CITY NOTES.

The Bicycle club will hold a dance at the club house Friday night.

Court yesterday appointed Horace Ellis guardian of Harry Capwell, minor child of the late Sarah Capwell, of Moonic.

Invitations are being distributed for the commencement exercises of the John Raymond institute at the Young Men's Christian Association hall next Friday night.

The board of tax revision will hear appeals from the Thirteenth ward today and the Fourteenth ward tomorrow.

The new buildings recently erected by Contractor Shoenor in the Tenth ward for George P. Reynolds and the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company's store, are greatly admired by the people of that section of the city.

Last week was a record breaker in the number of new cases of measles reported to the board of health.

The Scranton Clerks' association, No. 17, Branch of the Retail Clerks' National Protective association, will hold their sixth annual hop at Professor J. Frank Shoenor's new dancing academy on Wednesday evening, April 25.

A. V. Bowers' Sunday school class at Elm Park church held a social in the church parlors last evening.

The will of Thomas J. Williams, late of Scranton, was admitted to probate yesterday by Register Hopkins and letters testamentary granted to his sons, Thomas J. Williams, Jr., and James Williams.

Two collectors' bonds were yesterday approved by court. P. J. Hoban, collector of Olyphant borough, gave a bond in the sum of $5,000.

The will of Thomas J. Williams, late of Scranton, letters of administration were granted to his widow, Sarah Hulton Williams.

THE THIRD WARD CONTEST.

Grier Attacks McNamara's Petition and Complaint in Court.

Yesterday Common Councilman James J. Grier, whose return from the Third ward is contested by John McNamara, through his attorney, City Solicitor James H. Torrey, moved in court to quash McNamara's petition and complaint on the grounds that the petition was not signed by the required number of qualified voters.

Out of the thirty signers seven of them, Thomas Mulchrone, William Harrington, Frank Kerrigan, Martin Barrett, Thomas McDonough, John Thornton and Martin McCrone, were not, he alleges, qualified voters at the February election, not having paid taxes within two years.

Four of them, Martin Barrett, John Thuygh, Thomas McDonough and Martin McCrone, did not vote at the February election, he alleges. One of the signers, Charles Carroll, he verily believes did not sign the petition. The hearing of the motion was fixed for April 12, at 9 o'clock a. m.

Members of the Lester Aggregation of Players Looking for the Manager and the Star.

Happy in spirits over the week's good business that Scranton gave them, the members of Minnie Lester's dramatic company tripped lightly yesterday morning from their hotel, the Westminster, to the Delaware and Hudson station, where they were to take the 10:15 train for Carbondale, and they sat in the section counting the ticks of the big-faced clock, watching and waiting for the appearance of Minnie Lester herself, the "star" of the company, and many important yet, they strained their eyes for George E. Mitchell, owner of the show, and the man who held all moneys thereof.

Briefly stated, here is the condition of affairs: The man Mitchell, though it is not what the actors call him, left Scranton yesterday morning for Bethlehem, taking with him unbeknownst to the company, Miss Minnie Lester, who is his wife, their little 4-year-old son, the boy's nurse and the proceeds of the last week's engagement.

When the fact of the desertion was known to the company, all except one member left on a later train for Carbondale. This one is Charles J. Harris, stage manager. He sought Chief of Police Rohling, who discovered the whereabouts of Mitchell, and by telephone ordered his arrest at Bethlehem. In the afternoon Harris swore out a warrant before Alderman O. E. Wright charging Mitchell with the embezzlement of "from $700 to $800 due to sundry persons."

The sundry persons are the members of the company, who have not been paid their salaries for five weeks. Constable John Harris was given the warrant and left on the 4:30 Jersey Central train for Bethlehem. Mitchell will probably be brought back today.

When the company got to Carbondale, where they were billed for a week's engagement, they were confronted with the absence of the leading lady, Miss Lester. That seemed to cut little figure, as Stage Manager Harris said, and the regular performance was given last night, an understudy taking Miss Lester's part.

The members of the company seem to think that Miss Lester will be back in the ranks for her performance.

