MOVEMENTS OF THE INSURGENTS

Interesting Story of the Long Siege at Guamo.

PLUCKY DEFENSE OF THE FORT

The Insurgents Cut Off Water Supply of the Garrison--Spanish Brigade Under Command of General Molin Has Had an Engagement with the Rebel Troops.

Havana, Jan. 22.--Upon the return to Manzanillo of the gunboat Centinela after the sinking in the Cauto river of the command of the Belcamp by the explosion of a torpedo planted by the rebels, orders were given for a force of Spanish troops to proceed to Guamo to relieve the besieged garrison there, which had been the object of the naval expedition, but which had been frustrated by the loss of the Belcamp and the death of its commander.

The relieving expedition was under the command of Colonel Tovar, who with his brigade marched along the left bank of the Cauto river, meeting detached parties of rebels at various places along the route. At Cayamo the insurgents were gathered in quite strong force, but after a short engagement they were driven from the town. The Spanish force then proceeded for Guamo, where they found that the insurgents who had been attempting to capture the fort, had disappeared. It was learned that the rebels had attacked the fort on January 6. They were in two columns, one operating from the right bank of the river being under the command of Calixto Garcia, and the other operating from the left bank being led by Rabi. Many attempts were made to carry the fort by assault, but in every instance the garrison compelled the enemy to retire. The insurgents had artillery and the projectiles from their cannon were directed at the fort, but did no serious damage to the heavy walls of the structure.

WATER SUPPLIES CUT OFF.

Finding themselves unable to capture the Spanish position the rebels determined to attempt to compel its surrender by cutting off the supply of water. In pursuance of this object trenches were dug in front of the place from which the garrison obtained its water, and a detachment of rebels were placed therein to prevent the troops approaching. The garrison, however, had sufficient water to last with economy until the early part of the afternoon, when the Spanish position was determined to attempt to compel its surrender by cutting off the supply of water.

The siege lasted fourteen days. The garrison lost three killed and eight wounded, while twelve men were made sick by the close confinement within the walls of the fort, the scant rations and short supply of water.

A MYSTERIOUS SUICIDE.

Body of a Fashionably Dressed Man Found in Illinois.

Alton, Ill., Jan. 22.--A farmer, who was looking for stock along the Mississippi bank, a mile below this city, came upon the body of a man lying near the water's edge, and reported the fact to the police. The body was that of a young man dressed in the height of fashion. In the forehead just above the right temple was a wound that told the story in their flight many of them threw themselves into the Havana river and 15 were drowned and 24 perished by sinking in the mud. The troops lost two killed and seven wounded.

SENSATION AT LYNN.

The Wife of a Prominent Shoe Manufacturer is Arrested.

Lynn, Mass., Jan. 22.--Lynn people were given a sensation this evening in the arrest of the wife of one of the most prominent shoe manufacturers in this city and a traveling salesman from Oswego, N. Y., for adultery. The arrest was made at the hotel Seymour and was attended with very sensational features as the woman's husband and his brother, accompanied by a private detective, broke into the room. The woman is Mrs. Nellie Jones, wife of A. Henry Jones, of the firm of V. K. and A. H. Jones. She is a good looking woman about forty years and ten years her husband's junior. The salesman registered at the Seymour about three weeks ago under the name of C. J. Witheraux. Jones and his wife have lived at the Seymour for several months. He alleges that very soon after the arrival of Witheraux he saw things which convinced him that his wife was altogether too friendly with him and he determined to watch the pair.

ORGANIZATION OF PEOPLE'S ALLIANCE

Free Silver and Anti-Trust Party Formed at Johnstown.

LETTER FROM CHAIRMAN GARMAN

The State Leader Predicts That McKinley Will Be Swept From Power Four Years Hence--The Free Silver and Anti-Trust Fight--Purpose of the Organization.

Johnstown, Pa., Jan. 22.--The People's alliance held a meeting here today when several letters were read including one from State Chairman Garman, who writes in part as follows: "I believe that your proceeding if extended throughout the state would do a great deal of good. I certainly endorse your project and will do all that I can possibly, either by word or influence, to promote it. However, it would be impossible for me at this distance to make suggestions as to the plan or scope of the organization and I have simply this to say therefore, with respect to it: That the purposes of the organization are right and whatever I can do at any time to advance the organization and promote its interests, shall be cheerfully and promptly done. I agree with you that the probabilities are such, that at the end of four years the people will sweep McKinley out of power and McKimleyism with him, with a greater degree of unanimity than that manifested in putting him into power this time and with much less expenditure of cash."

