SERMON TO P. O. S. OF A.

It Was Delivered in the Jackson Street Baptist Church by Rev. Thomas De Gruchy.

The Jackson Street Baptist church was not big enough last evening to seat the throng that tried to hear Rev. Thomas De Gruchy, the pastor, deliver a special address to the Patriotic Order Sons of America, two hundred members of which order were present in a body. At 7 o'clock when the services commenced people were turning away from the church doors. The main auditorium was filled, the Sunday school room was packed, galleries and all, and the aisles were impassable. Just a word about the scene: The main auditorium for the first time was lighted by 100 incandescent lights, arranged in running form around the arches of the ceiling and each light shaded. On the wall at the rear of the choir loft there was a festooning of American flags with the inscription in red letters: "God, Our Country and Our Order," the motto of the Patriotic Order Sons of America. The choir loft was filled with children and on the pulpit which had been extended the choir under the leadership of Lewis Davis, was seated. On the floor and in the front part of the auditorium there were two stacks of muskets, the property of the order and resting against the pulpit pedestal was a picture of George Washington. Mr. De Gruchy's sermon was full of fire and appealed strongly to the patriotism of the Sons of America.

He began with the statement that one doubts the great part that our country plays in the historic drama. All signs go to show that America is a leader among the nations. Providence intended it to serve great designs and we must try to unravel before the eyes of the world a land of Godliness and righteousness. America stands in prodigy among the nations, unequalled in any time. The speaker then went on to show the wonderful natural resources and opportunities of America. How no land can offer such perfect equality and entire freedom. The arts and sciences have advanced, every department has progressed and though the youngest we are the richest. Then came a startling statement: "If England and continental Europe were dropped east of the Hudson river and if some one greater than Napoleon was called upon to weld those countries into one grand mass we would hardly know there was an empire among us. Our wealth could buy Europe and we would have money to spare and some for the contribution box."

Mr. De Gruchy then paid tribute to the "thinking citizen." The emigrants that come to our shores are chiefly the unlettered, we have to put them through a boiling process before we can make American citizens of them. They come in quantity but not in quality; the intelligent stay at home. Some think this is a land of gold—without working for it and some think they are who have never gotten over the "decision." Mr. De Gruchy's reference to the public schools was in the nature of a condemnation of those who

PLAYED WITH A REVOLVER.

After traveling a long, long distance, from hand to hand, a .25 caliber revolver got mad Friday evening between 7 and 8 o'clock and bit Hawley Gould on the hand. Hawley is 12 years old and is the son of Mrs. Gould, who lives over Jenkins & Musgrave's drug store on the corner of Jackson street and Main avenue. He was playing with the revolver near the Oxford breaker when it was accidentally discharged and the bullet lodged in the fleshy part of the hand near the thumb, breaking several small bones. Young Gould and a companion, Halley Zittle, of Tenth street, jointly purchased the revolver a few days ago from James Jeremiah, a lad living on Lafayette street. They paid 50 cents for it. Since then the weapon has been handled by nearly every male pupil in No. 19 school. The firm of Zittle and Gould wanted to sell out at cost, Friday they secured a purchaser and it was while transferring the property that the accident happened. The new owner was to have been a lad named Jordan, Dr. E. A. Heermann's and Dr. Conroy's made efforts to extract the bullet but they were unsuccessful. The wound is not considered dangerous.

R. H. WILLIAMS SURPRISED. Select Councilman R. H. Williams, mink foreman of the Commercial mink, was surprised Saturday evening in his residence on Academy street. The occasion was Mr. Williams' fifty-fourth birthday. Those who were present were: John H. Kelly, Evan J. Williams, Richard Hughes, John A. Thomas, William R. T. Jones, Thomas J. Jones, Eliezer Evans, Thomas J. Williams, Samuel Jones, Levi Morris, Henry Morgan, Ben Griffiths, D. J. Davies, John R. Francis, Thomas Morgan, William J. Morgan, David J. Deviles, W. J. Davies, and David Caldwell. The immediate family took possession of the house and started proceedings by electing John H. Kelly chairman. Evan J. Williams, on behalf of those present, presented Mr. Williams with an elegant smoker's set as a token of their esteem. Mr. Williams replied in a happy vein. Speeches, songs, recitations, etc., were then in order. At this juncture Mr. Kelly presented Mr. Williams with an elegant watch guard, a beautiful scarf pin from his daughter, and a silk handkerchief from his little grandchild. Refreshments were served and a happy time was spent until midnight. The singing of W. J. Davies and D. J. Davies, and the bright sayings of William Morgan, the comedian of the glee club, were admirable features of the occasion.

SHE DREW A CROWD.

Kelly's block came into prominence again last night when a black faced woman with tangled hair was arrested by Patrolmen Parry and Peters. As the creature was being taken to the police station she screamed in an insane splitting way and the crowd that followed her way was way up in the hundreds. She was intoxicated.

NEWS IN NOTES.

Chemist Koemle has made the following statement in regard to the samples of butter confiscated from Huelster Webster's store, 101 West 12th street: "Having examined the samples supposed to be butter, brought to me by Mr. Cullen, I am satisfied that all are butter with the exception of one, which, in my opinion, is not butter. I find nothing in any of them that is injurious to the health of man."

