PHILADELPHIANS PRAY FOR PEACE

The Senate Petitioned to Ratify the Arbitration Treaty.

Washington, Jan. 29 .- A petition, elaborately printed on parchment and signed by an even hundred of the leading citizens of Philadelphia, was presented to the senate this morning. It urges the senate to ratify the treaty of arbitration now pending between this country and Great Britain. The memorial is signed by Mayor Warwick, the judges of the various courts, ex-Senator Edmands (formerly of Vermont), and bankers and capitalists representing money valued up in the millions.

The bill for the representation of the United States in any international that city. It was the assurance of four monetary conference that may be called, occupied the senate today almost exoccupied the senate today almost ex-clusively and was finally passed by the for ten million of dollars which satistriumphant majority of 46 to 4. The debate on the bill was long a partisan creed which commands unand interesting, but by far the most important speech was that made by Mr. Hoar, of Massachusetts. He took the ground that a very large majority of the people of the civilized world was in favor of the double standard of gold and silver. At 5.25 the senate adjourned until Monday next.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS. War between the states of Massachusetts and Vermont raged for a brief period on the floor of the house today over allegations of railroad wrecking in these commonwealths. The combatants vere Messrs. Power, of Vermontt and Barrett, of Massachusetts, and the occasion of strife was the consideration of the report of the conferees upon the bill providing for the incorporation of prach to us, cause a passing interest the purchasers of the Atlantic and Pacific railroad. The provisions of the bill were antagonized by Mr. Barrett, who charged that they concealed a gigantic scheme of stock jobbery. Mr. Powers denied that there was anything of the had been any wrecking of the road, as suggested by the gentleman from Massachusetts, it had been done by people in and around Boston. In this connection he sarcastically referred to Mr. Barrett's congressional experience, which he compared to that of a rose

In reply Mr. Barrett gave the house the history of the receiverships of the Central Vermont railroad conducted by the supreme court of that state and extending over a period of 30 years, which he said was the most fraudulent case was rejected and the conferees were instructed to insist upon the retention of the bill on the house amendments. the principal one of which forbade the issue of stock except for par value re-

The house refused to take up bills on hour continued in committee of the whole, considering the agricultural bill without completing it. In the course of its discussion. Mr. Hardy, of Indiana, began a speech in favor of the acquisition of Cuba and being refused permission to conclude, the five-minute rule being in operation, gave notice that no bill should pass the house by unanimous consent for the remainder of the ses-

An evening session was held for the consideration of private pension bills.

LYMAN JUDSON GAGE. Sketch of the New Secretary of the Treasury.

Lyman Judson Gage is known in his own state and city as an estimable citizen and distinguished for his public spirit. He was born June 28, 1836, in De Ruyter, Madison county, N. Y., his parents, Eli A. and Mary Judson Gage, being of English descent. He attended the public schools and the academy at Rome, N. Y., and then, a lad of 14, took a clerkship in the Rome postoffice, and at 18 a similar position in the Oneida Central bank, in that city, at a salary of $100 a year. He resigned after eighteen months because the bank was unable, or unwilling to increase his salary. The great West was then attracting the sons of the East and presenting to them many good opportunities. He went to Chicago in 1855. Without capital or influential friends, in a young and pushing city, he entered the race for fortune.

Finding no opportunity for employ-ment in any of the banks, he became bookkeeper to Nathan Cobb, a lumber merchant, and remained as such for three years, and then came the great business depression and the financial crists of 1858. Though his firm suspend-

THE ANNULAR ECLIPSE OF THE SUN ON MONDAY.

For the Tribune.

The eclipse of the sun, which occurs Monday, while directly of no local value, it may, because of its near apin these phenomena.

Our satellite in its course around the earth when crossing its mode will cast its shadow upon this planet, and into which we will plunge at the rate of sixty-five thousand of miles per hour. sort in the bill and added that if there | Of course, the shock will be imperceptible, since a sunbeam traveling at the rate of one hundred and eighty-three thousand miles per second does not cause the most delicately constructed scale to vibrate.

The earth will first enter the shadow in the Atlantic ocean and it will be seen as a partial eclipse at Washington, D C., a few minutes before sunset. It will then be central. Its last contact on Par of 100. will be on a line drawn through Cuba and central South America.