THEY WERE ON THE BORROW.

Money Stringency Makes Itself Felt Among the Liquor Dealers.

Yesterday was the last day for taking out liquor licenses and from early morning until 6 o'clock in the evening, County Treasurer Schadt was kept busy handing out little slips of paper that cost anywhere from $75 to $500.

Due to the rush of business the treasurer had but little time to figure out exactly how many licenses were taken out, but he was quite positive that a number of those who were granted licenses did not take advantage of the privilege given them.

The hard times and consequent poor business left many of the retailers without the necessary license fee and the brewers and wholesalers were as a result called upon in many cases to put up for their patrons. So general was the demand for loans that it gave rise to a joke that one of the brewery offices were closed yesterday.

PRICE OF GAS IS REDUCED.

New Schedule Goes Into Effect on April 1 Next.

The Scranton Gas and Water company and the Hyde Park Gas and Water company announce that on and after April 1 the price of gas will be $1.25 per thousand cubic feet.

This price will also be subject to the following discounts: Five per cent, upon all bills where the consumption for the month amounts to less than $25; ten per cent, upon all bills where the consumption amounts to $25 and upwards, provided the bill is paid on or before the 20th of the month on which the bill is presented.

Waldron's Big Horse Sale.

Waldron's bill posters arrived in town yesterday, and during the day were busy billing the suburban towns to announce his coming. He will be in town Thursday, with 40 head of the finest horses ever brought to Scranton.

DICKINSON CASE AGAIN ON TRIAL

Famous Woman Seeks to Recover Fifty Thousand Dollars Damages.

INJURIES THAT SHE ALLEGES

Says Her Apartments Was Rudely Broken Into, That She Was Seized and Taken to Danville Insane Asylum Where She Was Incarcerated.

Miss Dickinson Was the First and the Only Witness on the Witness Stand Yesterday.

In the United States circuit court yesterday afternoon Judge Acheson called for trial the case of Miss Anna Dickinson against John Courtwright, George E. Thompson, John Eggleston, John S. Helman, Dr. Gibson Underwood and Henry Bryden, whom she accuses of having unlawfully seized her and caused her to be incarcerated in the Danville asylum. The defendants are residents of Pittston and West Pittston and all of them were friends of the Dickinson family prior to Feb. 25, 1897, when the things complained of took place. Miss Dickinson's suit is for the purpose of recovering $50,000, and this is the second trial. It was called up before Judge Acheson in this city on March 25, 1897, and on April 19 the jury was discharged because it could not come to an agreement. Since the last trial Dr. Underwood has passed away.

None of the counsel employed in the case on the former trial here are in the case now. Miss Dickinson is represented by Attorney J. Aspinwall Hodge and J. M. Ferguson, of New York city, and Attorney Horace E. Hand, of this city, and the defendants by Attorney A. A. Visking and C. W. Dawson, of the local bar. Miss Dickinson looks as if she enjoyed better health than when she was in attendance at the trial two years ago. She excites equally as much attention as she did then, and on the former trial, Mrs. George Akerly, of New York, and Miss Louise McDonald, of Wilkes-Barre, are her constant companions. Mrs. McDonald before her marriage was Miss Dickinson's maid, and after the marriage she was released from Danville Insane asylum, she went to reside with Mr. and Mrs. Akerly, near New York city. Mrs. Akerly is now a resident of New York city, and Miss Dickinson also makes that city her home.

STYLE DOES NOT WORRY HER.

Miss Dickinson's contempt for current fashions, which made her the object of much curious attention from members of her sex two years ago, is as pronounced as ever. She is becoming and sensibly attired, but it is individuality, not modishness, that is the distinctive feature of her attire.

Yesterday she wore a gown of brown and white checked goods, which was trimmed with wide, dark brown braid. A red silk vest added a dash of color to the general effect. The hat which ornamented Miss Dickinson's well-poised head was of the latest, and was curiously fashioned. The otherwise straight rim was slightly tilted on the left side and under the rim, which was faced with red, a large bunch of yellow and red roses was fastened. Red figured ribbon and red tulle and yellow roses were conspicuous in the ornamentation of the crown of the hat. Her hair is worn quite short, and an elastic band, which passes around the back of the head, holds the hat in position.

