COMMITTED TO JAIL.

Simpson and Miller Will Have to Answer a Charge of Burglary.

William Simpson, of Canton, O., and Amosa Miller, of 1020 Brown's place, were each held in $500 bail for burglary before Alderman Blair yesterday and not being able to furnish it were sent to the county jail. They are the two men who robbed Edward Farr's installment store on Monday night. Simpson was arrested Tuesday and the police succeeded in locating and arresting Miller yesterday.

At his home were found several suits clothing which had been concealed in the cellar and garden. More cloth-ing was found buried in an ash-plle near Ninth street not far from Miller's home.

Simpson is a journeyman barber and Miller is well known to the police, The officers connected with the West Side police station showed much enterprise and shrewdness in working up the case,

REV. W. S. JONES' POSITION.

The Rev. W. S. Jones, of the First Welsh Baptist church, will preach his farewell sermon next Sunday evening. It will be in English. His last Welsh sermon will be delivered in the morning. Owing to the recent death of his eldest son, Mr. Jones is undecided as yet when he will return to Wales. In view of the fact that the church-in anticipation of his departure-has engaged the services of several Welsh ministers who are to visit this country, he feels that it should be given every opportunity to honor its obligations, hence his decision to sever his connection with the church next Sunday, Even before sickness and death visited his family Mr. Jones was not at all anxious to return to Wales, and at the urgent request of the church he had decided to remain, provided the Carmarthen church would release him, but as is well known, they refused to do so. But now, since he has buried his son here, this country has become very sacred to him, and the idea of leaving it is much harder to entertain. A large number have taken advantage of this to try to convince him that he has sufficient reason now to remain here; but he does not seem to view the question from the same standpoint as they do, notwithstanding his inclinations He views it entirely from the standpoint of honor and the sacredness of a promise. His position is, indeed, a trying one.

FIRE IN A LUNCH WAGON.

The night lunch wagon situated on North Main avenue, near West Lackawanna avenue, was visited by a fire about 11.30 o'cleck yesterday morning. The day clerk, Abe Rose, of Penn avenue, who doles out frankfurters to the hungry passersby, was engaged in writing a letter during a dull period. The oil lamp, placed beneath the coffee urn in some manner exploded and the burning oil was scattered about. Abe in his herole attempt to prevent a fire was severely burned about his hands and arms. His apron and coat were on fire also but were torn from his person by a couple of men who were passing at the time. The lamp in the stove was thrown out and the fire which had attacked the wood work extin-Clarke Bros,' chemical extinguisher was sent over but was not needed. Dr. G. B. #### NOTES AND PERSONALS.

Mrs. Thomas Pughe, of Bellevue, is visiting in Bloomsburg, having left for that place yesterday. Mrs. Thomas E. Price, of North Rebeeca avenue, has gone to Towanda, to make a two weeks' visit upon her parents.

Patrick Burke, of 1030 Lafayette street, was seriously injured yesterday in the Hampton mines by having a large stone slab fall upon his foot. He was removed to his home and Dr. G. B. Reynolds called to treat him.

One of the probabilities of the near future is the organization of a Young Men's Republican club in Bellevue. There are enough young men who are votas and are interested in political bappenings to form a good strong, clean club in that section. Plans are being formulated and ways and means dis-cussed and already a public spirited citizen has volunteered the use of his hall for the first meeting. The young men mean business and are looking out for their interests.

Dr. E. Y. Harrison, Dentist, Meara Hall, 113 S. Main avenue. Miss Pearl Widener, of Pittston, is visiting at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. John Gray.

Dr. Louis Burd, of Washington, N. J., is visiting friends on this side,

GREEN RIDGE.

At 8 o'clock last evening a very pretty wedding took place at the home of

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Holly, 1617 Capouse avenue, when Miss Margaret Price was united in marriage to Amsy Wurster, of Williamsport. The couple entered the parlor, which was handsomely decorated with potted plants and cut flowers, where the Rev. W. J. Ford, pastor of the Baptist church, pronounced them man and wife. The bride was attired in a beautiful light blue brocaded slik dress, with lace trimmings, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by Miss Elizabeth Williams, who was attired in a continue of light blue, Fred Holly acted as groomsman. The esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Wurster were held was shown by the numerous and costly presents they rewived. Miss Elinabeth Owens played Mendelssohn's wedding march, the ccremony had been performed, the guests partook of an elegant supper. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Anderson, Professor and Mrs. H. L. Burdick, Mr. and Mrs. A. Long, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Dony and daughter Ethel, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Helly, Mr. and Mrs. J. #### SOUTH SIDE.

