CITY NOTES.

This evening the select council will hold an adjourned meeting. William Patterson, of this city, was granted a patent yesterday on a miner's safety lamp. An entertainment will be given in Young Men's Christian Association hall on Feb. 4 by Leland T. Powers. The funeral of the late William J. Cassidy will take place today from his late home, 415 Mulberry street, at 2:30 o'clock. T. C. Von Storch was elected president of the West Ridge Coal company Monday, instead of A. F. Roe, of New York, as was announced. The following collectors settled their 1896 duplicates with the county commissioners yesterday: Samuel Treible, Elmhurst; L. H. Finch, West Abington. John H. McNulty, of Hampton street, yesterday filed nomination papers as an independent Democratic candidate for common council in the Fifteenth ward. Monday night's concert at the Frothingham under the auspices of the Railroad Young Men's Christian Association promises to be one of the musical events of the season. Council No. 219, Young Men's Institute, will give its fourth annual social at Washington hall, Dunmore, Thursday evening. The Lawrence orchestra will furnish music. In consequence of the sudden closing of the "O'Grady's" Restaurant company at Blighington last Monday, no show will be seen at Davis' theater the last half of this week. The Evans and Lima company opens on Monday next for three days. At 5 o'clock this morning the funeral of William Sissenberger will take place from his late home, on Penn avenue. It will be attended by the Stratton Turn Verein, of which he was for years a member. Interment will be made in New York city. Harring & McSweeney yesterday secured requisition papers for Zachariah M. White, who is detained in St. Paul, Minn., on a charge of abortion. Detective Jones, one of Harring & McSweeney's men, left last night for Minneapolis to bring him back here. The light and water committee of select council last night considered a number of ordinances providing for electric lights and postponed recommendation on the majority of them. Those considered favorably will be reported to select council tonight. Three young men were arrested near the rear door of Davison's pawnshop early this morning. Patrolmen Parry and Palmer noticed one of the two rattling the door and arrested them on general principles. The prisoners are of the "tough" variety. Amelia Tiffany, through her attorney, E. C. Newcomb, yesterday began proceedings to determine her right to a quantity of household goods and a number of carriages and horses which A. Richmond had levied upon as the property of G. R. Richmond. A slight blaze, caused by the upsetting of a stove in the home of a Polish family at 422 Emmet street, called out a portion of the fire department last night at about 8 o'clock. The blaze was extinguished before the arrival of the companies. The damage was very slight. The funeral of Joseph Walsh took place yesterday afternoon from his home, on Webster avenue. It was attended by Reading Brook lodge, Knights of Pythias, and Ezra Church last night at about 8 o'clock. Both of which organizations he was a member. Interment was made in Forest Hill cemetery. The Stratton and Pittston Basket Ball teams will play in the Armory Thursday evening. The members of the Stratton team are Zaig, Foster, Malott, Mitchell, Blair, Hirschman, Coleman, Fahrnholtz and Gray, and of the Pittston team, Brockton, Bryden, Van Valkenburg, Buckley, Young, Anthony, Francis, Sheets and McLaughlin. Marriage licenses were granted yesterday to Morton Moran, of Carbonate, and

Taylor, of Jersey; James Brady and Anna McGrath, of Jersey. With the exception of the week ended June 20, 1891, the receipts of the Scranton Clearing House association last week were the largest ever made in the history of the association. Manager H. C. Shafer, in his report of the week's dates and receipts during the week were $1,029,782.57, being $126,082.90 increase over the corresponding week in 1896, or $222,708.35 more than the average of last year. The railway committee of select council met in the city clerk's office last night. Consideration was given a resolution directing the street commissioner to ascertain by what right the Stratton Traction company has laid tracks on Pittston avenue, between Hickory and Birch streets, and report to council at once. Solicitor Torrey was not at the meeting and the committee took no definite action. On Feb. 23 the Lafayette Alumni association will hold its annual banquet in this city. The executive committee of the association is composed of Captain W. A. May, Dr. H. V. Logan and E. F. Blawie. The committees that will arrange for the dinner are: Finance, F. L. Jones, Mrs. M. G. Thrupp, Mrs. Frutchie, Mrs. Fassold, Mrs. Finn, Mrs. Woodhouse, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Francis, Mrs. Henwood, Mrs. Tripp, Mrs. Horton, Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. Hines, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Humphries, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Frey, Miss Andrews. A candy and lemonade booth was conducted by H. A. Brown's Sunday school class. No. 22, and proved a fruitful source of revenue. The attendance was large. A suit for $30,000 damages was yesterday filed by the Little Goose and Central W. Gibson Jones and Meredith L. Jones, Miss Cary, in the year 1891, conducted a millinery store in Temple court, on Spruce street, which was the Jonesburg division of Northumberland. At the latter point the recorded altitude was compared with that established by the Pennsylvania railroad which has extended its levels from the sea in the vicinity of Philadelphia. The comparison revealed a difference of only a fraction of a foot, proving that the engineers of each company had made practically correct computations. Necessarily the altitude of the Lackawanna tracks at the Scranton depot, for instance, is correct and from some such given point a level will be extended to the location of the bench-mark. It is proposed to locate the bench-mark on court house square, the county commissioners having signified their consent. It will consist of a heavy shaft of stone or granite set into a bed of cement below the frost line. On the stone will be cut a mark showing an exact distance above the sea. Its advantages are many. At present the mine surveys are based on the levels established by the several railroads in this vicinity and which do not exactly tally. For instance, an engineer of a mine whose surveys are based upon a Delaware, Lackawanna and Western level wants to give a line for running a gas pipe, as if with a certain working of an adjoining property. The latter mine has been laid out according to surveys based on a Delaware and Hudson or an Ontario and Western level. The result is that when the opening is made, it is too high or too low. Each mine had been surveyed according to a standard bench-mark one opening would have been made an exact continuation of the other. The system followed by the United States coast survey in establishing altitudes is by "levelation." The result is absolutely correct, but entails a cross-country line of levels from mountain to mountain and the use of instruments of great cost.

