OPENING OF ART LOAN EXHIBITION

Finest Collection of Pictures and Curios Ever Seen in Scranton.

SOME OF THE NOTABLE PAINTINGS

There Has Been an Artistic Arrangement of the Exhibits By John Brainard, Under Whose Personal Supervision the Collection Was Gathered and Arranged—Exhibit Is for the Benefit of the Green Ridge Library.

The art loan exhibition, arranged by the ladies of the Green Ridge library for the benefit of that worthy institution, was formally opened to the public last evening, in one of the large store rooms of the board of trade building.

From an artistic point of view it is a decided success and it is to be hoped that the committee, to whose efforts Scranton is indebted for the finest collection of pictures and curios ever seen here, will receive the financial success the enterprise merits.

The exhibit, comprising ancient and modern paintings, tapestries, bronzes, carvings, etc., is so extensive for Scranton that it is not possible to do justice to it in a few lines. It is so arranged as to afford an opportunity to all to examine the collection with the greatest ease and convenience.

On the left wall you enter is displayed an excellent collection of modern paintings in oil and water color by distinguished artists. In the rear on the wall and in cases is a very interesting collection of rare and ancient curios.

This collection it was found impossible to describe in detail, and each article bears a descriptive tag. The right wall is devoted to the old masters, tapestries and other objects of interest, the ensemble being completed by oriental rugs and draperies, palms, etc.

A review of the exhibition, the accumulation of visitors extends down the center of the room. Space forbids an extended review. There can only be mentioned a few of the many excellent features which will delight the eye and will repay careful study.

THE MODERN PAINTINGS.—Among the modern paintings are two or three examples of John R. Fairbank's work, which is in a high order of artistic excellence.

The old masters (56) a charming study by C. C. Carter, also comes from Mr. Robertson's collection. A Gray Day (60) and a Wet Day (70), two beautiful studies from the brush of A. H. Wyatt.

There are two excellent studies of a young woman by E. T. Richards. A Heloise in Blue (64) by Charlotte Willing; From My Study Window (68) by A. Mantua; Girl's Head (48) by Hamilton Hamilton; The Golden Age (52) by S. Steffen; The Dreamer (45) by E. F. S. Church; are fine examples of the technic, color and composition of these well known artists.

THE OLD MASTERS.—Among the old masters the collection brought by Mrs. W. C. Richardson, artist unknown, will attract especial notice. A valuable collection of Washington relics, John Brown's last letter, an old French chair used by Louis Philippe, oriental fans and screens, old manuscripts, etc., etc., add a little to the interest of the exhibit.

As the collection is still growing we can give but a partial list of those who have loaned works of art of rare value, but among those to whom the thanks of the ladies' association are especially due are: James P. Hoste, Mrs. Anna Sanderson, Mrs. Homan, Mrs. Walter Dickson, John Robertson, Mrs. W. E. Hallstead, Mrs. G. L. Dickinson, J. H. Rittenhouse, W. T. Smith, H. E. Reynolds, Frank Carter, A. E. Leav, Leah Heath, E. B. Sturges, Mrs. Joseph Scranton, Mrs. J. B. Dinwiddie. The exhibition will be open every afternoon and evening during the week.

ENTERPRISE WITH A VENGEANCE. Olyphant Opera House Manager is a Hysterical and No Distake.

Olyphant has an opera house manager who is nothing if not aggressive. In James P. Cunningham's letter known here as Prothonotary Pryor's obdurate deputy, Monday night he had $150,000 worth of shares in the Olyphant company. He had a big advance sale it was found that the show could not be given owing to the absence of electric light and power. The Olyphant borough plant having shut down for repairs.

Mr. Cunningham left the house with Kerrosen lamps, lit the people in without taking up tickets, and at the time of taking the curtain, mounted the stage, explained the difficulties and told them he would put the show on the next night. The audience good naturedly bore with him and not a single person took advantage of the offer to refund money on the tickets. Immediately the hustling manager set to work. He induced the company to cancel an engagement and stay over, hired a gang of electrical experts, secured the necessary permissions, and by tapping the traction company's trolley wire for power, repairing a motor at the borough plant and running a line to the opera house to convey light, he had everything in shape at 5 o'clock p. m., and in the evening the show was produced before a crowd that packed the house.

Spring Military Opening. Thursday and Friday at Miss Nellie Walsh's, 211 Wyoming avenue.

