SUPPER BY AID SOCIETY.

Conducted Last Night in the Welsh Calvinistic Methodist Church, Bellevue---Very Pleasant Event.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church, Bellevue, held a very successful social and entertainment last evening at the church. The affair was well attended and was encouraging to the efforts of the ladies of the Aid. The principal edities of the supper served were: Welsh "cockles" "ffroes," a cake similar to the American griddle cake. Ice cream and cake were also served by a corps of charming young ladies.

The following programme was given: Short address, chairman, Aaron James; song, "Please Mr. Barkeeper," Miss Beatrice Morgan; recitation, Willie Davis; song, "I'll Marry no Man Who Drinks," Miss Adeline Evans; recitation Amanda Morgan; dialogue, Mr. and Mrs. Brown," Miss Edith and Master Edward Davis, recitation, Effic Browning; song, "Maggie May," Gounod Evans; selection, by the Jones Sisters quartette, led by Mrs. John R.

YESTERDAY'S FUNERALS. The funeral services of Mrs. Mary, wife of D. C. O'Hara, of 1909 Price street, were held yesterday morning. The remains were borne from the late residence to St. Patrick's church, where a high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Father Dunne. A large number of the friends of the deceased woman attended the services. Interment was made in the Hyde Park Catholic cemetery. The remains of Annie Agnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Healey, of 505 Meridian street, were laid at rest in the Hyde Park Catholic cemetery yesterday. The services were short and were held at the residence.

The young daughter May, of Mr. and Mrs. John Coyne, of 216 North Van Buren avenue, was buried yesterday in the Hyde Park Catholic cemetery. Services were held at the family residence and were attended by many mourning friends, who feel deep sympathy for this family in their afflic-

A NOON WEDDING.

The residence of Mrs. M. J. Swaze, of 305 North Lincoln avenue, was enlivened by a pretty wedding ceremony at vited. high noon yesterday. The bride, a sister of Mrs. Swaze's, was Miss Laura Kunkle, of Kunkle, Pa., and the groom, James H. Hartman, of North Renecca. avenue. The happy couple, unat-tended, were united by the Rev. J. B. Sweet, of the Simpson church, of which Mr. Hartman is a well known member. The immediate friends and members of the family then sat down with the newly married twain to a bountiful wedding repast, after which Mr. and Mrs. Hartman left upon a wedding tour to Philadelphia. Upon their return they will reside in their own home lately built by Mr. Hartman at the corner of Gibson street and Prescott avenue. Mr. Hartman is a clerk in the car accountant's office of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western.

At the Frothingham tonight "A Tem erance Town," one of Charles H. Hoyt' best comedies, will be produced by a com-pany headed by those finished artists, George Richards and Eugene Cantield. The incident on which the author has based his comedy is a matter of Vermont history which concerns George Kibbling, sent to jail for a term of nearly sixty years by accumulative sentence, or pa a fine of $6,000 for seiling 700 glasses o liquor. The original company, which is the one that has delighted so many thousands of people in Boston and New York will be seen here.

No better thing than "A Good Thing' for creating laughter has ever been seen here, and it can be expected that Peter F. Dailey, that jovial jester, will meet with a crowded house Thursday and Friday evening, April 8 and 9, at the Acad-emy of Music, when he appears with his latest melange of merriment, supported by his famous company of fun makers. Miss Lily Hagen, of Tenth street, has The company supporting Mr. Dailey in-cludes Miss Delia Stacey, Eloise Morti-mer, Ollie Evans, Charles J. last night in the high school building. In the absence of President Burge, J. E. Swift was elected temporary chairman. The minutes of the three previous meetings were read and approved. The com-mittee appointed to find suitable lots for the new school building reported to have looked at three lots on the corner of Pot-ter and Blakely streets. The lots were 50 by 150 feet, the value of each being $2,000. After a most careful consideration, the board decided not to purchase the lots; the price asked for them was excessive. It was deemed advisable to consider the question of building additions to Nos. 2 and 4 buildings, and for that purpose Messrs. Bronson. Wilson and Horan were appointed a committee to investigate the matter. If the additions could be made for $15,000 the erection of a new building would be unnecessary. Dr. P. J. Murphy, of the board of health, stated that an epidemic of measles, whooping cough, and, to some extent, hiphtheria, was raging in Dunmore. A many as twenty-five scholars in one school building were afflicted with a contagious disease. The epidemic was in-creasing, and he urged the board to take immediate action to try and abate it as far as they could. The matter was giv-en consideration, and precautions are to be taken. If necessary, the schools can be closed for a few days. George Sanderson stated that for the sum of 300 he would grade Madison avenue, the length of the school property. A committee was empowered to have the work performed and have it done as cheaply as possible. Richard P. Webber, jr., made application for the position of fanitor in the school building on Tripp avenue. The matter was laid on the table, the services of a janitor not being required. We want to talk about your spring overcoat. If you would follow fashion closely, cling to us. Few stores even pretend to carry the assortment we show. For reputation's sake we must sell them at the very lowest prices. Not the lowest for ANY overcoat. But easily the lowest for SUCH a one. We clinch the argument when we show you this coat. Made of the popular Covert cloth. And well made. Somehow these have the right "hang" to them. They don't wrinkle across the back. Nor around the shoulders. Nor is there any wrinkle in your forehead when you hear the price,
