IN THE INTEREST OF BI-METALLISM

Mr. Chandler Introduces a Resolution on the Subject in the Senate.

FAVORS USE OF GOLD AND SILVER

Lively Debate on the Immigration Bill--Senator Lodge Indignant at the Interference of the North German Lloyds--House Reduces the Total Consular Appropriation to $1,673,703--Consulate at Horgen, Switzerland, Abolished.

Washington, Feb. 2.—An additional movement in the direction of bimetallism was made in the senate today by Mr. Chandler (Rep., N. H.) It was in the shape of a resolution declaring it to be the sense of the senate that the United States should not permanently acquiesce in the single gold standard, and that the efforts of the government in all its branches should be directed to secure and maintain the use of silver as well as gold as standard money, with the free coinage of both. The resolution went over, with notice from Mr. Chandler that he would address the senate upon it.

The conference report on the immigration bill was taken up and was opposed in a long speech by Mr. Gibson (Dem., Md.), who raised the parliamentary point against it that the conference committee had exceeded its powers and had injected new matter into the bill. An equally long speech was made in defense of the conference committee and the bill by Mr. Lodge (Rep., Mass.). Much indignation was expressed by Mr. Lodge at interference with legislation on the part of the North German Lloyds and its agent in Chicago, to prevent the passage of the bill. If the bill were defeated, he said, it would be taken as the victory of a corporation on a great question of public policy. The report went over without action. Mr. Hill (Dem., N. Y.), giving notice that he would speak against it tomorrow on the parliamentary point raised by Mr. Gibson.

The remainder of the day's session was taken up by the Nicaragua canal bill. Mr. Vilas (Dem., Wis.), who had the floor to continue his speech against it, declined to state whether he thought the bill could be disposed of in such time as to give any opportunity for other important legislation. He gave notice of a substitute for the bill, which would provide for the appointment of an inter-oceanic canal commission to have surveys and investigations made for the determination of the most feasible route for the canal. Notice of another amendment was given by Mr. Teller (Rep., Colo.), also providing for a survey before any canal bonds are guaranteed by the government of the United States, and that if the cost should be reported as exceeding $150,000,000, no bonds shall be guaranteed and no responsibility assumed.

Mr. Vilas had not finished his speech when at 5.05 the senate adjourned.

THE HOUSE SESSION.

Nearly all of t day's session was spent in the house listening to a discussion of the controversy raging between two electric lighting companies in the District of Columbia, which found its expression in connection with the consideration of the bill making appropriations for the expenses of the district for the year ending June 30, 1898. The bill remains the unfinished business on the calendar.

The house passed the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill, with trifling changes. The consulate at Horgen, Switzerland, (salary $2,000) was abolished, and the total appropriation reduced to $1,673,703.

The usual resolution was agreed to providing for a joint session of congress on the 10th inst to count the electoral vote and declare the result.

Senate amendments to the resolution authorizing the temporary stringing of wires for lighting and decorating in connection with the approaching inaugural, were agreed to.

YOUNG GREELEY A HORSE THIEF.

A Relative of the Great Editor in a California Jail.

Los Angeles, Feb. 2.—A relative of Horace Greeley, the great editor, is now confined in the county jail, a confessed horse thief. Behind his capture is a story of wild, reckless riding by the robber over snow-clad mountains, and the dogged perseverance of Frank Griffith, deputy constable of Hanford, who pluckily trailed the gang for five weeks and arrested young Greeley. Still another member of the crowd is Fred Rood, who is in jail, and the third will soon be apprehended.

They are accused of having stolen thirteen horses a little over five weeks ago about fifteen miles south of Hanford. Griffith, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff White, arrested Greeley while the latter was eating breakfast at his father's house.

Greeley, who is about 25 years of age, confessed the crime, but refuses to divulge the identity of his partners.

PANTHER IN MERCER COUNTY.

Farmers Near Hadley Organizing to Kill a Wild Beast.

Greenville, Pa., Feb. 2.—The farmers about Hadley are excited over what is supposed to be a panther, which has been terrorizing the people of that neighborhood for some time. The animal was first seen about two months ago by a farmer returning home at a late hour. As he neared a lonely part of the road he heard an awful scream and heard something moving through the brush at the roadside. His team had been acting strangely for some minutes before, and were so badly frightened that they ran for nearly a mile before he could stop them.