Miss Dickinson was the first witness called and during the time she was on the stand her sister, Miss Susan E. Dickinson, occupied a seat in the court room. Anna never for an instant allowed her eyes to rest on Susan's face or give any indication that she knew her sister was present. When referring to her in her testimony she always spoke of Susan not as her sister, but as her mother's eldest daughter.

Called for Trial.

After the Judge Acheson called the Dickinson case for trial and the little United States court room in the federal building was crowded with jurors, attorneys and spectators. The work of calling a jury was immediately entered upon and Attorney Hodge, of counsel for Miss Dickinson, asked permission to examine the jurors with reference to their knowledge of the case for the purpose of ascertaining if they had any prejudice for or against the defendant. He asked the jury to give a verdict in favor of the plaintiff.

It required a little more than an hour to select the following jurors who were sworn to sit at Danville and true deliberation make between the plaintiff and defendants: Charles D. Bradley, clerk, Pittsburg; Aaron Brown, miller, Tankhannock; Cyrus W. Blackburn, farmer, Point, Bedford county; W. S. Corbett, insurance agent, New Bethlehem, Clarion county; W. S. Coe, mayor, Parker, Armstrong county; Henry Missina, merchant, Cowan, Union county; James Miller, farmer, Grant borough, Lawrence county; Henry Schuch, farmer, Solina Grove, Snyder county; Daniel Trout, farmer, McConnellburg, Fulton county; Vincent Tobin, lumberman, Grant, Indiana county; Daniel M. Wonders, teacher, New Paris, Bedford county.

After the jurors were sworn Judge Acheson announced that he would go over to the Superior court room in the county court house, where the case will continue on trial until it is completed, leaving the district court in undisturbed possession of the federal court room.

WHAT DECLARATION ALLEGES.

The declaration in the Dickinson case alleges that on Feb. 25, 1897, the defendants, by their entrance into the house and apartment of Miss Dickinson, in West Pittston, and seized her by force and carried her from the premises, without providing her with suitable garments and incarcerated her in Danville Insane asylum. By reason of injuries she received and the exposure incident to her removal from the house, she was made sick and lame and was still suffering at the time the action was brought from the physical effects and mental anguish due to the treatment she had received. For this and the loss she sustained by reason of her incarceration in the Danville Insane asylum Miss Dickinson asks damages in the sum of $50,000.

It was 4 o'clock when the court got [Continued on Page 6.]

ROYAL NATIONAL EISTEDDFFOD.

It Will Be Held in Newport, Monmouthshire, Wales in August.

Mr. Griffith, of the American Kelt, has received some important information for eisteddffod from the Royal National eisteddffod of Newport, Monmouthshire, Wales. The dates of the meetings are August 3, 4, 5, 6, 1897. $5,500 is offered in prizes; $2,000 for poetry and music; $2,000 for art and science; and $4,475 for music. The eisteddffod is under the direct patronage of Queen Victoria. The president is Lord Tredegar, who has contributed $2,500 to the funds of the eisteddffod. The great prominence given to art and science this year reveals the hand of the famous Herkimer, who has been allowed full scope to carry out a plan very near to his heart, namely, to divert the Welsh mind to the study of art as well as music and poetry.

Mr. Griffith, also, has secured the approval and co-operation of the executive committee, chairman, Alderman Thomas Jones; secretary, Mr. A. J. Phillips, both of Newport, in organizing a party of eisteddffod pilgrims from America.

MESSETT COMMITTED TO COUNTY JAIL

He is Held to Await the Result of Michael Regan's Injuries.

LETTERS' CONDITION CRITICAL

Messett Expresses Great Regret at Having Been Compelled to Use a Weapon on the Regans, But Says He Was Sorely Pressed and That Was His Only Way of Protecting Himself from Serious Injury.