M. J. Covne's new play, "A Nation Exfled," will be produced by a capable company at the Academy of Musle Monday night under the auspices of Columbia council, Young Men's Institute, of this side. The play is con-structed along well advised lines and vividly portrays the condition of the members of the above societies only. Irish peasantry under the dire stress of severe coercion laws. Mr. Co witten him received flattering compliments from well known theatrical people on his work and is also considering an offer for the placing of it on a prominent circult next season with himself in a leadlog role, A regular meeting of the South Scranton board of trade was held in Storr's hall on Alder street last even ing. The hall was not quite filled. though the business interests of their section was well represented. The meeting was called to order by Vice-President H. J. Spruks in the absence of the president. After the reading of the minutes the question of the pro-posed sewer ordinance was taken un. Edward Maloney and other members of the special committee appointed to wait on the proper authorities with a view to securing the necessary viewers. were heard from, and reported that some progress had been made, The constitution and list of officers of the Lackawanna County Good Roads League were read by Secretary F. A. Donahue. On motion of the secretary the names of all the members of the South Side board of trade were enrolled in the above named lengue. Mr. Scheuer then spoke on the proposed improving of Cherry street, but having been unable to interview Mr. Manville, superintendent of the Delaware and Hudson railroad, nothing definite could be learned. The report of the committee was accepted, and urged to further the matter. In regard to the mail col-lection, the subject was given due consideration. Mr. Humphrey spoke at length, pointing out the many ad-vantages that would be obtained by an evening mail collection. He also made a motion that the secretary send a communication to the city postmaster to have the extra evening collection extended as far as the Twentieth ward. A motion by T. A. Donahue was passed stating that the board petition the mayor to have the police patrol extended to the city line because of the unlawful acts recently performed in that section. Mr. Humphrey further spoke of the need of police protection on the most public thorougfares, especially the necessity of breaking up the bands of youngsters that gather on the corners and in front of the business places. Mr. Maloney compared our police protection with that of other cities of our commonwealth, pointing out lack of vigor on the part of South Side officers. Mr. Storrs proposed the appointment of special officers in the troubled districts. The Odd Fellows held a regular meet-ing in Freuhan's hall on Cedar avenue last evening. FUNERAL OF CHARLES E. STARR.

Remains Laid |at Rest Yesterday in Forest Hill Cemetery.

The funeral of Charles E. Starr, who A Sunday, took place yesterday aton from the family residence on Taylor avenue. The services were pri-vate, only the immediate relatives attending, Rev. A. V. formard, assist-apt to Rev. C. M. Ciffin, at Ehm Park church, preached a brief funeral sermon. The service was conducted simply and with little ceremony. Among the many beau iful floral testimonials was one from the employes of the Scranton Railway company with which Mr. Starr was connected up to the time of his death.

The tribute was a very handsome one, standing five feet in height and beautifully formed of littles and roses, intertwined and coiling from base to top. "The Employes of the Traction com-pany" was inscribed in blue down around the pillar. The gift, testifying as it does, to the kindly feeling of the workmen for the deceased, was permitted to rest with the casket in the Forest Hill cemetery. The pallbearers were: Charles Schla-ger, Theodore Wolf, Edwin Buck, Frank McGowan, Frank Thompson and Willinm Lewis.

Laurina, the seven-year-old daughter of L. G. Labar, of 411 Jefferson avenue, sustained a double feacture of one leg just above the ankle yesterday after-noon by colliding with a bicycle being ridden by Albert G. Hunt. The accident occurred in front of the child's home, but does not seem to have been caused by any carelessness on the part of the rider. Mr. Hunt was riding in the same direction as was a team which was being driven abreast of him. The team was between the rider and the sidewalk on which the child was standing. She started to cross the street ahead of the horses and ran in front of the bloycle. A collision was unavoidable

The girl was thrown violently to the pavement the wheels of the bloycle fracturing her leg. She was removed to her home, and, though suffering from shock, rallied quickly and was