CLEVER ENGINEERING. The Lackawanna company made a series of levels along its main line from Hoboken to Scranton and thence along the Bloomsburg division to Northumberland. LECTURED ON GEOLOGY. J. H. Fisher Pleases a Green Ridge Library Audience. J. H. Fisher last night delivered in the Green Ridge library an instructive address on "Geology." He treated his subject in a manner that made it especially entertaining and that feature was greatly heightened by a series of twenty-seven stereoscopic views displayed by A. C. Weaver, and a number of maps and profiles. Mr. Fisher introduced his subject by a resume of the evolution theory and the formation of original rocks and quoted such noted authorities as Mr. Charles Schuchert, of Lancaster. The ladies attending from other cities and towns will be entertained by the ladies of the church in this city at their homes.

STARS WILL AID THEM. A true north and south line will be established in an ingenious manner. It will be done at night and by use of the stars. The accompanying diagram will aid the reader to understand the method: Polaris is the first star in the handle of the "Little Dipper" around which the "Big Dipper" revolves. The "Little Dipper" too, has an orbit. When in revolving the star Alkoth, the third from the handle of the "Big Dipper," is in a direct line with Polaris, the direction is north and south. The instrument used in recording the line will be "set" and used in locating the meridian posts. Two meridian posts nearest to Scranton are now located at Montrose, Susquehanna county. It is to that point that Scranton surveyors now have to go to test the accuracy of their compasses. In locating the posts in Scranton, care will have to be used in selecting a locality where there is no iron. Court house square, for instance, would be a useless point owing to the ashes, slag and other refuse containing iron, and which was used in turning the old swamp into "made ground." A surprisingly small presence of iron is sufficient to deflect a compass. AT NAY AUG PARK. In looking about for a post site the Engineers' club seem to have considered Nay Aug park a proper place and the city will be asked to permit the setting of the posts there. They will be about 200 yards apart. How necessary is a correct north and south line is shown in the 1891 surveys to ascertain the correct division line between Lackawanna and Susquehanna counties. The line is supposed to run due east and west, but the three county surveyors found that their instruments, which agreed with each other, showed at Lackeyville a 7-degree and 2-minute variation from the instruments which established the boundary line a century ago. This is explained by the fact that magnetic conditions change during a course of years and a compass which 100 years ago would point to a given direction would today be deflected slightly to the left or right of the original position. In the 1891 Susquehanna-Lackawanna survey the compasses, instead of showing east and west according to the supposed boundary line, read south 82-

MERIDIAN LINE AND AN ALTITUDE

Local Civil and Mining Engineers Want to Be Correct.

TO BE ACCURATELY ESTABLISHED

Meridian Posts Will Show a True Imaginary North and South Line, While a Standard Altitude Will Be Indicated by a Bench-Mark—The Manner of Ascertaining These Facts Is of Interest to the Lay Mind.

The fact that the Scranton Engineers' club proposes to have established here a bench-mark and meridian posts does not, at first thought, suggest a matter of much consequence or interest. There is however a great deal of importance and interest in the use of the mark and the posts and the manner of locating them.