John Messett, the Railroad avenue anarchist, who on Sunday night stabbed the two Regan brothers, was committed to jail yesterday morning by Mayor Bailey without bail to await the result of the serious stabbing of Michael Regan, who is at the Lackawanna hospital. Regan's condition last night was critical, though the hospital surgeons think he is more apt to recover than to die.

To the police Messett made no denial of his offense, but claimed he did the stabbing in self-defense. When arraigned before the mayor Messett was visibly affected. He said he was sorry he had been obliged to use a knife; he would have liked to have used an ordinary beating at the hands of the Regans, but if he had not stabbed them he would have been killed.

Mayor Bailey was asked to accept bail, but refused to do so in such a grave case. Messett's face, aside from an abrasion of the skin on one side of the nose, showed no evidence of a desperate fight.

FIGHTER'S CONDITION.

He is in a Semi-Conscious State at His Home on Providence Road. Italians Given a Hearing.

A hearing was given in police court early last evening to the three Italians arrested on suspicion of having shot William Fichter on Providence road Sunday night. They were committed to jail without bail to await the result of Fichter's injury.

Fichter was last night lying in a semi-conscious state, but whether in consequence of the liquor he had drunk Sunday night or from the bullet wound on his skull is not known.

The Italians are John and Ferdinand Scardamogho, brothers, 21 and 25 years old, and Geromi Petinoti, 30 years old. John Scardamogho is the one suspected of having done the shooting. He is the smallest of the three and answers the description given of the police of the man who had the revolver. The hat found near the scene of the shooting fits the younger Scardamogho's head.

At the hearing the witnesses were Foster Reynolds and Otto Vockroth, M. C. Williams, the Ontario and Western ticket agent, who saw the three Italians how under arrest near the scene and showed them the house where they were arrested, and a Mrs. Brown, who was among the residents who took charge of Fichter immediately after he was shot. They told a story substantially as was that reported in yesterday's Tribune.

The prisoners were not represented by counsel at the hearing, nor was their victim. They appeared nervous and ill at ease. None of them has admitted knowing anything of the shooting. They made no denial of being in the vicinity and on the street when the crowd was gathered about the wounded Fichter, but insist that they heard no shots.

POISONED BY DRINKING TEA.

John Gibbons, an Old Resident of Pittston, Died Sunday Night.

John Gibbons, an old resident of Pittston, died Sunday evening at 8 o'clock from poison. About noon Sunday Mr. Gibbons poured out a cup of tea for himself from a metallic pot in which it had been standing for a time. Soon after he drank it he became violently ill and continued to grow worse until 8 o'clock at night when he died. Mr. Gibbons was 68 years of age and had been a resident of Pittston for 31 years. He was an uncle of Dr. R. H. Gibbons, of this city.

Friday afternoon Miss Catherine Gibbons, daughter of the deceased, drank some tea from the same vessel and also became very ill. She is now out of danger. Metallic poison from the vessel affected the tea and imparted the deadly quality to it.

WANTED PAY FOR HIS GOODS.

The Idea Was Preposterous to One Moses N. Schmidt.

Harris Sadow keeps a small department store in Raymond court and some weeks ago Moses N. Schmidt, also a resident of that place, went to the store to purchase goods. He selected several dresses and shawls, which he took home for inspection, promising to either return the goods or the money in payment thereof.

Schmidt seems to have changed his mind, however, and when Sadow requested him of the promise he was inclined to give a "hard boddy harangue." A warrant was sworn out for Schmidt from Alderman Howe's office and after a hearing yesterday afternoon he was sent to the county jail in default of $200 bail.

ELECTION OF A MAJOR.

Montrose Barnard's Successor to Be Chosen on April 9.

The following regimental order has been issued by Colonel H. A. Coursen: Headquarters Thirteenth Regiment Infantry, Third Brigade, National Guard of Pennsylvania.