JOYS OF MATERNITY. VIGOROUS MOTHERS AND STURDY CHILDREN ADMIRER. Why so Many Women Are Childless—A Problem That Has Puzzled Physicians for Centuries. Reproduction is a law of nature, and no picture of joy and happiness can equal that of the vigorous mother and her sturdy child. Nature makes mistakes, and every thoughtful person must admit that a cause exists, why so many women are childless. The subject baffles the theories of physicians. Such cases are curable nine times out of ten, as evidenced by thousands of letters on file at Mrs. Pinkham's office. Many a darling baby owes its existence to Mrs. Pinkham's advice and the Vegetable Compound. This is not to be wondered at when such testimony as the following explains itself: "I have taken three bottles of your Vegetable Compound, one package of Sanative Wash, one box of Liver Pills; and now I have a dear little babe four weeks old, and I am well. I have to thank you for this. I have spent $300.00 for doctor's bills without obtaining any relief. For my cure I only spent $5.00. I had been a victim of female troubles in their worst form; suffered untold agonies every month; had to stay in bed, and have poultices applied, and then could not stand the pain. My physician told me if I became pregnant I would die. I had bladder trouble, itching, backache, catarrh of the stomach, hysteria and heart trouble, fainting spells and leucorrhoea. Can you wonder that I sing the praises of a medicine that has cured me of all these ills?"—Mrs. G. C. KIRCHNER, 472 Belmont Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

A telegram was received in this city Saturday announcing the death on the previous day of Miss Agnes McDermott at Los Angeles, Cal., where she spent Dec. 12 last, in company with her father, J. P. McDermott, the well-known news-dealer in the hopes of recuperating her failing health. The deceased was 23 years of age and a lovable character. Her untimely death will be a sad shock to her many friends in this city and vicinity. The funeral arrangements have not as yet been made.

Ambrose O'Hara, aged 9 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Hara, of Dunmore street, Olyphant, died Saturday morning at 1 o'clock. The child was recovering from an attack of diphtheria when he was stricken and his sister came to visit him. She had been at the house but a short time, when she became ill. Her complaint developed into inflammation of the bowels, and she died after only a few days' illness. She is survived by her husband and several children. The remains will be taken to Spring Brook for burial.

A very sudden death was that of Mrs. William W. Bridge, of Spring Brook, which occurred Friday at the home of her brother, Thomas B. Lewis, who lives on the plank road at Plainville. Mr. Lewis is a well-known mine foreman. He has been critically ill with paralysis for several weeks past, and his sister came to visit him. She had been at the house but a short time, when she became ill. Her complaint developed into inflammation of the bowels, and she died after only a few days' illness. She is survived by her husband and several children. The remains will be taken to Spring Brook for burial.

WHOLE FAMILY KILLED. Six Persons Found Butchered at a Farm House—Mother and Twin Sons Among the Victims. Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 21.—The horrible discovery of the murder of six persons has just been made near Winona, on the Missouri river, about thirty miles below Bismarck. The wholesale slaughter occurred at the farm house of Thomas Spicer. The affair is shrouded in mystery. It is believed that the Indians may have been the murderers, although there is nothing to substantiate the theory other than that a number of them are said to have been loitering about the neighborhood. The dead are: Mrs. William Waldron, Mrs. William Rouse, Mrs. Thomas Spicer, Mrs. Thomas Spicer, John Spicer, a well-known farmer, was driving out for a load of wood, and while passing the house of his brother, Thomas, a mile and a half from where he lived, he halted the occupants, as was his custom. He received no reply, and after shouting several times he alighted from the wagon and knocked at the door. There was no response and he pushed open the door. He was horrified to find Mrs. William Waldron, the mother of Mrs. Spicer, lying dead on the floor, and a man, who was lying in the skull, and the blood was streaming from the wound.

FINIS THE OTHER BODIES. In the next room he found Mrs. William Rouse, the daughter of Mrs. Spicer, and Mrs. Rouse's twin baby boys, about a year and a half old, lying dead on the lounge. Mrs. Rouse had been struck twice in the back of the head with the heavy end of a log of a dining table, and the children were killed, evidently, by the blows of the same weapon. In the barn John Spicer found the body of Mrs. Thomas Spicer, his sister-in-law. There was a deep hole in her head and a gash in her chin, evidently produced by an axe. John Spicer returned to Winona, and a large band of citizens, led by the deputy county coroner, accompanied him to the scene of the wholesale murder. The search was continued, and the body of Thomas Spicer was found in a cowshed horribly mutilated. The entire family had been murdered with the exception of the two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Spicer, who chanced to be away from home at the time.

HER BODY IN THE RIVER. The Death of Mrs. Robin Hewitt Due to Religious Frenzy. Cape May, N. J., Feb. 21.—The body of Mrs. Robin Hewitt, who disappeared last Tuesday night, was found this morning in the Ocean lake, near her home at Ocean View.

Mrs. Hewitt was the wife of Constable Guard Hewitt and her death can be traced directly to religious frenzy. A

Such cases are curable nine times out of ten, as evidenced by thousands of letters on file at Mrs. Pinkham's office. Many a darling baby owes its existence to Mrs. Pinkham's advice and the Vegetable Compound. This is not to be wondered at when such testimony as the following explains itself: "I have taken three bottles of your Vegetable Compound, one package of Sanative Wash, one box of Liver Pills; and now I have a dear little babe four weeks old, and I am well. I have to thank you for this. I have spent $300.00 for doctor's bills without obtaining any relief. For my cure I only spent $5.00. I had been a victim of female troubles in their worst form; suffered untold agonies every month; had to stay in bed, and have poultices applied, and then could not stand the pain. My physician told me if I became pregnant I would die. I had bladder trouble, itching, backache, catarrh of the stomach, hysteria and heart trouble, fainting spells and leucorrhoea. Can you wonder that I sing the praises of a medicine that has cured me of all these ills?"—Mrs. G. C. KIRCHNER, 472 Belmont Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Why so Many Women Are Childless—A Problem That Has Puzzled Physicians for Centuries. Reproduction is a law of nature, and no picture of joy and happiness can equal that of the vigorous mother and her sturdy child. Nature makes mistakes, and every thoughtful person must admit that a cause exists, why so many women are childless. The subject baffles the theories of physicians.
