PREPARING THE BEN HUR SPECTACLE

Mrs. H. J. Anderson, the Director, Has Appointed the Chaperones for the Dances -- It Promises to Be a Brilliant Production -- A Quiet Week After the Holiday Activity. Personal Paragraphs.

The lull that always follows a holiday season was apparent during the week. There will be a revival, of course. Visions of Lent are not far off an there will be some activity before the forty days of abstinence from the pomps and vanities of the world.

Just now the young ladies and their chaperones are preparing for the Ben Hur spectacle to be given in the Froth-Ingham for the benefit of the Summer Home of the Men's guild of St. Luke's Episcopal church, Mrs. H. J. Anderson, who will direct the production, has announced the following chaperones:

Priestesses of Apollo-Mrs. William T. Smith, Mrs. James Archbald, Mrs. Henry Belin, jr. Nymphs of Daphne-Mrs. J. Ben Dim-Nymphs of Daphne-Mrs. W. W.

mick, Miss Jennie Reynolds, Mrs. W. W. Scranton, Mrs. Charles S. Weston, Arabian Girls-Mrs. Everett Warren,

Mrs. H. W. Kingsbury. Egyptian Maldens-Mrs. H. P. Simpson, Mrs. A. H. Storrs.

The concert to be given in the Frothingham theatre on Monday evening February 1, under the auspices of the Railroad department of the Young Men's Christian Association, will be an affair of social as well as musical importance. Mrs. W. F. Hallstead and Mrs. James Archbald are selecting the patronesses and the list will be ready for publication in a few days. The singers will be Kathrin Hilke, soprano; Mary Louise Clary, contralto; J. Henry McKinley, tenor and Carl E. Dufft, bass-baritone. Miss Clary is said to be the finest contralto that this country has produced since Annie Louise Cary.
