Before the Gubernatorial Boom of the Gentleman from Upper Lehigh Could Get Any Headway in Luzerne It Had to Receive the Little Welshman's Approval--Some Inside History.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Wilkes-Barre, April 11.-A significant meeting of the more active and prominent Republicans of Luzerne county was held in the Republican league rooms on Friday. It was in response to a call by County Chalrman Holcomb and was ostensibly for the purpose of ascertaining the wishes of the party as to whether the conventions this year should be held early or late. Among those present were: J. J. Thomas, George Llewellyn, John Llewellyn, W. J. Tompkins, C. E. Keck, Paul A. Drippe, Byron Hahn, Ben Da-vis, William Powell, Thomas Paul, George W, Dewey, Reese Lloyd, John Feist, E. J. Mackin, G. L. Halsey, Howell Williams, L. P. Holcomb, Philip Richards, Arthur Long, E. W. Roberts R. P. Robinson, William B. Robinson Walter B. Koons, John Mainwaring, Moses Soloman, Alvin Smith, Dr. Dodson, A. D. Hay, W. F. Adams, C. D. Foster, Squire Samuel Powell, R. W. Williams, George A. St. John, John R. Jones, Sherlff Martin, H. P. Kuntz, L. B. Landmesser, T. C. Parker, C. W. Jeffries, Dr. F. M. Brundage, George R. Ferris, George Urquhart, W. J. Scott, M. L. Dreisbach, Joseph Lloyd, G. K. Powell, F. C. Johnson, R. H. Myers, J. Brownell, Eugene Ward, James Edwards. After the meeting had adjourned it was given out that the unanimous expression of those present was for late convention, and it was said that no formal action had been taken, but back of all this is a story.

LAYS DOWN THE LAW.

Some time ago ex-Congressman Leisenring called together a number of influential Republicans of the county, including several in the foregoing list, and informed them that he wanted to be a candidate for governor if he could secure their co-operation in clinching nan, who was obliged to take a few delegates to be elected in my interest health. and without pledges on any other subject," said he. STOLE TO FEED HIS FAMILY.

Sad Case of Destitution Discovered at Wilkes-Barre.

Wilkes-Barre, April 11.-Frederick Bryling was arrested yesterday morning for stealing some bacon. At the hearing before the mayor he swore that his wife and children had been without food for several days, and that he committed the theft through sheer desperation.

The mayor determined to investigate his statement before imposing sentence, and accordingly dispatched Officer Conners to the Bryling home. The officer made a thorough search and all he could find in the house was a few cold potatoes, while his wife and children ere dressed in rags which hardly covend their nakedness. They were sufforing miserably from the cold. The mayor discharged Bryling and referred his case to the United Charities.

Woman Passenger Burned.

WILLIAMS CONSENTS.

When this reply was returned to Mr. Leisenring he exhibited a good many evidences that he didn't relish it over much; but a few days' reflection must have convinced him that it was an ultimatum, for he then began to bring influences to play on Congressman Williams to get him to consent to the foregoing arrangement. The history of these negotiations would make in teresting reading if given in detail; but it is here sufficient to say that Mr. Williams, who is a generous man and bears few grudges, at last acquiesced. and the word was forthwith passed along the line for the boys to whoop up the gubernatorial prospects of the ex-member from Upper Lehigh.

The real purpose of Friday's meet- this (Monday) evening. A silver collecwas to start out petitions urging Mr. Leisenring to consent to the use of his name in a gubernatorial connection. It is believed that if the call of his compatriots is sufficiently vigorous his consent will not long be withheld.

BONES FOUND AT WYOMING.

Probably Those of Men Killed About the Time of the Massacre.

Wilkes-Barro, Pa., April 11,-The heavy rains have filled the trenches the vicinity of the recent in cave at Wyoming and the sewer broke Hill cometery, last Friday washing out a deep gutter in the middle of the street. While William Weaver and others were standing near by, a skull was seen floating about and the boys drew it out. They made a further investigation and found a sufficient number of bones to fill a large basket. Among the collection are two tkulls. The bones are in a good state of preservation, one especially, a jaw bone, which has a number of well preperved teeth in it. The bones were givm to Colonel Harry Laycock, who will robably present them to the Historical welety.

It is generally believed, says the Recrd, that the two men were among the number killed at the Wyoming massacre or during the trouble surrounding it.
