LACKAWANNA, THE LEADER IN CORRECT LAUNDERING

LACE CURTAINS CLEANED By our new process to look like NEW.

Williams & M'Anulty 127 WYOMING AVE.

CITY NOTES. The regular monthly meeting of the Home for the Friendless will be held this morning at 9:30 o'clock.

The Delaware and Hudson company paid yesterday at the Olyphant and Eddy Creek mines at Olyphant.

A Providence car and a loaded coal wagon collided on Mineral street yesterday morning, but the only damage was to the car fender.

Thomas Morgan, 20 years old, a laborer, was sentenced yesterday by Register Hopkins to thirty days in jail; he was arrested for being drunk.

Frank P. Ayers, of Clifford, Susquehanna county, and Myrtle M. Lewis, of Fleetville, were married yesterday by Alderman D. B. Wright.

In the estate of Stephen J. Dunn, late of Scranton, letters testamentary were yesterday granted by Register Hopkins to his widow Johanna Dunn.

Arrangements are being made by the Excelsior Social club for a pool tournament next week in its Wyoming avenue rooms. Prizes will be awarded.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company paid yesterday at the Dodge, Bellevue and Oxford mines. Today they will pay at the Storrs mine and machine shop.

Scranton letter carriers are now certain of receiving payment of their claims for overtime. The claim was contained in the general deficiency appropriation bill which passed congress Tuesday night.

A fine of $5 each was imposed by Mayor Bailey in yesterday's police court upon S. H. Harris and his wife, of Troy, N. Y. They were found drunk and surrounded by a crowd on Franklin avenue by Patrolman Mohr Wednesday night.

The executive committee of the Lackawanna County Good Roads committee will hold a meeting Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the board of trade rooms, at which steps will be taken to inaugurate an active campaign in favor of better roads.

Dr. George C. Knox and Miss Ella Hess, of Scranton; Frank P. Ayers, of Clifford, and Myrtle M. Lewis, of Fleetville; Charles W. Fisher, of Weston, Wayne county, and Mary L. Oar, of Scranton; William H. Andrews and Elizabeth Morgan, of Scranton, were granted marriage licenses yesterday.

A runaway team of horses attached to a heavy wagon ran up Wyoming avenue yesterday afternoon and at Spruce street collided with a carriage driven by E. L. Crane. The driver of the latter was thrown to the pavement, but was not seriously hurt. The carriage was slightly damaged.

The blacksmith shop of the Dickson Manufacturing company's cliff works is engaged night and day forging car axles to fill an order for the Jackson & Woodin company of Berwick, which must be completed April 1. In the Penn avenue shop of the company a large portable drill press is being placed in position.

The funeral of Thomas Dougherty, of the North End, was held yesterday morning at St. Peter's cathedral, where a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. W. Malone, Rev. J. J. E. Feeley officiating as deacon and Rev. Thomas Carmody as sub-deacon. A sermon was preached by Father Malone.

Deputy County Treasurer John A. Schadt was taken ill with the grip Wednesday and yesterday was unable to come to the office. County Treasurer C. H. Schadt being absent in the west, the office was left without an attendant, and one of the county commissioners' clerks had to be deputed to look after the county treasury.

Michael Washko, who had been at the Moses Taylor hotel since Dec. 20, suffering from an old complaint, died yesterday at that institution. His home was at 48 South Washington avenue.

Alderman Millar yesterday united in marriage Thomas Hughes and Emma Bolton, both of Olyphant. The ceremony was performed in his office.

The funeral of Mrs. John J. Manley took place from her late residence, on North Washington street, yesterday morning. High mass of requiem was celebrated in St. Paul's church, and Rev. J. J. Dunn preached a very eloquent sermon, taking for his text the words, "Remember thou art from dust, and to dust thou shalt return." Interment was made in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.

MACK IN MYLES AROON. Attracted an Audience That Crowded the Frothingham. Sweet-voiced Andrew Mack was at the Frothingham last night in "Myles Aroon," and, of course, the house was crowded. It always is when Mack appears in Scranton.

That popular drama of life in Ireland received the same faithful interpretation that it always does from Mr. Mack's company, and the star sang "Maggie My Own." "An Irish Lad's Wooing," "The Art of Making Love," "The Low Back Car" and other songs that he has done much to popularize. Every song was enthusiastically endorsed.

SMOKED FISH. Fancy Halibut, Salmon and Smoked Blosters, Salt Mackerel, Boneless Cod, Strictly Fresh Jersey Eggs.

E. G. COURSENER. Wholesale and Retail.

MR. KINSLEY'S END IS APPROACHING

Chittenden Resolution is Taken Away from the Committee. SELECT COUNCIL MAKES A STAND

But Not Until After a Heated Fight Was the Resolution Providing for the Removal of Mr. Kinsley and His Assistant, George Perigo, Adopted. Taken from the Committee by a Vote of Ten to Five.

The Chittenden resolution advocating the removal of Street Commissioner C. R. Kinsley and his assistant, George Perigo, was last night taken from the regular committee to which it had been referred, in select council and was adopted after a vigorous and lengthy debate. This was the resolution:

Resolved, By the select council of the city of Scranton, the common council concurring, that it is the opinion of the council that the interests of the city would be best served by the removal of the present street commissioner and his assistant, and the city clerk is requested to convey notice of this action to the mayor.

The resolution was introduced last Thursday night by Mr. Chittenden, but despite that gentleman's protest and the support of a minority it was "referred to committee." No committee was designated and President Sanderson designated the committee on laws and ordinances, whose members are: Mr. Kearney, chairman; Mr. Finn, Mr. Fellows, Mr. Williams and Mr. McAndrew. They failed to act upon the measure and last night's doings was the consequence.

Mr. Durr, Mr. McAndrew and Mr. Clark debated against acting as a body on the resolution until Mayor Bailey had reported upon the testimony heard during the investigation, but when a vote was taken on a motion to take the measure from the committee Mr. Clark voted with the majority.

President Sanderson was absent. In his stead Mr. Chittenden was chosen to preside. Mr. Fellows opened the Kinsley matter by a motion that the resolution be taken from the committee and considered forthwith.

MR. M'ANDREW OBJECTED. In debating the motion, Mr. McAndrew, who is a member of the committee, opposed action on the ground that the committee in its own defense should have time to consider whether it should act definitely or return the resolution without a report. He had not learned until last night that the resolution had been referred.

Mr. Lansing was of the opinion that the best way to settle the point raised by Mr. McAndrew was for councils to act. Mr. McAndrew, in replying, used his former argument and added that it was a question whether such a resolution could be properly acted upon except in joint session.

The motion to bring the resolution before the meeting was put and adopted by the following vote: Ayes—Messrs. Ross, Kearney, Thomas, Clark, Chittenden, Manley, McCann, Fellows, Lansing, Coyne—19 votes. Nays—Messrs. Durr, Robinson, Schroeder, Lums, McAndrew—5 votes.

Mr. Manley's motion that the resolution be read and adopted was seconded by Mr. Lansing. After the reading, Mr. Clarke asked Mr. Chittenden his reasons for introducing the resolution. The latter called Mr. Coyne to the chair and descended to the floor.

It was purely a personal matter, Mr. Chittenden remarked. He had sat with the mayor at the latter's request during the investigation but had not been so empowered by councils. The mayor had told a reporter that his final decision would depend on the opinions of his four associates and himself. The committee, so called, had never been given an opportunity to vote on the guilt or innocence of the accused.

HE HAD BEEN BLAMED. He had, he said, been blamed by his constituency in the face of the evidence for not taking action, hence the liberty he took in introducing the resolution, which he said was a surprise, had been referred to committee.

At this point Mr. Coyne asked to be relieved from the duty of presiding. Mr. Chittenden, too, preferred remaining on the floor and asked Mr. Manley to occupy the chair.

Mr. Coyne said he was surprised at the attitude of some of the members. The testimony was plainly and undeniably that the affairs of the street department had been most flagrantly mismanaged and dishonorably conducted; he did not believe any councilman on the floor honestly questioned it. It was simply mirsh-provoking to ask for reasons why the resolution should be adopted. If there was any reason why it should not pass, then the entire public press of the city had been guilty of blackmail.

Mr. Chittenden then referred to a remark attributed in yesterday's Tribune to Mayor Bailey as follows: As a further indication of the stand which the mayor takes in this matter he is credited by Mr. Chittenden with saying that the appropriations for the street commissioner's department are about exhausted and in consequence the city could not lose much money if Mr. Kinsley was allowed to continue to the end of his term.

Mr. Coyne—Why didn't you, the mayor and the rest of the committee report? We should have it before we can act. Mr. Chittenden—There was no committee appointed to report. I tell you, I wasn't one of any committee.

Mr. McAndrew—Then you or some one give me some reason for adopting this resolution. How do you know officially of any guilt? Mr. Chittenden—There; that's just the position the mayor placed me in; that's the point.

Mr. Durr—Well, now if the investigating committee didn't make a report, how are we going to take it upon ourselves to say that the man was found guilty? That's why I moved at the last meeting that Mr. Chittenden's resolution be referred to committee. To stand and express anything about it. The committee hasn't reported and there's nothing to act on.

Mr. Chittenden—No, the mayor's committee didn't decide, but did.

