Miss Ida Williams, of Eynon street. The meeting yesterday was att was married on Dec. 19, 1896, to John by all but two of the directors. Truesdell, an employe at the Wyoming house. The report of the marriage has been current for a short time, and last evening a Tribune reporter called at the home of the bride's father at 1153 Eynon street, where Mr. and Mrs.

Truesdell are now residing. Mr. Truesdell himself answered the the rumor, and simply said that when he was ready he would give the announcement of the wedding to the papers. He would have called at the office if he wished it made public before this time, he said. Mrs. Truesdell is the daughter of John P. Williams.

She is an exceedingly attractive young woman, and is well and widely known. Mr. Truesdell is a fine specimen of manfood and he has made many friends.

when It was seen that the aged man could not live. Mr. Freeman reached his father's bedside, after a ride of 1,100 miles, but the sick man was unconscious and expired without recovering consciousness. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon of this week. Mr. Freeman moved to Ballevue Heights from Carbondale in 1853, about the time the Bellevue breaker commenced shipment of coal. The place was then but a bunch of a few small houses. Thirteen years ago he moved to Iowa. To his many friends Mr. Freeman was known as a man of sterling worth, of a generous nature, and the oldest residents of Bellevue, who remember him, praise his good character. He is survived by a wife and three children: Thomas, who is fire boss in the Beltevue shaft: William, of South America; and Mrs. Reese Evans, of Williamsburg, Ia. Thomas Freeman has not re turned home yet.

A call is made to the people of the West Side to patronize the sub-postal station which was established on this side on Jan. 2. The station is at Decker's drug store on North Main avenue four doors above Jackson street, on the westerly side of the avenue. Miss Gertrude Decker is the obliging clerk It means a great deal to the success of the sub-station and to a future extension of yet limited service given, that West Side people generally should buy their stamps, stamped envelopes, postal cards and wrappers at the station. The business thus far has been anything but encouraging. The North End station, established at the same time es the West Side station, has done a greater business, and the North End cannot boast of as great a population, either. Miss Decker is paid by the gov ernment, and your patronage will not increase her salary, but it will go a great way toward having a still better service on this side.

THE AMERICAN BIKE.

It Is Shipped All Over the World in Great Numbers.

American bicycles must certainly be pre-ferred in all parts of the world to any other makes, if the values of the exports of bicycles and cycle merchandlse, as given by the United States treasury de-partment, are a criterion. Few persons beside those directly interested have a fair conception of the immense number of wheels that are monthly exported to vari-ous foreign countries. The great demand for American-made wheels is a great trib-ute to the skill of the manufacturers of this nation and the quality of their pro-ductions.

During the month of September the value of bicycle and cycle sundries exported to foreign countries was $392.382. Estimating the value of each wheel to be $25, that would be an equivalent to the sale for export alone of 12,113 wheels in one month, or 484 wheels per day. These figures are for exports only. They will convey a fair tidea of the magnitude of the cycle industry in this country.
During the nine months of 1896, including September, the value of the exports of American bleycles and sundries was $3,155.657. Allowing $25 as the average value, these figures would be equivalent to 125,615 bleycles shipped in nine months, or an average of 14,068 per month, or 563 per day. Thus it will be seen that the exports for September were somewhat lower than the average.

verage. Great Britain was the heaviest purchas Great Britain was the heaviest purchaser, the exports to that country for the month amounting to $106,714; for the nine months, $1,629,971, a decrease of nearly $8,600 from the average for the nine months. The figures for the nine months. The figures for the nine months show an average shipment per month tallowing $25 per wheel) of 40,858 wheels, which is at the rate of 4,657 per month (25 working days to the month), or [8] per day. Certainly there must be some superiority of American-made wheels over British productions when the demand for American cycles is so great as to require an experiation of an average of 1,600 wheels per day. The following table shows the value of bleyde shipments:
