COLUMBIA HOSE MEETING.

Weekly Drilling of the Members of the Company.

Columbia Hose company at their last meeting decided several important matters and much interest was indicated by what is to be carried out in future. The company will resume the drilling of members, under the direction of John Moffitt and James Canno bell. Monday and Friday evenings are set apart for this purpose. The mem bership has not yet reached the limit allowed by the by-laws of sixty members, and the organization intends to add to its number. The initiation fee for the present will be $5 instead of $10. The company have uniforms for fiftysix members and the membership fee includes the uniform. Their rooms are well furnished and their library contains many books, popular and useful,

It was decided at the meeting to attend the state convention of Bremen at Wilkes-Barre next October, which will continue nearly all one week. They will be ready to join in the grand

RESCUED A CHILD.

Warren Quick's Promptness Saves the Life of a Little One.

The attention of Warren Quick, wh is employed at Fowler & Bronson' mill, was aroused by loud scream from a child near the Delaware and Hudson canal bank in the rear of Van Bergen & Co.'s store on Sunday after-He hastened to the place and the audience with some choice selecraw that a little child had fallen into the rapid current, and would soon be carried under the store, as the water flows beneath the building.

Mr. Quick plunged into the water, and brought the child out. The little one had fallen from the narrow plank that crosses the canal, and her sister gave the alarm. The child was taken the Young People's Society of Christian in an exhausted condition to the par-ents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Aiellams of church, where refreshments were the West Side Italian settlemen and a physician summoned. It was some time before treatment was effectual. but the child is now thought to be in a fair condition for recovery. As the canal is now deep and very rapid, only the promptness of Mr. Quick saved the child from drowning.
