FIELD SPORTS AND DEBATE.

The Binghamtonians Are to Meet Carbondaleans During the Season.

Arrangements are under way which promise that during the spring, summer and fall of 1897 the Alumni Athletic association park will be the scene of many interesting sports. The twenty-second of May has been fixed upon as opening day, although the date is subject to change. Professor H. J. Hockenberry is in communication with Professor Leonard, of the Binghamton high school, in regard to a debate and field day. Professor Leonard says he will be glad to come to Carbondale and can furnish as many debaters and field day men as are desired. The proposed plan is to hold a debate in the afternoon, Friday evening and field day sports at Alumni park the next day. The income tax was suggested by Prof. Leonard as a good subject for debate, and he thinks that there should be a debate on a side. Binghamton has the reputation of having some good athletes and these opposed to our muscular Carbondaleans might make a field day which would be very interesting.

The Gilhoobys Abroad.

The Germans in their laudable musical comedy, "The Gilhoobys Abroad" will be at the opera house this evening. Whether in comedy or burnt cork specialties the German brothers are always funny and up-to-date. The "Gilhoobys Abroad" abounds in clean humor and sparkling music, which not only entertains the popular strata of the day, but also selections from the grand operas which are given in artistic manner by the accomplished prima donna Miss Agnes Bayles. The entertainment given by the Germans is of the kind that drives dull care away and the fun makers will doubtless be heartily welcomed by Carbondale amusement lovers.

In his effort to pacify affairs the constable came in for his share of rough usage. Mr. and Mrs. Farrell found themselves in a very awkward position and the sale went on. Both are under bail for assault.

SITUATION AT THE SEAT OF WAR

The successive notes of his government to the powers have continued to lead them into a series of diplomatic colloquies, the tendency of which was towards compromise, and the aim of which has been to give Greece, in the last resort, some way of retreat from a most difficult situation. A most critical juncture of the past week was when the Russian government, alone, or in conjunction with Austria, and supported by the approval of the Kaiser, threatened to cut short at parleying with Athens and send the Russian and Austrian squadrons to the Piræus. Instructions were actually sent to Admiral Tiroff, Russian minister of marine, to Admiral Andriff, commander of the Russian squadron in the Mediterranean, to take his squadron to the Piræus and await orders from M. Onon, the Russian minister at Athens, who was to present an ultimatum from the three imperial powers. This precipitate action is understood to have been averted more by the representations of France than by any regard on the part of the czar's government for the maintenance of the "status quo." It is, however, to be noted that it was so designed, of forcing the hands of M. Hanotaux, French minister of foreign affairs, who was reluctant to offend French feeling by striking at Greece and at the same time disinclined to advise retreat from France's ally. While the Kaiser, like the czar, has been all for action first and parleying afterwards, Lord Salisbury's tentative policy has been directly the reverse.

The admission of the United States to the Balkan league is generally unobscured and fairly accurate, describes the condition of the Turkish troops on the frontier as bad, but asserts that the equipment of the troops, so far as the "equipment" is concerned, is excellent. These considerations must weigh with the Greek government in rendering it adverse to risking war. These despatches last week announced a Serbo-Bulgarian alliance but since then it has transpired that the Athens cable had merely hoped for effective and immediate aid against Turkey from these Balkan states. It is not known that they are rather against Greece than with her. The personal equation has come in again and to the disadvantage of Greece. In the spring of last year King Alexander of Serbia visited Athens in connection with his proposed marriage to the only daughter of King George of Greece, the Princess Maria, Novakovich, a Pan-Hellenist, projected this matrimonial alliance but King George had no liking for it. King Alexander returned to Belgrade and the marriage of King George and M. Simitch was formed, aiming at the Serbo-Bulgarian entente, now concluded. The Princess Maria of Greece has been betrothed to a grand duke of Russia, and the King of Serbia has become a willing instrument in settling the arrangements with Bulgaria. No encouragement to Hellenism is a main point in the Balkan-Slavonic alliance.

The government has again given notice, and German Americans are sensibly advised that Germany, who have emigrated and have been fined or punished otherwise for contravention of the military service laws, shall not be allowed to reside in Germany, except in the case of those who are in possession of a record of which must be kept in the war office.

Doctor St. John desires in the first place that this offer be thoroughly understood by the people and accepted by them just as he makes it. He is well aware that the word "free" has been used in medical advertising insincerely; that it has been used to cover various schemes and projects by which money was extorted from patients; that doctors have advertised free treatment and charged for remedies that doctors have advertised free and advertised that as free, finding something else to charge for.
