUSINESS

A Resolution Introduced Asking for the Release of Sanguliy.

HOUSE TO CONSIDER THE LOUD BILL

The Measure to Amend Postal Laws So As to Exclude Sample Copies and Serial Novel Publications from the Mail is Opposed by Messrs. Quigg, Johnson and Cummings.

Washington, Jan. 5.—There was no public interest manifested in the re-assembling of the senate after the holiday recess. There was, as shown by a call of the senate, forty-nine senators present, only four more than the number necessary to constitute a quorum. The proceedings were unimportant as they were uninteresting. Mr. Peffer, of Kansas, read a speech in favor of a joint resolution introduced by him on the 14th of December for the appointment of a national monetary commission to examine and study the general subject of finances in its practical relations to the business affairs of the people of the United States. After the speech the joint resolution was referred to the committee on finance.

A memorial was presented from the Massachusetts Historical society for the repair and preservation of the famous old frigate Constitution, as a naval museum. Just as Nelson's battleship, Victory, is preserved at Portsmouth. A joint resolution was introduced by Mr. Call, of Florida, instructing the president to "demand the immediate release" of Julio Sanguliy, condemned to perpetual imprisonment for his connection with the Cuban insurrection. The matter went over till tomorrow, when Mr. Call is to address the senate upon it.

HOUSE DELIBERATIONS.

Only about half the members of the house were in their seats today when that body was called to order, after the holiday recess and entered upon the bulk of the work of the last session of the Fifty-fourth congress. A resolution introduced by Mr. Broderick (Rep., Kan.) was agreed to, calling upon the secretary of the interior to report to the house the reason why patents for lands in Kansas granted to old Kansas Pacific railroad company had not been patented to the company and why homestead entries upon them were being permitted to be made by the officers of the Topeka Land district. By the terms of the order adopted Dec. 19, the house resolved itself into committee of the whole to consider the Loud bill to amend the postal laws by excluding "sample copies" and serial novel publications from the second class mail matter, which held the floor for the rest of the day. The passage of the bill was advocated by Messrs. Kyle, Mississippi; Burton and Bromwell, Ohio, and Ogden, Louisiana, and opposed by Messrs. Quigg, New York; Johnson, California, and Cummings, New York.

The pair were returning from school to their home on the west side of the reservoir and were accompanied by their 9-year-old brother. The boy had sunk through the ice first. Willie was too near the brink to escape and plunged in head foremost.
