county jail with a decidedly unenviable charge against him. Mary F. Gallagher is the complainant and she alleges that Johnson has refused to keep his promise and marry her. SLEPT ON A CULM HEAP. Kintneck Selected a Very Dangerous Place to Rest.

Anthony Kintneck, a young man of Dyessa, went to sleep on Hallstead colliery dump, Thursday night, and when discovered yesterday morning he was unconscious and almost dead from inhaling the sulphurous fumes emitted by the burning culm.

Kintneck was found at 8.30 o'clock by Hotel proprietor Paul Urban, whose place is just opposite the culm bank. He was carried into the hotel and after a couple of hours work by physicians he revived sufficiently to be removed to his boarding house. His condition was very critical and there was fear that it would be impossible to save his life.

Kintneck attended a political meeting at Urban's hotel Thursday night. He left for home late in the evening and that was the last seen of him until his unconscious form was espied on the culm dump by Urban in the morning.

He is 25 years of age and came to this country from Germany only a few years ago. He boarded with John Shafer, whose home is near the Lehigh Valley cut-off.

Much interest and enthusiasm was shown in the association by those who attended last night's meeting. The association has a membership of about fifty, which includes Judges Alfred Hand, W. H. Jessup, R. W. Archibald and E. N. Willard.

The constitution does not restrict the membership to alumni. Undergraduates' applications will also be received.

OTHER CHILD'S NARROW ESCAPE

It Was Taken from the Smoke-Filled Room by Heroic Mrs. Monie--Edna Died in the Arms of John Whittemore--Coroner Longstreet Empowered a Jury Which Will Meet Monday Night.

Edna, the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Bull, of the Hill block, on New York street, was fatally burned yesterday morning by a blaze which for a time threatened the structure in which the bereaved family resides.

The grey of early morning was just beginning to dissipate yesterday morning as Mr. and Mrs. Bull arose from their slumbers, leaving in a crib, directly in front of their bed, the 4-year-old daughter, Edna. In the bed was their younger child, a chubby little mite of about 2 years.

The father prepared himself for the day's labor; he is a steam fitter, and the mother busied herself with the preparation of breakfast, which, being served, the husband departed for the scene of his day's work.

At a few minutes past 8 o'clock Mrs. Bull thought she detected the odor of burning cloth. It was a vague, un-

MASS MEETING WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Elm Park Church Will Be the Scene of a Great Gathering.

NOTED MEN HAVE BEEN INVITED

Prayer Meetings in All the Churches on That Evening Will Be Given Up to Enable Church-Goers to Attend the Union Services--Object for Which the Meeting is Held--It Is in Charge of the Pastors' Union.

In accordance with the appeal which has been sent out by the representatives of twenty-seven of the great missionary societies of North America, the churches of Scranton, in accordance with the action taken at the last meeting of the Pastors' union, have decided to unite on Wednesday evening in an immense mass meeting which is to be held in the Elm Park Methodist church.

The prayer meeting in all the churches for that evening will be given up for the union service.

The programme committee is in correspondence with some of the most prominent missionary leaders in the country, and hopes to secure a definite answer from one or more of them in time for the Sunday morning announcement in the churches.

D. L. Moody has been invited, and also Rev. Arthur P. Pierson, D. D., well known to the people of the famous Missionary Review of the World.

DESIRE OF COMMITTEE. It is desired by the committee on arrangements, of which Dr. James McLeod is chairman, that all the pastors in the city will unite in giving special emphasis to the announcements concerning this meeting at tomorrow's services.

The circular which has been sent out by these boards and societies states that although the twentieth century of the Christian era is dawning, yet millions have never heard the name of Christ, and that the darkness of heathenism still envelops nearly two-thirds of the population of the globe.

The statement is also made that the opportunity for world-wide evangelism was never so great as at present; that the Christian church has the men and the money, and that her responsibility has therefore proportionately increased, and yet on this long occupied and white soil to harvest the supply of laborers is utterly inadequate; that established work is crippled; that reinforcements are needed, and that advance is impossible until renewed interest is aroused and gifts to missionary enterprises greatly enlarged.

HELD IN PRINCIPAL CITIES. This service is one of the many services which are being held in all the principal towns and cities in the United States and Canada, the object being not only to arouse the Christian, but to present to the world the essential unity of the great Protestant evangelical denominations which, though differing in name and in forms of church government, are nevertheless one in their object, in their profession of faith in Christ and in their loyalty to the Bible as the word of God and the only rule of faith and action.