HEALTH BOARD OF CITY IN SESSION

Listened to a Number of Reports from Officers It Employs. SPITTING IN TROLLEY CARS

Board Agrees Upon a Mild Notice Forbidding the Habit and if That Does Not Accomplish the Work Intended There Will Be Some Stringent Legislation on the Subject. Charges Against Superintendent Loftus Not Sustained.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of health was held yesterday afternoon in the board's room in city hall. President M. J. Kelly presided and Dr. W. A. Paine, Dr. W. E. Allen and Henry Zeigler constituted the quorum. After the reading of the minutes of the preceding meeting the report of the secretary of the board was read. It stated that during the month of February there were reported 123 deaths. During the same month of the last four years there were, respectively, the following number of deaths: 98, 107, 122 and 101. The report also stated that during the month 107 cases of measles, 6 cases of typhoid fever, 8 of whooping cough, 18 cases of diphtheria and 8 cases of scarlet fever were reported.

Health Officer Allen submitted a verbal report in which he recommended that unsanitary nuisances existing in the hotel at the corner of Lackawanna and Adams avenues, and at the Phoenix Chemical engine company's house on Lackawanna avenue be abated. At both these places there is a lack of sewage and the stench arising as a result is unbearable, so the neighbors say. A motion was carried providing for the carrying out of Dr. Allen's recommendations.

FOOD INSPECTOR'S REPORT. The next report submitted was from Milk and Food Inspector Cullen, in which he stated that 538 meat and fish and 234 milk inspections were made, and that 199 pounds of poultry and 150 pounds of fish were confiscated and destroyed.

In the report on the crematory for the month, Superintendent H. W. Loftus stated that 596 barrels of garbage were consumed and that sixteen tons of coal had been used in the operations.

QUESTIONS SHOUTED McCANN. "Question! question!" shouted Mr. McCann with an expression showing anger at the length of the argument. "Hold on," exclaimed Mr. Chittenden, as he hurriedly arose to reply to Mr. Williams, "I raise a point of personal privilege. The mayor never allowed the question to come to a vote. He was the only one who had any decision in the matter. We were fooled around and scarcely ever got together and when we did, a vote was put off."

"Before this is settled I want to correct a report that I am an enemy of Mr. Kinsley's. I am not. I take this position because I am right. Another thing—since he went into office there has never been one foot of street permanently improved and not one yard of pavement properly cleaned."

Thus ended the most spirited period in councils for some time. Mr. Chittenden had throughout the debate fought hard for the passage of the measure, and on that account at least did not desist. Mr. Williams remarked about a lack of backbone which was more humorous than otherwise under the real consideration of things.

WANT HIGHER WAGES. Union Painters Are Preparing for a Controversy With Their Employers! the Master Painters.

Trouble is brewing between the master and journeymen painters; at least such is indicated in the names of a joint meeting held last night by journeymen painters' unions, Nos. 118 and 218 at Hurlburt's hall.

A higher scale of wages was adopted and will be forwarded to national headquarters at Baltimore for approval. On the return of the scale, the master or boss painter will be asked to pay it or employ non-union men.

There are 100 or more union painters in the city and they were well represented at the meeting. They would not reveal to a Tribune reporter the particulars of the scale, which the national officers will be asked to approve. It was admitted that the rates were but slightly above present wages, which range from $1.50 to $2.50 per day. They claim to be among the poorest paid mechanics in the city.

The boss painters have an organization of their own, but it is not as flourishing a condition as formerly.

TO CONDEMN THE TURNPIKE. Petition Circulated for Obliteration of Abington Road Toll Gates.

Another move is being made against the Providence and Abington Turnpike company. The new move is to have the road condemned and the toll gates wiped out forever. The Scranton Dairy company, which is at the head of the movement, has a petition in circulation among the Abington people and later will send it down among the people of Providence for signatures.

The hope is being held out to the farmers that if the road is condemned the county commissioners, under the authority of the Abington road bill, will care for its repairing. The commissioners, however, have not committed themselves on this point.

Steam Heating and Plumbing. P. F. & M. T. Howley, 231 Wyoming ave.

NEED OF ORGANIZATION. Explained by Executive Committee of Firemen's Association.

A large number of the firemen of the North End met the executive committee of the Volunteer Firemen's association in the hose-house of the Excelsior company last evening. The object of the meeting was to interest the firemen of that part of the city in the association.

A. E. Vorhis, president of the association, explained the mission of the executive committee, after which remarks were made by Joseph Stuart, of the Cumberland company; Isadore Goodman, of the Nay Aug hose company; C. E. Becker, of the Phoenix Chemical company, and William Eldridge, of the Niagara hose company.

The committee distributed a pamphlet among the firemen present containing abstracts from the by-laws, stating the object of the association and also urging the necessity of such an organization among firemen.

Notice. We are still doing business at the same old stand where we have been for twenty-two years past and most respectfully solicit the patronage of the public as heretofore in awnings, tents, flags and all kinds of society goods and decorations.