The distance in width over which the eclipse will be seen as partial or an nular will reach from Washington, D of railroad wrecking the country had c., to Buenos Ayres, South America ever seen. The report of the conferees over five thousands of miles. The terover five thousands of miles. The ter ritory over which it will travel is abou one-half of the entire globe, from the northeastern part of Brazil to the mountains of New South Wales. The eclipse will be visible, projected upor the western line of the sun, north of the equator as far as the thirty-sevently the private calendar, but for nearly an latitude, and south on the eastern limb as far as the seventy-fifth degree of lat Itude; also within a narrow strip abou forty miles wide, beginning at the Gul of Paria, Venezuela, and passing over Caracas, the capital; then through th United States of Colombia and cross ing the equator about three hundre and and fifty miles west of Quito, cor tinuing its course down to the fortieti latitude, then back to the thirty-sec nd and ending beyond the north cape of New Zealand.

If a passenger train started from Caracas to keep in view of the annulu it would have to travel at the rate of over one thousand miles per hour. Under the most favorable circum stances the greatest length of time fo a person to see the annular eclpise at a given place cannot exceed twelve minutes. It may, however, travel over a long distance, because the moon is noving in the same direction as the earth, only faster, which causes the shadow to linger upon the earth, which, at the equator, is revolving at the rate of ten thousand and thirty-eight miles per hour. The conditions of an eclipse of the sun are: The moon must be new. It must be on or near one of its nodes; the places over which in the present case the annulus will pass may never see its reccurrence. At any rate it will be an indefinite period. The moon crosses her node twenty days earlier every year, and it follows that after a lapse of eighteen years and eleven days the sun and moon cross their center, but the shadow will not be cast upon the earth at the same place. England has not seen a total eclipse since the year 1140, though there have been during this time some forty total eclipses. ellite be at Perigee and the sun at Apogee then the apparent diameter of moon would be greater than the shodow, and we should see a total eclipse of the sun, the space within which to totality would extend could not exceed one hundred and eighty miles in width The earlier inhabitants of this planet were no doubt alarmed and terrified at the recurrence of these eclipses, while oday bur school children are acquainted with their causes. There are many wonders revealed by a total eclipse of the sun, and even the far-advanced science of today is unable to explain some of the phenomena.

MARKETS AND STOCKS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Jan. 29.-There was a slight increase in the volume of transactions at the Stock Exchange today, the sales foot-ing up 122,000 shares. The only feature of speculation was its firmness through-out the session, despite the sharp break inthe coalers. The latter declined 2½ for Lackawanna and 1% for Delaware and Hudson and Jersey Central after the de-tails of the report of the Delaware, Lack-awanna and Western were made known. The report showed ad effect of $507,090, and the road earned 5.05 per cent, on its stock, against 5.17 the previous year. Even the depression in the coalers was of short duration, and Lackawanna, and Delaware and Hudson closed with net gains of \48% per cent., while Jersey Central lost \2 per cent. The general list in the early trad-ing improved to the extent of %al% per cent., the latter in North Pacific Preferred. which was bought freely for foreign ac-count. Outside of Manhattan, which broke 2 points, the market remained steady to weak. The Grangers, General Electric, Louisville and Nashville and Northern Pacific's received excellent sup-port throughout. Speculation closed firm. Net changes show gains of ½ to 1% per cent. Manhattan, however, lost 1 per cent.

From Lands of Snow to Lands of Sun A few years ago, if told that you could leave New York today at noon and be in St. Augustine tomorrow in the afternoon, you would have considered it an exag-geration. However, that is the schedule on which the famous FLORIDA LIMIT-ED runs via the Pennsylvania, Souther and Florida Central and Peninsular Railroads. The Limited is a solid Pullman train, vestibuled from end to end, and its appointments are as luxurious and complete as they can be made. In the dining, compartment, drawing-room, li-brary and observation cars, every modern arrangement and contrivance contribut-ing to the comfort of the traveler will be found. The schedule, however, is the greatest drawing card. For several years past the Limited trains for Florida have been scheduled to reach Jacksonville and St. Augustine at night. This has been a source of so much inconvenience to the patrons of the Railroads interested that they have arranged to operate the FLORIDA LIMITED on a new and improved schedule, leaving New York daily (except Sunday) at 12.10 noon; Philadelphia 2.36 p. m., Baltimore 5 p. m., Washington 6.20 p. m., arriving at Savannah 11.30 a. m., Jacksonville 3.30 p. m. and St. Augus-tine 4.40 p. m. the following day. In addition to the Limited there are two other daily trains, with through Pullman slee ers and coaches, leaving New York a 4.30 p. m. and 12.15 midnight, Washington 10.43 p. m. and 11.15 a. m. arriving at Jack sonville 9 p. m. and 9 a. m., respectively,
