casion shown his friendship for the Scranton Elks and they have frequently made themselves evident to him; neither the local lodge nor the actor ever loses an opportunity for doing the other a good turn. So it was that the gift of the care was hit upon as a pian for another evidence of the lodge's thought and goodwill . The Detroit Free Press of Jan. 2, says

THE PRESENTATION. "The Detroit Opera house was crowded to its utmost limit with the largest audience which has ever greeted Roland Reed in this city and though he was undoubtedly highly gratified by this event an incident not on the bill occurred, which gave him indefinitely more pleasure.

"Mr. Reed is one of the most prominent members of the Elks, and the lodge at Scranton, Pa., as a memento of their good will sent to the local lodge of their order a handsome gold headed cane with a request that it be presented to him here on New Year's night. The Detroit Elks, therefore, made it a gala occasion, and selected Brother Aldrich to make the presentation

At the end of the second act of "The Wrong Mr. Wright" Mr. Reed was called before the curtain, but before he could say a word Mr. Aldrich stepped on the stage, made a very clever speech and presented Mr. Reed with the gift from his Scranton brethren. The comedian was taken entirely by surprise, but his usual nonchalance did not desert him and he replied very wittily. The local Elks presented Miss Rush with a handsome basket of roses and lilles and after the performance

Mr. Reed and his company were entertained at the lodge rooms." Mr. Aldrich's address to Mr. Reed was as follows:

MR. ALDRICH'S ADDRESS. "Mr. Reed, this unusual interruption I assure you carries with it no thought or manace of danger, but on the contrary the kindest of fraternal greeting. I shall not speak to you sir, of your brilliant professional career, it needs no eulogy from me, it is co-extensive with the English language, but rather will I speak of those noble qualities of

Exposure to Disease

Does not necessarily mean the contraction of disease provided the sys-tem is in a vigorous condition, with the blood pure and all the organs in healthy action. When in such a condi-tion contagious is readily resisted and the disease germs can find no lodgment. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine to build up the system because it makes pure, rich blood, and pure blood is the basis of good health. In cold-weather it is especially necessary to keep up the health tone because the body is subject to greater exposure and more liable to disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the safeguard of health.

Mr. J. H. Plummer, the publisher of the Woman's World and Jenness Mil-ler Monthly, offers $100.00 in gold to the persons forming the largest number of words from the word Endeavors." These contest have proved very
