Little Chance for Action on the Arbitration Treaty.

MR. CHANDLER ON THE CURRENCY

He Will Speak on the Resolution Declaring That It Is the Sense of the Senate That the United States Should Not Acquiesce in the Single Gold Standard -- House Programme.

Washington, Feb. 14 -- When the senate adjourned yesterday after another afternoon of useless discussion on the general arbitration treaty, the impression by many senators was that Mr. Sherman had become convinced there was little, if any, chance of getting action during this session of the sen-Army ate. The belief appears to be that he will make one or two more efforts to press a vote after devoting an after-Indian noon to discussion and that then, without formally announcing his determination, he will permit the treaty to remain on the calendar without seeking to press it for consideration. The friends of the treaty believe it would be ratified if a vote could be had, but this claim is denied by others who, however, appear to be better satisfied to have action postponed than to permit the vote to be taken. It is evident that a determined effort is being made by a few senators to prevent ratification. For this reason it is thought the treaty will go over until March 4, when there will be abundant time for the senate to discuss it thoroughly while considering the nominations the new president may send in.

MR. CHANDLER ON CURRENCY Tomorrow Mr. Chandler will address the senate on the resolution introduced by him declaring that it is the sense of the senate that the United States should not permanently acquiesce in the single gold standard. Mr. Chandler is not in entire harmony with his party on the financial question, and is much inclined to make himself a free lance in debate.

The immigration bill which has come from conference the second time will not take up much of the time of the senate, an agreement having been reached to vote on it Wednesday at 4 o'clock. The bill as it now stands removes the objections raised to the first report and has already been agreed to in the house. It will doubtless pass the senate without opposition

The bankruptcy bill is the unfinished business, but no one believes there will be any serious effort to pass this meas-The friends of the voluntary bankruptcy bill are afraid that the advocates of the involuntary plan have a majority of votes and so will talk against time if any attempt is made to get a vote. The western senators look upon the involuntary plan as being in the interest of the east, or the creditor class, and argue that their bill which provides for involuntary bankruptey in case of fraud only, gives all protection to both creditor and debtor that either class should ask.

The Hawaiian cable bill is clamoring for recognition, but not with any prospect of passing at this session.

HOUSE PROGRAMME.

The house will tomorrow resume consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill. It will be in order to move that the rules be suspended and the bill passed without further reading or amendment. Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, in charge of the bill, gave notice Saturday afternoon that he would test the sense of the house upon this proposition. Should this motion not prevail, the bill is likely to remain the unfinished business before the house for the rest of the week.

The naval appropriation bill will be reported Wednesday or Thursdey, Chairman Boutelle believes, and will be taken up as soon as possible.