PORTRAIT OF JOSEPH J. ALBRIGHT.

One of the finest specimens of the modern portrait painter's art, in this region at least, is the magnificent portrait of Joseph J. Albright, of Albany, N. Y., recently hung in the Albright Memorial library and presented by William T. Smith. It is the handiwork of Chartrand, the French portrait painter, whose peculiar skill has been employed by prominent personages of this and the European continent. When it is remembered that a competent critique might occupy a column in properly describing a work of such a master, it will be recognized that any laudatory criticism here would not be at all commensurate with the merit of the work. The accompanying cut will, however, give a fair idea of the natural pose. The painting is about three-quarter size and is the result of a long period of labor. Its cost is unknown, but there is probably no painting, landscape, marine or portrait, in this section of the state that represents a greater value. It was the picture's original who gave Scranton the city's splendid library building. The painting is hung at the western end of the reading room. Many persons are visiting the library daily for the express purpose of studying it.

MET AT WILKES-BARRE.

Convention of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Wyoming District of the M. E. Church.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Wyoming district held a convention yesterday in the First Methodist Episcopal church at Wilkes-Barre. Every Methodist church in this city was represented. From the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church were present: Mrs. Sweet, wife of the pastor, Rev. J. B. Sweet, Miss Sarah Slocum, Mrs. Richard Castner, Mrs. Charles Acker; and among those from other Scranton churches were: Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Chaffee, wife of Rev. A. P. Chaffee; Mrs. Edgar, wife of Rev. William Edgar, and Mrs. D. B. Hand.

There were two sessions of the convention, morning and afternoon. Despite the wet weather in the morning there was a good attendance. Mrs. M. J. Straub led the devotional exercises. Mrs. M. S. Hard, district president, greeted the convention with a few words on the guidance of the Holy Spirit. Afterward Mrs. D. S. Melville, secretary, gave a splendid report and Mrs. Lance read a paper on "God's Vineyard and Woman's Place in It." Dr. Ann Clark talked in an interesting way of "Medical Missions in China." Singing followed and Mrs. G. E. Fowler, of Wilkes-Barre, led the convention in a journey through India. "The Isles of the Sea" was read by Miss Lucas.

President Hard appended the following on committees: Mrs. Powell, Mrs. Mogg, Miss Shoemaker, committees on program, Mrs. Chaffee, Mrs. Lewellyn, committee on resolutions. Lunch was served by the ladies of the First church. In the afternoon the attendance was greater than in the morning session. Mrs. Pierce, of Wilkes-Barre, led the devotional exercises. Mrs. G. K. Powell, corresponding secretary, read her report. Mrs. E. B. Reynolds gave a talk on Bulgaria, followed by a splendid paper on "Such As I Have Given This."

The convention participated in an individual discussion on the subject: "Which Country Am I Most Interested In and Why?" Miss Mary Danforth, who but recently returned from missionary work in Japan, spoke for an hour in a remarkably interesting way. Mr. Johnson, another missionary from Japan, was introduced to the convention but he made no address. Mrs. Kulp, of Wilkes-Barre, announced a new plan for raising money for the society branch will meet and devote to accomplish as much as possible before the new closely approaching reorganization.

If Mayor Bailey keeps his promise to the special interview committee he will address to common council a definite report on the Kinsey matter. The communication will be a confirmation of the special committee's report—that Mr. Kinsey will resign, the resignation to take effect April 30.

Many Things to Occupy the Attention of the City Fathers. Tonight will be a busy one about the city hall. The common council will be in session and the paving committee will be considering the matter of streets with the Mulberry street paving problem. The lower branch will be alive with activity as there will be a rash of new measures introduced and pending ordinances called up for reading in order to accomplish as much as possible before the new closely approaching reorganization.

If Mayor Bailey keeps his promise to the special interview committee he will address to common council a definite report on the Kinsey matter. The communication will be a confirmation of the special committee's report—that Mr. Kinsey will resign, the resignation to take effect April 30.

Board of Control Committee Is on Its Annual Tour. The building committee of the board of control began its annual inspection of the city's public school buildings yesterday. Their work will not end until tomorrow afternoon. The inspection is for the purpose of arriving at the approximate amount of money necessary for repairs and improvements in 1897. In the past it has not been customary to make the inspections so early, but this year on account of the depleted state of school finances the committee
