THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE-MUNDAY MORNING, JANUARY 11, 1897.

FORECAST OF THE WEEK IN CONGRESS

Business That Will Occupy the Time of the House.

CUBA TO BE DISCUSSED IN SENATE

Mr. Mills of Texas is Booked for a Speech of a Sensational Nature. Senator Proctor Will Speak Upon Today's Meeting His Resolution for Constitutional Amendment, Making the Presidential Term Six Years.

Washington, Jan. 10 .- Voting upon the Pacific railroad funding bill and amendments will occupy the house tomorrow. The vote is likely to be close, but it is thought the bill will be defeated.

For the remainder of the week appropriation bills will probably have the right of way. The managers of the house are determined that no measure imposing additonal charges either upon the credit or the revenue of the government shall receive consideration at this session, if they can prevent it. The Nicaragua canal bill and several other propositions involving financial respon-sibilities, may therefore be considered dead, so far as the congress is concerned. On Saturday afternoon the house will constructively listen to eulogies upon the late ex-Speaker Crisp, of Georgia.

In the senate tomorrow Mr. Mills, of Texas, is booked for a speech on Cuba. His text will be the resolution he introduced a few days ago recognizing the independence of the republic of Cuba, declaring it to be the duty of the executive to act in harmony with congress in recognizing a new state and appropriating a sum sufficient to pay a diplomatic representative to the republic when the president shall have appointed one.

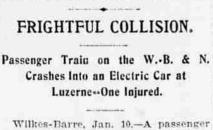

SENSATIONAL TALK EXPECTED.

The extreme positon taken by Mr. Mills leads to the belief that his speech may be, to some extent, sensational and that his criticism of the attitude of Mr. Olney may be severe.

Senators are awaiting the return of Mr. Cameron, who is in charge of the Cuban question. There does not appear to be any desire just now to push the recognition resolutions.

Mr. Proctor, of Vermont, has given notice that tomorrow he will address the senate on his resolution for a constiutional amendment making the presidential office a six-year term and the occupant ineligible for two terms in succession, also making the terms of members of congress three instead of two years.

Early in the week the attempt will be made to secure a vote on the Okla-homa free homestead bill and when that is out of the way the senate Pacific railroads refunding bill may be taken up unless the house shows such hostility to Pacific railroad legislation as to make the attempt hopeless.

Judge Goff has been asked to take the attorney-generalship and has accepted. lie will be one of Major McKinley's advisors." As to his own aspirations Mr. Scott said that the only office he sought was the commissionership of internal revenue, and added that his candidacy had been endorsed not only by his own state but also by Virginia and Mis-Major McKinley has assured his Missouri friends that he would be well taken care of.

of the Electors

From the Philadelphia Bulletin, The real, or constitutional, election which will determine the choice of Penn-sylvania for president and vice-president of the United States will be held at Hur-risburg on Monday. On that day will as-semble at the capitol the thirty-two citizens who were chosen in November last to name the men who in their judgment, theoretically, will represent the wishes of the people of Pennsylvania. There is nothing in the constitution or the laws which prevents in the slightest degree Joseph Wharton and his colleagues from carting their votes for anythest whom Joseph Wharton and his colleagues from casting their votes for anybody whom they may see fit to designate. They may vote togother as a whole for president and vice-president, or each of the thirty-two may vote as it pleases him for his own set of candidates. Nothing will obli-gate them to cast their votes for McKin-ley and Hobart other than the tacit or implied understanding into which they entered when they were nominated for electors by the Republican state conven-tion of last summer. If news were to come from Canton today that Mr. Mc-Kinley is dead, they would be at entire liberty to vote for any other cltizen.

It is remarkable that there has never been an instance in the history of the country when any elector cast his vote in lirect or deliberate opposition to the wishes of those who elected him since the ime when the original theory of the Electoral college became radically changed. In 1876-77, when a transfer of an electo-ral vote from Hayes to Tilden would have mmediately settled the great controversy over the presidential succession and would have ended the possibility that then and would nullify the schemes for throw-ing out the Tilden voters in Florida and Louisiana. But Lowell replied that he had been chosen in good faith to vote for Hayes, that he represented the people Massachusetts and that it would be an act of perildy to cast his ballot for any-body else. It is not unlikely, indeed, that be a high patriotic duty, would be in ac-cord with the popular vote of the country and would nullify the schemes for throw-

There have been instances, however, when electors have voted for candidates other than those whom they were chosen to support; but in no case where the result as been thus materially affected. When Monroe was elected in the "era of good feeling," there was no opposition to him; out one elector in New England who did not wish that any other American should enjoy the same honor as Washington of unanimous election to the presidency, cast his vote for John Quincy Adams, sim-ply to break the unanimity for Monroe. Again, under the old system of choosing the president and vice-president from the two highest candidates in the electoral betrayal of his party.

MARKETS AND STOCKS Wall Street Review. New York, Jan. 9.—The stock market was irregular, but in the main weak, towhen every attempt was made by the Democrats to reach some elector who a single break in the entire line. At one time some efforts were made to persuade fames Russell Lowell and Henry L. Pearce-who were Hayes electors in Mas-sachusetts, and who were suspected of being what in after years came to be known as Mugwumps-to cast their votes for Tilden. It was argued that this would be a high patriotic duty, would be in acthe weakness of this specialty. Union Pacific was adversely affected by Wash-ington rumors that the funding bill will Insiders here, however, stated that there was no truth in the report, and at the close the early gain in the stock was lost. Chicose the style suffered a break of nearly six points, falling to 32 owing to unsatisfac-tory trade conditions. Just near the close barks of central bounded up 2 per cent.

