Laura Joyce-Bell, the eminent comedienne and contralto, who has achieved such success in Hoyt's great-est comedy, "A Midnight Bell," in the character of the "Spinster," has for a number of years past occupied an enviable position in the estimation of press and public as a character comedienne and contralto of rare quality and ability. Mrs. Bell Bell will be best remembered for her splendid impersonation in the many Gilbert and Sullivan operas produced under Colonel John McCaull's management, notably for portrayal of "Katisha"
