THE PHILADELPHIA GUARDSMEN MAD

Dissatisfaction Because More Cannot Take Part in the Grant Parade.

THE SELECTIONS ARE CRITICISED

The First Regiment the Only One That Will Represent Philadelphia. Indignant.

Philadelphia, April 18 .- According to the Press of today the National Guard circles in this city are very much aroused over the action of the authorities in detailing only one regiment to represent the First brigade-the Philadelphia troops-in the Grant mauso-leum parade in New York on April 27. The enlisted men outside of the First regiment are practically unanimous in declaring that they have been shabbily treated in not having been sent either to McKinley's inauguration or to New York, and the great disappointment caused by their failure to go to Washington is still further augmented by the orders in regard to the New York pa-

After it was decided that the entire Safe Blown Open and Money and division would be sent to Philadelphia was planned to send a provisional brigade, made up of regiments from all three of the regular brigades, to represent the state in New York. Instead, sentation from each brigade, there will be sent three regiments and a light battery of the Second brigade; two regiments and a troop of cavalry from the Third brigade, but only one regiment to represent the crack Philadelphia troops, together with the fact that the First regiment was the one chosen to leave Philadelphia two years ago, when Governor Hastings was inaugurated.

MUCH DISSATISFACTION.

Visits to local armories have brought out the fact that scarcely anything else is being talked of, and that all the comment is of an unfavorable nature. A sergeant in the Third regiment stated that most of the, men in his company felt very badly about being deprived of the two trips, which the only reward offered by the state for the hard winter's work in the armories. "It is bad enough," he "that only one regiment of Philadelphians should go, but it is particularly vexing to us that the First should the one chosen, as it seems to get all the good things. Those up-state troops will all get one trip away from home and half of them will get two trips, as they will all come to Phila-delphia on May 15, while only one regiment of this brigade will leave the city once.

Other soldiers agreed with these views as did representatives of the Second and Sixth regiments and State Fenciles. Captain Packer, of the latter organization, stated that there was, to his knowledge, a great deal of bad feeling about the matter among the

It is in the Sixth regiment, however, that the disappointment is greatest, form with him so that he could join the regiment in New York,

One officer of high rank, stated yes-"The men are so disappointed that I fear very serious results will discipline. It is hard enough to get men to enlist as it is, but if such rewards are to be withheld, it will be more than ardnous. I am afraid that the attendance of the regiment on May 15 will be very slim."

MAJOR GROOME'S VIEWS

Major Harry C. Groome, assistant adjutant general of the First brigade. stated officially yesterday that the First regiment was detailed to go to New York in pursuance of the custom of sending the organization having the senior colonel and because there were no reasons why it should not fitly represent the First brigade. No other reasons entered into the selection, except the fact that it was known that the First was very eager to go. Major Groome would not state why only one regiment was sent from this brigade.

Mador General Snowden would not talk about the matter, but it is known that he had nothing to do with selecting the First regiment, and that the make-up of the provisional brigade was decided at Harrisburg.

Colonel Ralston, of the Third, would not talk for publication, but admitted that he thought the selection very hard on his regiment, and the Philadelphia troops. The sergeant of the Third regiment quoted above stated that he and a number of his friends would not parade on May 15.

The Bliss beer bills and other revenue measures have been brought out of committee, but there is not much show for them. The appropriation bills are being held back until the revenue bills have reached the governor. There are nearly 250 bills in the appropriation committee. They appropriate, in the aggregate $20,000,000 or ten millions nore than the estimated revenues for the next two years.

vestigated. On Monday night the Gobin resolubribery in connection with the Mc-Quown bill prohibiting the insurance of children under 16 years, will come up, as will also the Seyfert resolution. The general impression is that both resolutions will be killed before they reach the governor. The house judi-ciary general committee will give a hearing Wednesday evening to the friends of the Gibson pool bill. MR. CRAMP SPEAKS.

He Corrects Rumors Affont Concerning the Brooklyn. Philadelphia, April 18.-Henry Ship Building company, today denied the report that a bill for $128,000 had sent to Secretary of the Navy Long for repairing the cruiser Brooklyn. He added that the navy department has not received any bill at all from the Cramps and are not likely to for some little time. When that document does go to Washington it will not foot up $138,000, nor anything like that

It was set forth in the report that the estimated cost of the repairs by the navy department was $8,000 or $10,000 and that upon this basis the vessel was turned over to the Cramps. Furthermore it was alleged that George W. Melville, chief of the bureau of steam engineering, and other department chiefs urged that the work be given out by contract instead of being given to the Cramps upon the terms they suggested. It was intimated that the bill will not be paid without vigorous protest, but Secretary Long has really no alternative except to pay it, since the work was given out by his predecassor, Secretary Herbert.

"In all this," said Mr. Cramp, "there are just two truths; the work was awarded to us on our own proposition and the government will pay the bill. Everything else is false entirely."

GREECE ACCEPTS IT.

Speech of M. Delyannis Is Received with Enthusiasm at Athens.

Athens, April 18.-8 p. m.-A late special sitting of the executive assembly was held to-day. The public gal-leries were crowded. Amid intense excitement M. Delyannis, the premier, announced that the Turkish government had to-day notified Greece of the rupture of diplomatic relations on the ground of the aggressive attitude of the Greek government. In a cool but ieliberate speech he reviewed the re cent events to show the contrary, that Turkey had been the aggressor; that his troops had attacked the Greeks and attempted to occupy neutral positions, and that her batteries at Prevesa had sunk the Greek ship Macedonia.

"Turkey," said M. Delyannis, "de clares war against us. We accept it." This statement was received with proonged cheers from the galleries and he floor of the chamber. The premier then read dispatches re citing the events which had happened on the frontier and with reference to the reported capture of Menexa, he said that the batteries at that im portant position had been brought into action, but he knew nothing of its alleged capture. He added that Turks, after repeated attempts to force passage at Reveni, which commands the road to Larissa, had been driven back. The leader of the opposition amid renewed cheers from all parts of the chamber and from the galleries, eloquently endorsed the patriotic de clarations of M. Delyannis,