The bench-mark will show an exact altitude above sea level and its use will obviate, for instance, the present frequent differences shown in mine surveys. The meridian posts will represent a true north and south line and will be a standard for the regulation of surveyors' instruments. To obtain the exact altitude at any great distance from the ocean necessitates not only a great amount of labor and cost but also entails the use of rare and costly instruments. In the present case the altitude will be established with comparatively little trouble or expense and by the use of the levels recorded by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad company.

CLEVER ENGINEERING. The Lackawanna company made a series of levels along its main line from Hoboken to Scranton and thence along the Bloomsburg division to Northumberland. At the latter point the recorded altitude was compared with that established by the Pennsylvania railroad which has extended its levels from the sea in the vicinity of Philadelphia. FLIM FLAMMER. He Succeeded in Defrauding Three Business Houses—Sent to the County Jail to Await Trial. Flim-flamming, or fleecing merchants Saturday night was the charge which caused the arrest of one of the slickest criminals that has ever operated in this city and thereby hangs a tale. It was Saturday night at about 9:30 o'clock that a young man of about 27 years, medium in height and faultlessly dressed, entered Jenkins & Morris' millinery establishment. He purchased a yard of ribbon and tendered in payment a $5 bill from which the 25 cents, the cost of the ribbon, was deducted and the change returned. He had turned to leave the store when, as if with a sudden thought, he turned and asked the cashier to give him a $10 bill for two fives. The request was granted, but after the individual had left the cashier discovered a shortage of $4.95, which resulted from the changing of the money. This individual next called at Morris Brothers' shoe store and asked for a pair of 10-cent shoe laces. He was so particular as to the kind of laces he wanted that Mr. Morris concluded he didn't care to sell the articles. From this store the young man went into the "Famous" shoe store owned by J. R. Cohen, and located next door to Morris Bros. Here he succeeded in purchasing the desired laces and gave in payment a $20 bill. Under ordinary circumstances Mr. Cohen would not have broken a bill of such denomination, for such a small amount, but his customer gave him so much trouble in buying the laces that Mr. Cohen decided to get the 10 cents for them. The customer went to the cashier with his bill and received his change and repeated his former request of a large bill for two smaller ones. He had left the store a few minutes when the cashier discovered the absence of $10. Sumner Bros. was the next place where the crook operated. Here he purchased a coat and vest which he paid for, but, again the cashier found himself short. The parties who were flim-flammed made known the facts to the police who captured the man in Horn's saloon on Franklin avenue. He was arraigned before Alderman Miller and gave the fictitious name of Ollie Teal, the New York swell. He would make no statement, but on hearing the incriminating evidence Alderman Miller sent Teal to the county jail in default of $500 bail.

Paine's Celery Compound Is Working Miracles in Curing Disease.

Paine's celery compound is working miracles in the cure of disease! So says a recent article by the foremost medical expert in Boston. "Nothing shows more conclusively," he adds, "the astonishing capability of Paine's celery compound than the thoughtful, open minded class of people who use it and recommend it, both in public and among their closest and dearest friends and relatives. Among physicians there is no longer any hesitancy in recommending this greatest remedy without stint or praise." About the same time the above article was published there appeared in the Boston Journal, the following letter from David K. Chesser of 412 Windsor street, Cambridgeport, a suburb of Boston: "I take great pleasure in testifying to the extraordinary merits of Paine's celery compound. For some time past I have been under the treatment of several well-known local doctors, but their combined efforts proved of no avail. I have been for years a harsh skeptic in regard to advertised medicines, but having suffered excruciating pains in the head, which the doctors informed me were due to neuralgic symptoms, I determined to try Paine's celery compound, on the advice of a friend. "To my surprise I found an entire change going on after taking a little over three bottles and I began to feel like a new man. I have for the past 10 or 12 years suffered from pains in the back and other symptoms of derangement of the kidneys and bladder, and have spent many sleepless nights in consequence, but now I sleep sound, thanks to the common sense which induced me to try Paine's celery compound. I will ever praise the marvelous potency of this valuable medicine, and at any time will be glad to give personal testimony at my address, should any sufferer care to call, as I consider it selfish to keep such a blessing hoarded up, and think the proprietors of Paine's celery compound deserving of more thanks than I can convey in words for making me a new man."

A word to other sufferers: Go to your druggist for a bottle of Paine's celery compound, and allow him to sell you nothing else! was instantly killed yesterday morning in the Leggett's Creek shaft by a fall of rock. He had prepared a shot and retired to what he thought a safe distance. When the explosion took place a quantity of rock above him fell and crushed him beneath it. When picked up it was found that he was dead, his neck having been broken. He was taken to his home in the company ambulance. He is survived by a wife and four children.
