RAPPING AT THE STATE TREASURY

Legislators Want Appropriations and Also an Investigation.

THE HOUSE NOW REVERSES ITS .LF

It Recalls the Mitchell Resolution Authorizing an Investigation, to Which It Had at First Demurred, and Evidently Intends to Let That Instrument Pass-Other Legislative Proceedings.

Special to the Scranton Tribune, Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 28.-The state reasury came in today for a vigorous lot of powwowing in the house, ter bills had been read in place, as giv-en below, Mr. Keyser, of Philadelphia, presented a motion calling from the senate the Mitchell resolution to ap-point a committee of three members of the senate and five of the house to investigate the maner of conducting the state treasury, which was non-con-curred in by the house last week and returned to the sonate. Mr. Bliss, of Delaware, moved that the resolution He on the table. This was defeated by vote of 96 to 79. Mr. Stewart, of Philadelphia, in a vigorous speech, opposed Mr. Keyser's motion. He attacked the system of commonwealth financiering, and, while he had nothing to say about the present state treasurer, he wanted the light turned on the whole system. He charged that such an investigation as s proposed would not be fairly conducted and that factional feeling would enter into the appointment of the com-

NO REFLECTIONS MEANT.

Mr. Baldwin, of Delaware, resented the imputation that Speaker Boyer would not appoint a fair committee, and declared it was a reflection on the presiding officer that was uncalled for. Mr. Stewart disclaimed any intention to reflect on the chair, Mr. Focht, of Union, wanted to know from whom this demand for an investigation came. "The abuses complained of are admitted by the state treasurer," said he. Incidentally Mr. Focht attacked the senate investigating committee, and declared it was the humiliation of the Republican party in the state.

Mr. Eoger, of uniladelphia, thought there should be an opportunity given the state treasurer and auditor genera! to show what there is in these charges, if anything; that he thought the editors of newspapers who are making these harges should first be heard.

On the resolution of Mr. Keyser recalling the Mitchell resolution from the senate the vote resulted: Yeas, 93; nays, 73. The resolution was there-

Experts in the Johnston Case Met by Rebutting Testimony.

SAY THE DOCTOR WAS NOT INSANE

Men Who Knew Him All Their Lives and Upon Whom He Had Called on the Very Day of the Shooting Declare He Was Perfectly Rational. A Pretty How D'ye Do in Medical Jurisprudence.

New Bloomfield, Pa., Jan. 28.-The attorneys for Dr. Thomas L. Johnston, accused of the murder of Druggist Henry at Duncannon, depend entirely upon the expert testimony of the medical specialists, who were on the stand yesterday, to save his life from the gallows. They made a desperate attempt this morning to prevent anything being stated by the witnesses for the commonwealth which tended to show that Dr. Johnston was of sound mind.

In rebuttal today, George Freeburn, division foreman of the Pennsylvania rallroad, said he escorted Mrs. Johnston around the curve below Duncannon some time before the shooting, because the doctor, who had brought her there, said he would not risk driving around that point while the Pennsylvania Railroad company was blasting so many rocks which fell into the roadway. The testimony was to rebut the statement made that the doctor was driving back and forth at this point like an insane man.

Mrs. Elizabeth Harper, wife of the head machinist in the Duncannon Machine works, told what Mrs. Johnston had said to her at the residence of band. Dr. Johnston, she said, had shot train was thrown to the street, a dis- her, notwithstanding her shielding him tance of twenty-five feet. Only four of his ill-treatment for many years, passengers were in the car.

Mrs. Harper saw him only a short time before the shooting. He was her family physician and she always thought the doctor same.

JOHNSTON NOT INSANE.

Mrs. Pennel, of Duncannon, said that Dr. Johnston had attended her as late three months before the shooting and at 8 a. m. on the day of the shoot-ing the doctor called to see her. She had been sick. He then appeared cool and gentlemanly. She declared that she would not have employed him had she thought he was insane.

George Noss, a merchant at Duncan-non, to whose house Mrs. Johnston was taken after having been shot, said he knew the doctor fifteen years. He spoke with him thousands of times and was in his store frequently. Dr. Johnston was New York, Jan. 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Levi P. This line of testimony was continued by the commonwealth in rebuttal to what the defence had brought out about the prisoner's condition, which was characterized as delusional insanity.

FROZEN FIRE PLUGS.

For a Time They Threaten the Utter Destruction of Tyrone.

Altoona, Pa., Jan. 28.—The borough of Tyrone was threatened with destruction by fire this afternoon, but prompt and efficient work on the part of the firemen prevented a general conflagration. The fire originated in the mill occupied by the Tyrone Junk company surance. Owing to the fact that the fire plugs were frozen up it was some time before water could be got on the fire and a number of stables and outbuildings were soon in flames and destroyed, making a total loss of $5,000.

EMPLOYERS ADJOURN. END OF THE STEEL POOL.

> Every Probability That It Will Be Formally Dissolved at the Meeting Which Will Be Held Today.

> > Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 28.-The great ool of steel billet manufacturers of the American Bessemer association, regarded for a time as an invincible trust, will almost beyond doubt be formally dissolved at a meeting to be held in Pittsburg tomorrow. The trade has been canvassed on the proposition to prevent external competition and to throw the business into the hands of the larger concerns by purchasing the allotment of all the small firms which became dissatisfied with the pooling arrangement.

This canvass has been in charge of a special committee, which will report against the plan being continued. At tomorrow's meeting checks will likely e drawn and returned to the members for the amount deposited by them as evidence of good faith when the combination was first formed. However, while there is no probabil-ity of continuing the organization, there will likely be some plan devised to shut out the brokers. Nearly all the firms, except the Bellaire Steel company, have sold their output for six months ahead, so that as far as they are concerned the brokers cut but small figures. These sales were made at figures ranging from $15 to $16.50.

BLIZZARD IN NEW ENGLAND.

The Most Severe Since the Famous One of 1888.

Boston, Jan. 28.-Not since the blizzard of 1888 has there been a storm of such severity throughout New England as that which has prevailed during the past twenty-four hours.