Last Saturday morning A. R. Brown missed a young calf, and the footprints of a large animal were discovered in the barnyard and leading to the woods. A searching party is being organized to kill the beast.

Which would you rather trust? An old, true friend of twenty years, or a stranger? You may have little health left. Will you risk it with a stranger? If you have a cough, are losing flesh, if weak and pale, if consumption stares you in the face, lean on Scott's Emulsion. It has been a friend to thousands for more than twenty years. They trust it and you can trust it.

Let us send you a book telling you all about it. Free for the asking.

WOMAN COUNTERFEITER.

Dangerous Gang of Twenty Broken by the Arrest of Two.

Hazleton, Pa., Feb. 2.—United States Detective McManus, of Philadelphia, today ran down a gang of counterfeiters in this city, who have operated in this and adjoining counties for the past year. He arrested Charles Probst and Mrs. Balliet. The former was captured in Pottsville, and when arrested the moulds were found on his person, as well as some of the spurious coin.

His accomplice is a widow, and always dressed in the height of fashion. He made the coin, while she traveled from one town to another and put it in circulation. The coin they manufactured consisted of five and ten-dollar gold pieces.

There are about twenty persons implicated, and more arrests will follow.

Probst when arrested showed fight, and nearly shot McManus in the thigh.

CAPITOL IN RUINS.

been sounded and there was no fire service.

When the firemen arrived the whole western end of the building was in flames and the fierce flames were blowing like a furnace. In five minutes more the roof over the lieutenant governor's magnificent apartments and the offices of the educational departments fell.

Captain Delaney, superintendent of property, Private Secretary Beitler, Chief Clerk Smiley, of the senate, and a number of others pushed out a leather lounge and then followed, chased away by the flames. A few moments later there was a violent explosion, supposed to have been caused by the bursting gas pipes.

The crowd in the house had by this time realized that the fire was not a small one and that the entire building was doomed. The play of the water and smoke forced Speaker Boyer to have the rear doors of the house opened to allow members and others to get out. Most persons did not think the house in immediate danger, but the flames broke out near the roof in a few moments and it then appeared as though the fire had traveled throughout the entire building, between the floors and walls. A number of foolhardy persons remained in the house as in the senate trying to get furniture and personal effects out. Among those was Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms Rawlins. When a portion of the floors collapsed he staggered to the doors hurt and bleeding and overcome from the smoke. He was revived after a time.

RECENT IMPROVEMENTS.

During the past two years the capitol building itself has been improved very greatly. Lieutenant Governor Walter Lyon had built for himself a suite of magnificent apartments at a cost approximating $50,000. The entire arrangement and decoration of the house were just completed and the entire rotunda and lobby on the first floor had been rebuilt inside with magnificent marble work.

A few minutes before 1 o'clock the senate reconvened with Senator Grady in the chair, it was declared adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow. But not a moment too soon. Five minutes later the senators were fleeing for their lives. It was almost impossible to convince members of the legislature that a serious fire was under way and many of them remained in the house until they were compelled to leap through the windows to save themselves. The legislative correspondents of the United Asssociated Presses were filing bulletins at the Western Union office in the rotunda when the scaffolding in the dome fell with a great crash. They escaped through a window, both being slightly injured.

THE FIRST SMOKE.

Senator Grady declares he detected the smell of smoke as early at 10.30 o'clock and this would seem to bear out the assertion that the fire had been burning slowly some hours before being discovered. The Philadelphia senator dispatched page boys at different times to see of there was not something burning in some portion of the senate chamber or in one of the committee or clerks' rooms, but they all returned with the message that there was nothing wrong. Just before the senate took its recess the same senator says the smell of smoke was more pronounced and during the recess the fire was discovered.

The scenes in and about the senate when it became known that the building was doomed beggar description. The excitement was intense. Chief Clerk Smiley first thought of the records and many of these were taken to places of safety. The most valuable state records were not in the burned building, having been taken soon after its completion to the fire proof executive building. Pages, messenger boys, pasters and folders, transcribing clerks and newspaper men hurried about moving what personal effects they had.

Over the senate the old and rotten timbers was dry as dust and burnt and sizzed like powder. Pretty soon those who lingered on the border of the senate chamber saw a bright flame leap out from above the speaker's chair and then around the chandelier appeared tiny tongues of flame that licked away the frescoing on the ceiling and burnt the fastenings of the chandeliers, which came down with a crash.

