Susquebanna County Girl Kills a Bear.

ERECT A MONUMENT TO COL. HAIN

Enterprise of the Manhattan Employes -- Notes Along the Jefferson Branch -- An Evidence That the World Is Growing Better -- An Original "Lay" of Spring.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Susquehanna, April 13.-Miss Mattie Randall, a Susquehanna county young lady, who is visiting near Milton, is just now the heroine of that section. She is visiting at the home of an uncle. For several days Farmer Randall's dogs had been running a large bear, and both pursued and pursuers were pretty well worn out. The barking of the hounds had been heard at Randall's house, but no attention was paid to it, until, with a shout of alarm, one of the hired men on Saturday morning abandoned a team he was driving and came running into the house, exclaiming that a bear was in the front door-yard. All were alarmed. Miss Mattie ran to the rack, grasped a shotgun, and started from the house. In the meanof the yard and into a field adjoining. Animated by the excitement of the chase, the young lady followed the fleeing dogs and bear. The bear reached the cover in a creek nearby, but was hunted out by the hounds, and at a rapid gait returned his steps in the direction of the fair huntress. steed her ground firmly, and, as bruin passed, she fired, the shot striking the animal in the neck and shoulders, felling the brute to the ground. He attempted to rise as the other barrel was emptied into his body, but with a howl of rage and pain, he rolled over and died. This is why the people of Milton are singing the praises of the Susquehanna county girl. WILL ERECT A MONUMENT.

The men employed on the elevated railroad in New York have raised by voluntary subscription about $3,000 for monument to the late Colonel F. K. Hain, formerly of Susquehanna, who was a popular manager of the road for several years. The monument is to be set up at Danville, this state, and will bear the following inscription: "Erected by the employes of the Manhattan Railway company of the city of New York, in memory of their late vice-president and general manager, as a tribute to a true and considerate friend."

At present he is connected with the Mahoning Coal Company, and has charge of a mine three miles distant from Allianec, Ohio, and there he spends most of his time.

"Travelling salesmen have to put up with a great many inconveniences when they are on the road," said Mr. Whann, "Meals, sleep and rest, are often irregular, and these causes uncettle one speriod longer than of the minutes. I would pick up a newspaper with the intention of glucing over the news of the day. In five or ten minutes I would have to lay the paper aside and get up and walk around to quiet my nerves. It was the same when I did any writing. I could write for a few minutes and then have to give it up, as my hands would become shally and my whole body and mind in a quiver.

"This nervousness brought on severe head aches; it also brought
