LOOK OUT FOR RAIN AND MUD.

Weatherman Paine Says the Air Is Full of Dampuess.

"Rain, mud and slysh must inevitably be the lot of this region during the coming spring," is the doleful prediction of H. E. Paine, the government's local weather guesser. The precipita tion this winter, he says, has been far below the average, and when the damp ness doesn't come down in the winte it must necessarily get back to earth American public, in the spring. The advance sale or seats for the Sieveking concert tonight has been large. It is expected that this great genius of the plano will have one of the largest audiences of the season. The oncert is particularly adapted to the Lenten season, as such a programme interpreted in such a masterly, poetle and sympathetic manner cannot fail o draw one to a higher plane, with ongings for purer and better things. The memory of Mr. Sleveking's for-ner concert still delightfully lingers in the minds of many people who gladly avail themselves of this second opportunity to hear him. One of the prominent ministers of this city, a capable critic, said of the former concert that it was the most delightful one he had ver attended, not excepting even some ery fine concerts which he had attended when abroad, Mr. Sleveking is the greatest planist now before the