Scranton, March 29, 1897. In accordance with Special Orders No. 27, Headquarters Third Brigade, National Guard of Pennsylvania, dated Lehans, March 28, 1897, the commissioned officers of the companies comprising the Thirteenth Regiment Infantry, National Guard of Pennsylvania, will assemble at the Scranton City Guard armory, Scranton, Friday, April 9, 1897, at 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing a major to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Major Montrose Barnard.

Lieutenant Colonel Charles C. Mattes is hereby detailed to conduct said election, and will make prompt returns to these headquarters.

By order of Colonel Henry A. Coursen. L. T. Mattes, Adjutant.

SHE WAS ON HER MUSCLE.

Young Woman Gave an Exhibition of the Muscles.

To the crowd of men standing on the corner of Spruce street and Wyoming avenue last evening the spectacle here noted was interesting at least. A young woman dressed well and to all appearances of good family, was promoting down Wyoming avenue on the arm of a young man.

When the corner was reached another young woman met the couple and stopped. There was a few words of consultation then the one coming suddenly drew back her arm and struck the other woman in the face.

There were more words and the pugilistic young woman left the two and entered the Hotel Jermyn.

SOLOMON WAS NOT WISE.

He Left the Jewelry Outside the Safe and They Were Taken.

J. P. Solomon, who owns the "diamond" show in the right front of the Arcade building, claims to have lost $100 worth of jewels from two burglaries that have happened since he established his business here three months ago.

The last burglary was some time Saturday night, after Mr. Solomon had closed his store. The thieves effected an entrance through the rear cellar way and the rest was easy, as the jewels were not in the safe.

The first burglary was made a few weeks after he came here. The police have been informed of the loss. Solomon leaves town tomorrow.

C. V. Konecny.

Scranton's favorite hair dresser and artist will retire from business in this city April 1st. Until that date all work will be done at greatly reduced prices. There are a few articles which will be sold at such low prices as will insure a special clearance of the entire stock by April 1st. This will be a rare opportunity to lay in a supply of toilet articles, switches, etc.; also the only opportunity to have wig, switches and front pieces at prices that cannot be equaled again. As an artist in this line Mr. Konecny has no peer in this section of the country. Few to excel him anywhere. He closes his business here for a location in a larger city. All orders will be executed promptly and for cash only.

Electricity in Dentistry.

Dr. G. E. Hill & Son, dentists, of this city, have added to their already elaborate outfit of dental appliances a Cathaphoric outfit for the treatment of teeth electrically and without pain. This is the first instrument of its kind to be brought into the city, and is one of the most modern of dental inventions of the day. Its use renders practically painless all operations in filling and treating teeth. This establishment is also equipped with electric engine, pluggers and appliances for placing porcelain front caps on teeth with gold crowns by a new method.

The Washburn & Moon Mfg. Co., being about to open a large warehouse in Philadelphia, in addition to those already established at New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Pittsburg and Houston, their Scranton stock of wire and wire rope will be removed to their eastern Pennsylvania trade supplied from that point.

Captain Theodore H. Dibble, who has had charge of the Scranton office for the last six years, will continue to represent the company here the same as heretofore.

The Helena Earns a Bonus. New London, Conn., March 29.—The gunboat Helena returned from her trial trip on Long Island Sound at 2.30 this afternoon. COURT APPOINTS COMMISSIONERS.

R. H. Holgate and D. J. Reedy Will Conduct the Dunmore Contest.

Judge Archbald yesterday appointed Attorneys R. H. Holgate and D. J. Reedy commissioners in the Dunmore contested election cases. Attorney M. J. McAndrew was designated as official stenographer.

Court further decreed that the taking of the direct testimony of the contestants must begin within five days and be completed within thirty days. The respondents will have five days thereafter to prepare and must complete their testimony within thirty days.

Court further orders "that the contestants within ten days from this date specify in writing the names of the persons who it is claimed voted illegally at the election, giving the residence of each of said voters, the number of their ballots and the ground in each instance upon which it is claimed that they voted illegally; and the respondents within twenty days from this date are required to specify in like manner the persons who, as it is asserted in the answer, voted illegally at the said election, with the residence, number of their ballots and grounds of illegality."