HANNA FOR THE SENATE.

Ohio Legislature Favors the Chairman. Various Rumors Regarding the Appointment.

Columbus, O., Jan. 22.--The intense interest in the selection of the successor of Senator Sherman brought nearly the whole membership of the seventy-second general assembly to the reunion today and the banquet to-night, where Governor Campbell presided and Chairman Mark A. Hanna, among others, responded to a toast.

"I have merely come down for an outing," said Chairman Hanna this afternoon. "I have not been in the best of health for some time, and took advantage of the kind invitation to join in the reunion of members of the general assembly, with nearly all of whom I am personally acquainted. There is nothing political in my visit."

It is not believed, however, that Mr. Hanna came here solely for his health. Governor Bushnell called upon Mr. Hanna at his quarters this evening and the two chatted for a short time. Their meeting was not a conference, however, in any sense of the word.

A more significant fact was the conference in the governor's private office, William R. Day, of Canton, a close friend of President-elect McKinley and Lieutenant-Governor Jones, were present. Mr. Day denied himself to newspaper men and left the city soon after the conference.

Lieutenant-Governor Jones would not discuss the senatorial question. Ex-Governor Foster had engaged quarters but telegraphed today that he would not be in the city. Senator Hathaway, speaker of the house, who seemed to be managing Foster's boom for the senate at once left the city.

It is evident that the majority of the members of the legislature present are for Hanna, and the report of the committee on the part of the state committee who is very close to Governor Bushnell and Senator Foraker, that Bushnell will not appoint Hanna to the senate. From the same source also comes the statement that the governor will not call a special session of the legislature.

From other sources it is reported that Bushnell will propose to Hanna that inasmuch as the workmen were appealed to in the late campaign to support the Republican ticket and responded nobly, and there are plenty of pliers in the senate and no representative of the laboring classes, one of the latter should be appointed to the vacancy.

To meet this the Hanna advocates are using a statement made by John McHenry, ex-president of the United Mine Workers, to the effect that Hanna was the fairest man in his dealings with his employes that he ever knew.

Washington, Jan. 22.--It was decided at the cabinet meeting to begin foreclosure proceedings against the Pacific railroads at once. The line of procedure will be as indicated by the attorney general in his annual report where he says: "I have grave doubts as to the ability of the government to preserve the present situation much longer. I think that unless the pending funding bill be passed and accepted the government should endeavor to secure terms for its appearance in court in the way of assurance of such a bid on the property in case of judicial sale as will secure to it a fair realization of the value of its lien. If this be not done, and the government should be compelled to sue to protect its own interests, or required to appear and set up its claim in the pending cases, the benefit of the position so long maintained may be largely lost."

114 AND 116 WYOMING AVE.

ELEVEN MAY BE LOST.

Woman and Child May Be Among Victims of Nahum Chapin Disaster.

Quogue, L. I., Jan. 22.--At daylight today an active search was begun for the bodies of the victims of the wrecked schooner Nahum Chapin. Only one has been recovered thus far, which is believed to be that of Captain S. F. Arcey. It has not been positively identified, but the brother of the captain is expected here today to see whether he can recognize the body. The shores are being patrolled by the life savers of the Quogue, Westhampton and Tiana life-saving stations, and the men are keeping a sharp lookout for bodies.

By 9 o'clock the farmers living for miles around began to drive in with teams and wagons to look at the wreck. Many had their wives with them, and came prepared to stay for the day, for they were provided with baskets containing luncheon.

The beach is strewn with great planks and timbers, pieces of broken spars and bits of splintered wood, for the space of a mile. The only part of the vessel left is part of the stern, and that is a mere skeleton.

After Justice of the Peace Marcus C. Griffin held the preliminary inquest in the body of the man who was washed ashore yesterday it was embalmed and is in the government house at Quogue.

There may have been more than nine lives lost, perhaps eleven. From the fact that a doll was found and that some people say they saw a woman and a child on the schooner, it is possible that the total number of the lost may aggregate eleven.
