THE SPRING BROOK RAILROAD.

Judge Edwards Rules in an Interesting Case Bearing Thereon.

Judge Edwards vesterday handed down an order dismissing the complaint of the plaintiffs in the case of the Brook Railway company against the Spring Brook Water Supply company.

The Railway company claimed that the Water company unlawfully tore up three miles of its track destroying the road and working great injury thereby. The defendant justified its action on the grounds that it owns the land in fee simple and that the plaintiff having ceased to operate the road, had according to the terms of its lease, forfeited the right of way.

Judge Edwards found that the defendant's contention was correct and ruled that the plaintiff is entitled to no relief, unless it suffered from the manner in which the road was torn up. in which case there is adequate remedy

NON-SUIT GRANTED IN THE MORAN CASE

Contributory Negligence Established by the Plaintiff's Own Witnesses.

VERDICT IN THE M'HUGH CASE

Plaintiff Awarded the Full Amount of His Judgment with Interest -- Verdicts in Other Cases -- Baker Eschelman Sues Laundryman Warman -- Arguments Heard on the Bond Given by the E. & W. V. R. R. Co. to Indemnify for a Valuable Piece of Property.

Yesterday morning in common pleas ourt when the plaintiff's rested in the suit of John Moran against the Scranton Traction company, Major Warren and Horace-E. Hand, attorneys for the defense, moved for a compulsory nonsuit on the grounds that no negligence on the part of the company had been shown and contributory negligence on the part of Mrs. Moran had established. Messrs. Burns and Donahoe, attorneys for the plaintiff, vigorously opposed the moion, but Judge Gunster affirmed the ontention of the defendants, and granted a non-suit with a rule to show ause why it should not be stricken ff. returnable at argument court.

The jury in the case of A. J. Mc-Hugh against the estate of Richard McHugh, deceased, to recover on an $800 judgment given in 1867 returned a verdict yesterday morning in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount of the laim with interest, amounting all told

10 $1,742.02. In the case of the Computing Scale empany against James Bird a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $54.18 was rendered. In the case of Charles R. Atherton against Stephen Atherton a verdict of $67.90 was found for the plaintiff. A verdict of $21.47 was awarded the plaintiff in the case of Stephen Whitmore ag inst V. Mannion and

THE ESCHELMAN CASE.

At adjournment the case of C. A. schelman against A. B. Warman was trial before Judge Gunster. John F. Scragg and B. F. Killam appear for the r intiff, and Major Warren and Hon. C P. O'Malley for the defendant. Eschelman was run down by one of Warman's laundry wagons December 27, 1894, as he was walking along Dickson avenue near its intersection with the Delaware and Hudson tracks. He alleges that he has been permanently injured and by reason of the injury had to give up his business of driving a bakery wagon and seek some easier and less remunerative occupation.

The feature of the trial was Major Warren's cross examination of Drs. Arndt and Allen, who were called to tell of the seriousness of Eschelman's injuries. The manner in which he fired technical question and anomatical terms at the physicians must have led them to believe at least that the law was not the only strong point in the Major's intellectual make-up. Judge Jessup, representing Henry Wehrum, general manager of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company, com-plained before Judge Gunster of the irregularity and insufficiency of the bond riven by the Erie and Wyoming Valley Rallroad company as indemnity for damages that may accrue from the taking by the latter company of a small strip of land adjacent to the steel company's new roaster opposite Nay Aug park. BOND NOT SUFFICIENT.

The bond is for $5,000 and is given ointly to the Lackawnna Iron and Steel company and the Lackawanna Iron and Coal company, The complaint alleges that the land in question is owned severally by the two compa nies and that a separate bond should be given to each; also that the bond is insufficient because the damages that will result to the steel company will be in the neighborhood of $100,000; the seizure of this particular strip making it necessary for the complainant to build a new road to connect the mills and the roaster and rendering practically valuless for the uses intended the plot of land which the seized strip separates from the roaster. Judge Gunster directed that new and idequate bond be submitted.

EISTEDDFOD IN MAY.

Annual Event Will Be Conducted by the Hobert Morris Lodge.

The eisteddfod to be held in the Frothingham, Tuesday, May 11, mornng, afternoon and evening, under the direction of Robert Morris lodge of Ivorites, promises to be equally as successful, in every respect, as the famous eisteddfod of last year.

The Robert Morris lodge members are Welsh-Americans and it may not be amiss to say that the American idea is very evident in the eisteddfods conducted by the West Side organiza-tion. This year the big meeting is in the hands of almost the identical committee of last year, as follows: William R. Lewis, chairman: E. E. Robathan, D. Jones, Howell Harris, John H. Phillips, D. Phillip Williams, Roger Evans, John J. Davies, treasurer; David J. Davis, secretary.

The chief choral competition at the ming eisteddfod will be on "Teyrnasordd y Ddaear," for a prize of $200 and a second prize of $75. The next highest orize offered is $100 in the male chorus. The total sum offered in prizes is $674 is not definitely known now many choirs will enter in the chief competi-tion. Last year Wilkes-Barre' sent a voice party and captured the

The literary competitions this year will be very interesting. There are three principal contests for prizes of $25 each. One for the best essay on "International Arbitration," prize do-nated by the Scranton Times; poem, "Gwylym Gwent," prize donated by the Scranton Truth: short story, prize do nated by The Tribune. There will be three sessions of the eisteddfod, morning at 19.30 o'clock; afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, and evening at 7.30 o'clock,