THE BAR BANQUET. Arguments in the Old Forge School District Injunction.

Arguments were heard by Judge Gunster in chambers yesterday on the injunction against the school district of Old Forge prayed for by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company. The plaintiff seeks to restrain the school board from bonding the township as proposed to the extent of $15,000 for the erection of a high school, alleging that such an action is illegal during the pendency of proceedings to divide the township.

Major Warren appeared for the company and H. M. Hannah for the school district.

Final Arrangement of the Toast List to Be Made Today. Another meeting of the banquet committee of the Bar association will be held today, when final arrangements will be made regarding the matter of speakers.

EX-CHIEF JUSTICE PAXSON, Judge Orally, Judge McPherson, Major Everett Warren and Colonel Frank J. Fitzsimons are among those who have accepted invitations to respond to toasts. Judge Edwards, it is expected, will be toastmaster, and City Solicitor James H. Torrey chairman.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES. William Meszuck's Fall at Tripp's Crossing Proved Fatal.

William Meszuck, who was injured a month ago by falling into a ravine near Tripp's crossing, died yesterday at the Lackawanna hospital. His countrymen in the North End are now engaged in raising sufficient funds to have the remains properly interred. Meszuck has a wife and two children in Poland.

There will be a joint caucus of the Seventeenth ward Republicans at Alderman Howe's office, 522 Lackawanna avenue, Saturday, Jan. 16, 1897, between the hours of 7 and 9 p. m. for the purpose of placing in nomination one person for the common council and district election officers. CONSTABLE MILLER WINS. Verdict Supports Fraud in the Kaplan & Co. Dealings.

The jury in the trespass case of M. Kaplan & Co., against Constable J. S. Miller came into court yesterday morning at 9 o'clock and returned a verdict in favor of the defendant. The main contention of the defense was that there had been fraudulent collusion between Kaplan & Co. and Seldman & Co. to defraud the creditors in whose interest the constable was acting when he broke in the door of Kaplan & Co.'s store.

This concluded the work of the week and court was adjourned until Monday by Judge Edwards.

Among the orders handed down yesterday was one conditionally confirming the report of the auditor in the case of C. J. Wilbur against T. W. Hankins, and another fixing Feb. 4 as the time for hearing arguments in the matter of the insolvency of B. S. Sutton.

OLD HANDLEY PROPERTY. One of Scranton's Land Marks Soon to Disappear.

The old Handley property at the corner of Spruce street and Wyoming avenue, which has long been one of the landmarks of Scranton, has been placed in the hands of Real Estate Agent C. P. Jadin for sale by the executor of the estate.

The exact manner in which the property is to be disposed of could not be learned, but it is understood that the plot will be re-mapped into lots and sold in sections. Two local parties and one New York city concern have under consideration the purchase of the greater portion of the property, and the probabilities are that within a short time this site will be occupied by modern business blocks.

THE RISING GENERATION.

It Attracted the Largest House of the Season at the Academy.

It was the largest house of the season that greeted William Barry and his company at the Academy of Music last evening and it was also probably one of the most enthusiastic.

Fully one-half of those in the audience had seen the "Rising Generation" once or twice before, yet they gathered as heartily and enjoyed Barry's characterization of Martin Meschane as much as they did the first time they saw it.

Barry sang a song, "The Boys That Came Over from Ireland," which made a great hit. His daughter, Miss Lydia Barry, sang several selections among them one composed by herself, "My Love for You Is True."

The Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Philadelphia, and the Late Byron L. Richards, of this City. A Prompt and Characteristic Settlement.

The Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia paid today through Messrs. Bourne & Durham, general managers for Northeastern and Central Pennsylvania, the amount of their policy—$10,000.00—in the life of the late Byron L. Richards, of this city, the company's check for the full amount having been sent to Messrs. Bourne & Durham immediately upon receipt of the proofs of loss and within three days of the date upon which they were notified of the loss.

The business of the Penn for the past year was of an unusually satisfactory character and the forthcoming annual statement will show substantial gains and marked progress in all important directions.

The company's business in this section was the largest in the history of the agency and the outlook for the current year is all that could be desired or expected.

Business men appreciate the fact that the policies of the Penn give them insurance that positively insures without quibble or dispute, and that they are far ahead of all others in the substantial guarantees which they offer to insurers in the way of solid protection.
