AROUND THE WORLD.

Australian Newspaper Men and the Sights They Have Seen During a Four Years' Itinerary.

Wilkes-Barre, April 19.-Among the recent arrivals in Wilkes-Barre were Philip Hanna and E. Lem Burnette, of Sidney, Australia, who are making & tour of the world in the interest of the Australian, Indian and South African newspapers. They left Sidney four years and six months ago, accord ing to the Record, sailing for the land of the Japanese. They interviewed the Mikado, jinrekished through the country, learned the use of chopsticks in Hong Kong and Canton, drank tea with the Geishas, sailed the Yellow sea to Siam, saw the wild men in Borneo. surveyed Singapore and were fanned by the slaves of the rajahs and mara-jahs of the East Indies. They went in a junk around the const to Malaysia, ate curry in Penyan, heard tales of blood and bullets in the Andaman Islands and cycled from Ranjoon to Mandalay. India, the land of Nabobs, opened its arms to them. They were feted and feasted by petty prince and daring chief, slept in the bungalows of men famed in story and song; were driven in rickshaws and carried in panlanquins from station to station and shot big game in the jungles where Mowgil lived in the days of yore. Calcutta, Benares, Darjecling, Chitral, Lucknow and Bombay saw them. They worshipped at the shrines of the adepts, kodaked the takirs of the sacred temples and supped with Mulvaney and "the little man" at the out-

Mr. Burnette was born at Chitral, lived next door to the now famous Rudyard Kipling and his father is an officer of the queen in the Indian army. He renewed old acquaintances, was toasted, and he and his companion roasted under the burning sun of the Afghan frontier. They were at the court of the Shah of Persia, crossed the deserts of Arabia on camels and ate Mentana. dates in the tents of the great Shelk in the greenest casis of the sandy expanse. They gazed at Adea, the most wicked city in the world, visited Ceyion, Zanzibar and Tamatane in Mada-

In South Africa they interviewed the redoubtable Paul Krueger, examined the diamond mines of Jajersfontven and Kemberley, photographed Johannesburg, secured souvenirs at St. Helena and catered Europe at Lisbon. Portugal, Turkey, Spain, Italy, Greece and the Holy Lands were inspected, historical spots written about and the Mediterranean sen crossed and recrossed a half dozen times, sia, German, France and England occupied months and no place of interest was neglected. They crossed the broad Atlantic, sailed from island to island in the West Indies, drank ringia in Brazil and investigated the industries of the Argentine. The west coast of South America claimed their attention next. They landed in San Francisco and after some weeks on the sunny slopes of the Pacific, have come by way of Mexico and Cuba to Wilkes-Barre, and, of course, will visit Scranton, which they have heard of, at all these places, as one of the chief attractions of North America.

catchy and striking to the world and forever bury the mossback name of "Factoryvvile," Of course this old factory name has done our pretty and picturesque town service, as a name for about seventy-five years, but never did it do us any credit, abroad, or among strangers that were not acquainted with the place. The first impression that a stranger gets upon hearing the name "Factoryville" is that it must certainly be a town of many factories, and far from being a to reside permanently in Butte City, pretty and healthy town to live in and that the population (as usual in a manufacturing town), must be composed of a great mixture of humanity, and principally of a foreign element This is the reputation of our pretty little summer resort among our city ousins, who have never been informed that we haven't got a factory in the town, or any foreign element of any descrition. "Factoryville" was derived from the fact that way back in the forties an old woolen or cotton factory stood near what is now the center of the town, and was known as the "Old Factory," As soon as the town commenced to grow it was named "Factoryville," perhaps the July only name that could be found or Sept. thought of in those days. # THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, April 19.-Nothing outside the news of war between Turkey and Greece had much interest in Wall street today. The traders in stocks are ac-customed to look with reliance to the course of prices on foreign exchanges to guide them in their dealings in properties likely to be effected by the public schools, is visiting her parents European. The absence of the index in Hopbottom, tinued closing of the exchanges in London and Paris over the Easter hot-may left the minds of the traders in ome confusion and as a result, the movement of prices was at times very erratic without any corresponding charge in the tenor of news to justify It was evident at the opening, however, that this market was bearing the brunt of whatever selling was result of the war, not only by local holders but by those in London Paris andin Boston where the exchange