The only department in the burned building was that of public instruction.

IMPORTANT RECORDS SAVED.

At 2.30 o'clock the fire was under control, but the firemen were on duty watching the smouldering embers. All the important records, including the journals of the senate and house were saved. At three o'clock about all that remained of the old capitol were the walls.

Several firemen were injured by falling timber as were a number of capitol employes. There were many narrow escapes from death. A large dog was penned in one of the basement rooms and his piteous howls were heard for an hour before death ended his suffering.

The capitol was insured. It has been on fire a hundred times in the past, but never seriously. It had never been insured until Speaker Boyer was state treasurer when he called Governor Pattison's attention to the fact and then it was insured.

THE INSURANCE.

The insurance was about $200,000 and the loss is estimated at $1,000,000. There was much handsome furniture and the recent remodeling cost well on to $150,000. The fire took with it these separate rooms: The senate chamber, offices of the clerk and senate librarian, senate committee rooms, forestry commission, rooms of the president pro tem, game commission, lieutenant governor's apartments, offices of the superintendent of public instruction, the house chamber, committee rooms, speaker's office, resident chief clerk's apartments and newspaper rooms.

The records and statistics of the department of public instruction were destroyed, including much valuable statistical information regarding the public schools. Dr. Schaeffer saved the warrant book.

Mayor Patterson called a meeting of council and other public bodies this evening to consider ways and means of assisting the state officials to procure temporary quarters for the legislature. The senate will meet tomorrow in the supreme court room and the house in the United States district court room in the postoffice building. The legislature will at once take steps to build a new capitol.

MARKETS AND STOCKS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Feb. 2.—Profit-taking was the order of the day at the Stock exchange. The selling movement was not pronounced by any means and the transaction footed up only 115,772 shares. At the start the Northern Pacifics were the center of attraction, the common receded ⅝ to 15⅛, and the preferred 1⅜ to 37⅛. Western Union was sold down 1⅝ to 82⅝ on the adverse decision rendered by the Supreme court yesterday in the Ohio and Indiana tax cases. In the Industrials Sugar was steady, General Electric firm and Tobacco weak. The last named fell from 74 to 72⅝. Speculation closed quiet and barely steady in tone. Net changes show declines of ¼ to 1⅝ per cent. Manhattan gained ½ and Lake Shore 1 per cent.

INTERESTING EXPERIENCE.

Of an Iowa Lady Who Was Cured of Dyspepsia After Suffering for Twenty-five Years.

Mrs. Sarah A. Skeels, an estimable lady residing at Lynnville, Jasper Co., Iowa, was for twenty-five years a sufferer from Dyspepsia, and her complete restoration to health is so remarkable that we present the facts in the case for the benefit of our readers, many of whom have doubtless suffered in the same manner and will, therefore, be interested in learning how all stomach troubles may be avoided and cured. Mrs. Skeels says: I used only one package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I recieved such great and unexpected benefit that I wish to express my sincere gratitude. In fact it has been six months since I took the medicine and I have not had one particle of distress or difficulty since. And all this in the face of the fact that the best doctors I consulted told me my case was incurable as I had suffered for twenty-five years. I want half a dozen packages to distribute among my friends here who are very anxious to try this remedy

Truly yours,
Mrs. Sarah A. Skeels.

The reason why Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are so successful in curing indigestion and stomach trouble and the reason why it never disappoints those who need it and use it is because nothing is claimed for it except what it will actually perform. It is not a cure-all and no such claims are made for it. It is prepared for the sole purpose of curing Dyspepsia and the various forms of indigestion.

There is scarcely a patent medicine made but what is claimed to cure Dyspepsia as well as a hundred other troubles. When as a matter of fact a remedy to cure Dyspepsia must be prepared especially for that and nothing else; and among all the remedies, patent nostrums, bitters, etc., so extensively advertised you will find that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the only one advertised as a cure for Dyspepsia and nothing else. The remedy is prepared by the Stuart Co., of Marshall, Mich., and for sale by all druggists at 50 cents per package, and if you suffer from any form of stomach derangement or indigestion a trial will not disappoint you.

A little book on stomach troubles mailed free. Address Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.