The rise had no influence on the general market, which left off weak in tone. The bank statement was was a remarkably good exhibit, but it also fell flat. The in-crease in reserve was enormous, amount-ing to $10,704,500. The gain in cash, legal tenders and specie footed up $15,07,200. and the increase in deposits $17,253,200. The banks now hold $43,991,450 in excess of legal requirements. As a rule the active stocks show losses of $4al per cent, of day. Jersey Central, however, gained 2 per cent.

The force of the collision hurled the trolley car through the side of a dwelling house, and one passenger, David Smith, a carpenter of this city, was painfully injured. The engine and car was ascending the grade when the coupling suddenly vis and other Democrats. snapped and the car started backward Two men were on the car and both jumped to the brake. Either the latter was defective or the sudden pulling of the men broke the chain and the brake refused to work. The men stuck to the car and as foot after foot of the mountain grade was traversed the momentum of the car increased until it fairly flew down the hill, From Dallas to Luzerne is five miles yet it seemed to the frightened men clinging to the rear platform like so many rods. Whizzing through cuttings, swinging round curves, speeding over big fillings, the car sold on until Luzerne borough was reached. Here the Wilkes-Barre and Northern and the electric line unites and to the horror of the men on the flying car, they saw an electric car slowly ascending the hill. About the same time the passengers in the latter car saw the threatened danger and they made a general rush for the door. All got out safely but David Smith. He had just reached the door when the crash came. The car in which he was standing was lifted from the track and hurled into the side of a dwelling house standing about forty feet away. Smith was caught in the wreck and badly injured.

Willing hands soon dug him out, placed him in an ambulance and sent him home Both cars were completely wrecked The men who were on the runaway car escaped injury, and the motorman and conductor saved their lives by jumping

BITTER CONTEST AHEAD.

The Selection of a Senator at Washington Will Be Difficult.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 10 .- The state legislature, which assembles at Olympia will chose a successor to United States Senator Watson C. Squire. Indications point to a bitter contest. Judge George Turner, of Spokane, free silver Republican; Richard Winser, of Seattle, Popullst, and Senator Squire, free silver Republican, are leading candidates and several dark horses are being groomed. The legislature stands on joint ballot 15 silver Republicans, 15 Democrats 56 Populists and 25 Republicans, with one contest between a Populist and straight Republican.

The legislature which elected John L. Wilson to the senate two years ago, stood on joint ballot 78 Republicans, 24 Populists and 10 Democrats.

JUDGE NATHAN GOFF ACCEPTS.

He Will Be Attorney General in Mr Mckinley's Cabinet.

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan, 10 .- In an interview Hon. Nathan B. Scott, national committeeman, from West Vir-ginia, and one of Chairman Hanna's admirers confirmed the report that Judge Nathan Goff, of this state would be attorney general in McKinley's cabinet. When questioned as to the correctness of the rumor placing Judge Goff in attorney general Harmon's place, Mr. Scott said:

made in Congress hall, at Sixth and Chestnut streets, Hamilton as the leader of the Federalists, sent instructions to the party managers in some of the states to see that there should be some votes cast against Adams. In 1872, when Greeley died in the interval between the popular elec-tion in November and the assembling of the electors, the votes of those who were chosen in his interest were scattered Thomas A. Hendricks, David Da-The Electoral college, while it has been entirely diverted from its original basis as a body of citizens who should exercise their best judgment as to the choice of a president and has been brought in direct relations to the people in a manner not contemplated by the framers of the con-stitution, is the model on which Mexico and all the other American republics have established their system of electing the chief executive. The French president is chosen by the senators and deputies, sitting as a national assembly, and in no other country is there a direct vote of the eople. Indeed, it was not until the time of the Jacksonian era, with its popular or democratic tendencies in all directions fol- a congressional caucus system of nomi-nating presidential candidates, that the Electoral college was brought close to the united States. Pennsylvania's electoral vote, for May example, was divided between Adams and Jefferson, when the senate and the house declined to meet in joint convention, and each choose half of the electors, accord-ing to its partisan majority; and New May York, in 1824, voting by congressional districts, cast twenty for Jackson and sixteen for Crawford. The only departure we have had in recent years from the uniformity of the electoral system in the states was when the Democrats of Michigan passed the law, since repealed by which the state voted for its electors in congressional districts in 1892.

Simple as are the proceedings of the Simple as are the proceedings of the Electoral college, they are usually so planned, at least in Pennsylvania, as to give every elector an opportunity to say or do something or to go on the of-ficial record. The official presence of the secretary of state in charge of the meetng enables a variety of motions to be nude; secretaries, sergeants-at-arms, made; secretaries, sergeants-at-arms, doorkeepers, etc., are appointed to su-perintend the august little conclave, which is usually in session for only an hour or two, and no reasonable excuse by which the small appropriation of the state for the payment of expenses may be drawn mon is neglacted. The elecbe drawn upon, is neglected. The elec-tors themselves receive $3 a day for the time actually given up to the work of the college and their mileage; they fill any vacancies caused by the absence, through death or sickness, of associates; they write the name of their choice for they write the name of their choice for president and vice-president on a card, and their chief subject of anxiety is the selection from among themselves of the messenger charged with the function of carrying in person to the seat of governearrying in person to the sait of govern-ing the lists of the votes. Any heart-burn-ings on this score are partly relieved, however, by the choice of another elector who carries to the United States judge of the eastern district of Pennsylvania a duplicate of the list, and by still another, where duplicate is percended to the postor
